

Booters Win Fifth Straight By Beating Davidson, 4-1

By JIM PURKS

Carolina's varsity soccer squad chalked up its fifth straight win yesterday with a 4-1 victory over a hustling Davidson team, which threw a scare into the Tar Heels in the first half.

Playing rather slowly, the Tar Heels were caught by surprise early in the first quarter when a fast charge by Davidson's forward line netted the Wildcats a goal as forward Don Irvin punched the ball past Carolina goalie Marvin Blount.

Tar Heels Only Get 4 Shots
The goal seemed to give Davidson extra courage and the Wildcats continuously be at the Tar Heels to the ball, allowing them only four shots on goal in the first quarter.

Davidson dominated play in most of the second quarter, also, until Scott Weldon, playing for first-string left wing Rick Grausman, booted in Carolina's first score.

Aroused by Weldon's goal, the Tar Heels then outlasted Davidson for the remainder of the quarter, being rewarded with a goal by Coleman Barks who scored following a frantic scramble in the mouth of the Davidson goal.

The goals, which were scored in the last five minutes of the second quarter, gave the Tar Heels a 2-1 lead at halftime.

Two Goals In Third Quarter

In the second half, Carolina roared to a three goal lead when Joe Perkins and John Ghanim scored for the Tar Heels in the third quarter.

Both goals were beautifully set up. Perkins goal was a hard liner which Davidson goalie Claude Finney was unable to stop although he touched the ball. Ghanim's goal went into the upper right corner of the Davidson goal from about 20 yards out, Ghanim, who plays center forward, has now scored in five straight games for the Tar Heels.

Davidson never threatened Carolina's lead, and Coach Marvin Allen played his second string for the remainder of the game.

Maryland Next

Yesterday's game marked the final home contest for the Tar Heels, who now must get ready for their biggest test of the season: Maryland.

Maryland has been the perennial soccer champion of the conference, and Maryland's soccer teams have never been beaten nor tied by a conference opponent. Last year the Tar Heels came close before losing to the Terps in Chapel Hill, 4-2.

Speaking of yesterday's game with Davidson, Coach Allen said that Carolina's passing attack was not nearly as good as in previous games, and that the first string only had five "real good" minutes of play. However, Allen said, the team will be ready for the Maryland contest.

Clemson Shoots For ACC Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clemson can sew up the Atlantic Coast Conference football championship today at Raleigh if it beats North Carolina State, the team that took the title last year.

Their game is one of three conference contests. The others have Duke playing Wake Forest at Winston-Salem and South Carolina meeting Virginia at Columbia.

North Carolina, riding a six-game winning streak and 11th nationally, plays at Notre Dame.

Clemson, which has slumped recently after winning its first four games, enters its last conference test with a 4-1 league record.

Impossible For Carolina To Win

A Clemson victory would make it impossible for North Carolina to catch Clemson even if the Tar Heels close out by beating arch rival Duke next week.

State will be closing its home season against Clemson in the regionally televised game.

Clemson will match the circuit's best rushing game, 277.7 yards per game, against State's second best rushing defense, 150.4 yards per game.

Wake Forest also closes its home season as it seeks to break a string of six successive losses to Duke. This game matches Duke's best pass defense in the ACC, 98.8 yards allowed per game, against the top passing game, Wake Forest's 153 yards a contest through the air.

Duke has a 3-5 record and if beaten will be the first Blue Devil team to lose six games since 1920. Much depends on three ankles. Guard Mike McGee and fullback

Bobby Cruikshank of Duke and soph halfback Winston Futch of Wake Forest have been hobbled by ankle injuries and their playing status will remain in doubt until game time.

Eligibility Of State's Dick Reynolds Upheld By Weaver

ACC Commissioner James Weaver of Greensboro said a question concerning Reynolds' eligibility arose over an agreement Reynolds made while in the Marine Corps that he would play pro football with Baltimore if he did not go to college.

Weaver said nothing ever developed from the agreement, which was never upheld by the Commissioner of Pro Football. Therefore, it was not valid, he added.

Reynolds, a 260-pound second stringer from College Park, Md., had disclosed the circumstances of the agreement to State Coach Earle Edwards before he entered college, Weaver said.

Edwards in turn had contacted Weaver and outlined the facts to him. The ACC Commissioner had ruled that the boy was eligible to play.

When the current question arose concerning the eligibility, Weaver decided to put it before the three-member ACC Committee.

If Reynolds had been declared ineligible, State would have had to forfeit the only two games it has won this season, over North Carolina and Virginia.

Two regular members of the Executive Committee, Dr. Mortimer Caplin of Virginia and Robert Ritchie of Clemson, Conference President, excused themselves from the case.

Ritchie said he did so because Carolina plays State Saturday in an important game. If Clemson wins, the Tigers will take their second ACC crown in three years. Caplin did not sit in on the discussions apparently because if this team lost to State, a ruling against Reynolds would have forfeited State's victory.

The three members who comprised the committee which met here were Dr. Geary Epply of Maryland, a regular member, and Forrest Clontz of Wake Forest and Dr. Charles Jordan of Duke.

Weaver declined to disclose the source of the question concerning Reynolds' eligibility, saying "we have to treat that in confidence."

Following is the statement released by the committee after its meeting:

"The Executive Committee, in called session to consider the eligibility case of Richard F. Reynolds, came to the conclusion that in view of the fact that this party had disclosed the circumstances of the agreement to State Coach Earle Edwards before he entered college, Weaver said.

closed the circumstances that caused his eligibility to be questioned to Coach Earle Edwards of North Carolina State College and that Earle Edwards in turn had disclosed, before he entered college, the circumstances to Commissioner Weaver and Mr. Reynolds had been assured from other sources that he was eligible to participate in collegiate athletics, the Executive Committee declared that both the young man and his institution had made an honest effort to comply with the rules of the Atlantic Coast Conference on the subject of professionalism. The Executive Committee, on motion, therefore upholds the eligibility of Richard F. Reynolds."

"Good grief, I dropped the Camels!"

More adventurers on the wing smoke Camels than any other cigarette today. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke. The Camel blend of costly tobaccos has never been equalled for rich flavor and easygoing mildness. Year in and year out, Camel leads every other brand in sales.
