Phil Blazer-One Of The Best

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of DTH articles on Carolina's graduating football players.

By STEWART PHINZIY
Carolina is kicking off. No. 70 calmly places the ball on the tee, turns and walks back a few yards, holds up his right arm, leans forward, and then starts toward the ball. The impact of his toe striking against the ball sends it soaring high into the air toward the end zone. An opposing back drifts back, grabs the ball and begins to race up field only to find himself knocked off his feet from a bruising tackle by the same No. 70.

Thus Phil Blazer rather quickly establishes the fact that he is a pretty tough customer when it comes to playing this game of football. And it doesn't take Carolina's opponents long to wish that they had put a detour sign around the territory occupied by big No. 70.

The six-foot, one inch, 224-pound Blazer is a senior from Whitaker, Pa. The hustling Blazer's ability to take charge makes him an ideal captain of the Carolina team.

All-ACC In '57
On the basis of his fierce line play Blazer in 1957 won All-State and All-ACC honors and in this fall's pre-season polls the name Phillip Blazer appeared consistently on the All-American check list. Phil has lived up to all the pre-season publicity he received, for he has been a tower of strength in the Carolina forward wall, all season long, a line that has yielded less than 136 yards per game two games.

Hard Worker
"Phil works hard in practice; he never seems to let up. He's as fine an offensive player as he is defensive. He's a great downfield blocker and has terrific speed for a big man. He is also a mighty handy man to have around to handle your kickoffs and PAT chores." (Blazer last year kicked 13 out of 15 PAT and this year he has a perfect record of 4 for 4.)

Phil was asked what he attributes Carolina's success to. He replied, "Well, for one thing we have a nucleus on this year's team of nine seniors who have played together now for some time, but the real success boils down to one thing . . . a terrific team effort all the way."

Drafted By Detroit

Blazer, who is an excellent student, is majoring in industrial relations. He is active in the Monogram Club and various campus activities. Phil has already been drafted by the pros. The Detroit Lions grabbed the rights to his name last year.

It was a wise choice.

Bowl Prospects

By Associated Press

Coach Jim Tatum has forbidden any mention of bowls as he prepares his University of North Carolina football team for its final game against arch rival Duke here Saturday.

But his Tar Heels definitely figure in bowl talk and could strengthen their case for a possible Sugar Bowl spot against Louisiana State with an impressive showing against Duke.

A North Carolina victory would give the Tar Heels their best record since the 1949 team won 7 of 10 and then lost to Rice in the Cotton Bowl game.

Should Duke lose, its 4-6 record would be the school's poorest since 1929.

vs Beta, DU vs SPE, Sig Chi vs PIKA (W), Law Sch. 2 vs Med Sch. 2, Dent Sch. vs Med Sch. 1.
