

Legislature Hears Levy's Bill To Send Governors Telegrams

By DEE DANIELS
Ed Levy (ind.), whose bill to send telegrams to Governors Lindsay Almon (Va.) and Orval Faubus criticizing them for closing schools in the states of Arkansas and Louisiana, elaborated on his bill yesterday.

The purpose of the bill, introduced Thursday night in Student Legislature, according to Levy, was to show these governors that there is a body of individuals who consider public education a primary necessity overriding all other issues.

In the proposed telegram, the Student Legislature would "denounce all efforts to evade the clear meaning of the law and decision of the Supreme Court through the abolition of public schools and the diversion of public funds to supposedly private institutions."

The message would also state the Legislature's aversion to any destruction of the free public school system, which is necessary for the preservation of U. S. society, economic progress and national defense.

The bill would appropriate funds from the Unappropriated Balance for purchase of the two telegrams.

Three other bills were introduced Thursday night.

Davi Grigg (UP) presented a bill to appropriate $1,000 from the Unappropriated Balance to the student-faculty Fine Arts Forum for presentation of an initial Fine Arts Forum to be held the week of March 8, 1959.

A bill to create the office of Legislature chaplain was introduced by Norman Smith (ind.).

Scots In N. C. Will Be Topic Of Folklorists

Scottish influences in North Carolina culture and folklore provide the theme for the 47th annual meeting of the N. C. Folklore Society which meets at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh, Friday, Dec. 5, at 2 p.m.

"Our Scottish-American Heritage" is the central title of the program, with Donald MacDonald of Charlotte as master of ceremonies, according to Dr. A. P. Hudson of the UNC faculty and secretary-treasurer of the society.

Scottish country dancing in costume will be exhibited by the Fayetteville Senior High School Dancers, with Mrs. William A. McMillan Jr. and Mrs. Hubert Black as directors, and by the Queen City's Own Scottish Dancers, with Miss Sally Southend as director. A demonstration of Highland dancing will be performed by the Benhaven Scottish Dancers of Olivia, with Miss Martha McLeod as director.

Philip Kennedy of Charlotte and Mrs. Betty Väien Williams of Raleigh will sing Scottish and Scottish-American songs, and Pipe Major Jack Smith of Winston-Salem will play a number of bagpipe selections.

Several of the participants in the program were born in Scotland, and most of the others are of Scottish descent. MacDonald is vice president and commissioner of the Clan Donald Society in America and is co-founder of the Highland Games at Linville.

Three Carolina Air Cadets Receive DMS Recognition

Three Carolina Air Force ROTC cadets have been named as Distinguished Military Students.

Cadet Lt. Col. William S. Godwin, cadet commander; Cadet Maj. William F. Parker, executive officer, and Cadet Capt. Kenneth R. Walker, administrative services officer, were named in ceremonies held in the office of Lt. Col. Franklin W. Swann, professor of air science.

Eligibility was based on high moral character, aptitude for Air Force service, leadership, extra-curricular activities and the ranking of within the top 10 per cent of his air science class and the top 25 per cent of students pursuing the same major.

One or more of these students will be named as Distinguished Military Graduates prior to graduation in June. The cadet or cadets named will receive commissions in the regular Air Force instead of in the Air Force reserve.

On Campus with Mrs. Shaban

(By the Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy with Check.")

THE CLOTHES YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

In this column we take up fashions for college men, which means of course, the Ivy Look. Today's Ivy Look clothes have made a great stride forward. Not only do they have thin lapels, three buttons, narrow trousers, and a minimum of shoulder padding, but — now hear this! — this year they are actually covered with it!

This new development, while attractive beyond the singing of it, nevertheless gives rise to certain hazards. For instance, people keep trying to plant you on Arbor Day. Indeed, this is precisely what happened to two SAE's of my acquaintance, Walter R. Gurlash and Fred Rasp. Before they could protest, they were snatched up, planted, limed, and watered, and today they support a hammock in Cut and Shoot, Vermont.

Let us now discuss shirts. Again this year the campus favorite is the good old Oxford with button-down collar and barrel cuffs. This is without doubt an admirable garment, but let me ask you a question: if you don't wear anything but Oxford, what do you do with all the cuff links people have been giving you for your birthday since you were twelve years old?

Well sir, some fellows have their wrists pierced, but what E. Mackenzie Signafos, a Chi Psi of my acquaintance, did was to take a dozen pairs of his handsome gold monogrammed cuff links and string them together in a charm bracelet for his girl, Jo-Carol Isobar.

(It turned out, incidentally, to be a mistake. In short order so many admirers accrued to Jo-Carol on account of her gorgeous bracelet that she grew tired of plain old E. Mackenzie, and one night when she was seated on a bench in Lovers Lane throwing sticks for E. Mackenzie to retrieve, she suddenly, cruelly, without warning, told him they were through.

"I am heartbroken," said E. Mackenzie, heartbroken. "But if you must, give me back my charm bracelet."

"No, I will keep it," said Jo-Carol.

"What for?" said E. Mackenzie. "You can't wear it. The initials on the cuff links are all mine—E.M.S."

"Ha, ha, the joke is on you," said Jo-Carol. "Yesterday I was voted Miss Chinese Restaurant of 1958!"

"So?" said E. Mackenzie.

"So," replied Jo-Carol. "E.M.S. does not stand for E. Mackenzie Signafos. It stands for Eat More Subgum!"

A broken man, E. Mackenzie today squinces out a message living as a pendulum in Cleveland. Jo-Carol was killed in a long war.

But I digress. We were talking about well-dressed men, and the one essential for every well-dressed man—and every well-dressed woman too—is a well-dressed cigarette—neat, compact, flavorful, and correct for work or play, sunshine or shower, repose or revelry, darkness or light. And where does one find such a perfect companion? Just go to any tobacco counter and ask for Philip Morris. Ask for it in long size or regular. Ask for it in soft pack or hard. But ask for it; that's the important thing. Don't just stand there making cryptic gestures at your tobacco conist. He may be armed.

Those of you who favor filters, try a filter that will favor you—Marlboro, made by the makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column throughout the school year.
