

Covering The University Campus

Med Prof To Tour S. America

Dr. Charles H. Burnett of the UNC School of Medicine will leave here Wednesday for a seven-week lecture and study tour of medical centers in Puerto Rico and five South American countries.

Dr. Burnett, professor and head of the UNC Department of Medicine, will visit Colombia, Peru, Chile, Argentina and Brazil. The tour is being sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation. Dr. Burnett will be accompanied by his wife.

The tour is related to the $250,000 program of general development for the Department of Medicine announced last year. The funds for this development program also are being donated by the Rockefeller Foundation and will cover a five-year period.

With the aid of last year's grant, the Department of Medicine has an opportunity to extend its educational services through cooperation with foreign medical centers, especially those of the South American countries.

It was anticipated last year, when the original grant was announced, that some members of the faculty of the School of Medicine would be

Automobile Regulations Reviewed

Students in the General College, not having a "C" average, and all freshmen may have cars on campus weekends provided they observe proper regulations.

Under normal conditions, students may have cars for the weekend if they check with the Student Affairs Office.

Because many students may not be aware of the special car permission, Hugh L. Patterson, chairman of the Men's Honor Council, made a statement Monday that permission is available under proper regulations.

Any time a car is brought on campus without legal permission it is an Honor Code violation, Patterson said. "It is time for all mature college men to become aware of their responsibilities whether they apply to the possession of a car or to any other situation."

assigned visiting lecture appointments in foreign countries. In return, professors will be brought from foreign institutions to participate in North Carolina's teaching and research program.

Dr. Burnett has been associated with the University School of Medicine since 1951. A native of Colorado, he received his M.D. degree at the University of Colorado and was an assistant in medicine at Harvard University Medical School, and was an assistant professor and associate professor at Boston University, and was just prior to coming to Chapel Hill professor and chairman of the department of internal medicine at as Treasurer of the Student Party, as member of Finance Committee of Student Legislature.

"My fellow students would do well to extend responsible student government into another year. The character of this year's administration is best described in the REPORT OF THE VISITING COMMITTEE TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA in which was stated: "The Committee visited with and interviewed representative student leaders on several occasions. We were both pleased and impressed with their maturity and sincerity of purpose. They evidenced a keen interest in and appreciation of the more crucial problems now confronting the University. We found a strong and well-functioning student government."
