

WEATHER

Cloudiness with occasional rain.
High 52 to 57. Wednesday partly cloudy and cool.

The Daily Tar Heel

TWILIGHT

A time for thought. See page 2.

VOLUME LXVII, NO. 117

Complete Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, MARCH 17, 1959

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Tally Lectures Wed. In 'Challenge' Series

J. O. Tally Jr., attorney and former mayor of Fayetteville, will give an after dinner address here Wednesday as the third speaker in the "Challenges of 1959" series.

Tally will speak on "Challenge to Freedom" at 7:30 p.m. after a dinner at the Hillel Foundation. Reservations for the dinner may be made today at the Y Building.

The YW-YMCA is sponsoring the talks on challenges to the American way of life and to institutions of democracy. The talks are generally held in Gerrard Hall, but since a Weil lecture is scheduled for tonight, Tally's speech will be made before a smaller group.

Tally is being brought here by a Y committee headed by Betty Kay Johnson and Parker Hodges.

Previous speakers in the series former Congressman Brooks Hays of Little Rock, Ark., and Dr. G. McLeod Bryan, an associate professor of religion at Wake Forest College.

Tally, who has served two terms as Fayetteville's mayor, is now treasurer of Kiwanis International. His service to his state and city has included presidency of the N. C. League of Municipalities, of the Duke Law School Alumni Assn., of the Harvard Club of North Carolina, and of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

He is a past vice president of the N. C. Bar Association and past governor of the Kiwanis Clubs of North Carolina.

A member of the law firm of Tally, Tally and Taylor in Fayetteville, he taught law for one year at Wake Forest College after World War II service as a Navy officer.

Tally was born in Fayetteville.

Bi-Partisan Board Begins Interviews

Interviews with students interested in running for the Men's Honor Council and Student Council will be held today, Wednesday and Thursday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Men's Council room in Graham Memorial.

All candidates have been requested to sign appointment sheets on the door of the council room for interviews by the Bi-Partisan Selections Board.

Yale On Probation

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—The entire Yale undergraduate body was put on general probation Monday because of two outburst in which 41 students were arrested.

The probation—general and indefinite—carried a threat of immediate expulsion for any of the 4,000 undergraduates who publicly misbehave in the future.

Secretaries In New Post Announced

A secretarial branch of the student government has been established to expand coed participation and to enable more efficient work in various phases of student government work.

In interviews held last week, 10 girls were selected to various posts within the student government framework.

The international student correspondent, Pappy Churchill, will correspond with students from other countries who have held special scholarships at UNC, and with UNC students who are studying abroad.

Marsha Homeyer will do secretarial work for the Audit Board and other financial phases of student government. Nell Wiggins and Vickie Gruelach are co-chairmen of the student government scrapbook. Working on NSA projects and correspondence is Lou Ann Howell.

The standing committee to do secretarial work on special projects includes: Pappy Churchill, Marsha Homeyer, Molly Short, Ann Mills, Joan DuBose, Nell Wiggins, Becky Klopfer and Lou Ann Howell.

The first meeting of the Secretariat will be held Wednesday at 4:30 in the student government office.

Band Announces Vote Results

Bill Kellam is the newly elected president of the UNC Marching and Concert Band.

Also at the annual elections Bob Cannon was chosen vice president, and Marvin Eargle, secretary.

Chi Omegas Work In Robbins Store

Another UNC sorority will work in Robbins Department Store Wednesday to raise money for Panhellenic Council charities.

This time, the Chi Omegas will be salesgirls from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the store.

Thus far this year, these other five sororities have worked at Robbins: Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta and Pi Beta Phi.

NEW MEMBERS OF FLEECE — First row (l to r) are Don Furtado, Wade Smith, Hugh Patterson, Lawrence Lohr, and Al Goldsmith. Second row: Carwile LeRoy, Larkin Kirkman, Dr. Wilton Mason, Paul Woodard, Norman Smith, Danny Lotz, Dave Scurlock, and Charlie Huntington.

Fleece Initiates 12 Students In Memorial Hall Ceremonies

Twelve Carolina students and one faculty member were tapped into the Order of the Golden Fleece, highest men's honorary, Monday night.

The new members of the order are: Danny Lotz, Paul Woodard, David Scurlock, Charlie Huntington, Norman B. Smith, Al Goldsmith, Edward LeRoy, Don Furtado, Lawrence Lohr, Hugh Patterson, Larkin Kirkman and Wade Smith. Dr. Wilton Mason of the Music Department was also tapped.

The annual ceremony was held in Memorial Hall before an audience of nearly 2,000. The identity of new Fleece members was not revealed until the ceremony Monday night when two current members of the honorary walked through the audience and tapped the students and faculty member.

After the tapping, the names of officers of the honorary were also announced. Serving as Jason (or president) during the past year has been Raymond Mason Taylor of Washington, N. C. The other officers are as follows: Paul Gene Strasser, Hyparchos (vice president); Harvey Peck, Grammateus (secretary), and John Whitaker, Chrystopher (treasurer).

All of the students tapped into the Golden Fleece are seniors here except Patterson and the two Smiths, who are juniors, and LeRoy, who is a medical student.

Eleven of the thirteen are from North Carolina. Woodard is from Bayboro; Scurlock, from Greensboro; Norman Smith, from Franklin; Goldsmith, from Lincolnton; LeRoy, from Elizabeth City; Furtado, from Garner; Lohr, from Raleigh; Patterson, from Edenton; Dr. Mason, from Chapel Hill; Kirkman, from High Point, and Wade Smith, from Albemarle.

Lotz is from Northport, N. Y., and Huntington is from Spartanburg, S. C.

During the ceremony, the legend of Jason and the quest for the Golden Fleece was read by Foster Fitz-Simons, associate professor of dramatic art.

At the conclusion of the tapping, active Argonauts appeared on the stage with the new members. The actives included Kenneth Lawing Peneagar, Edwin Osborne Ayscue Jr., Joel Lawrence Fleishman, William Ray Long, Eddie Covington Bass, George Robinson Ragsdale, John Aitken Sneden Jr., Edward Ulysses Hallford Jr., Wayne Staton Bishop, John Charles Brooks and Herman Godwin.

Occupying special seats in the auditorium were alumni of the order.

A banquet for active members, alumni and initiates were held after the tapping at the Carolina Inn. Main speaker for the occasion was Lenoir Chambers, editor of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot. Chambers was tapped into the order in 1913.

The significance of Fleece membership was indicated in a speech during the ceremony by Raymond Taylor (Jason for the order). Taylor said, "The qualities sought in Argonauts of old are as real and as necessary today as in days past.

"In a world pleading for leadership, is it not proper that we here in all humility attempt to honor those qualities of leadership and the men among us who emulate them?"

"To those chosen, let it be a tribute to work well done. To others, let it be an encouragement to higher achievement. To still others, let it be a challenge to prove the omissions of this night a testimony to human error in judgment."

Referring to the years of University history when "there have always been those who have risen in times of need and crisis, have loved this place, and given themselves in devoted service to it," Taylor said, "it is they and their ideal that made it great."

He said the Fleece 56 years ago when it was organized "became guardian of this ideal that it might have its fullest realization.

"In those men honored tonight and in their desires to give fully to University life are mirrored the qualities on which this ideal depends," he said.

"All that they possess cannot be enumerated on paper. Judge them for what they are as well as for what they have done for our University."

Weil Lecture Tonight On French Citizenship

The responsibilities of citizenship in Great Britain, France and the United States will be analyzed by a leading British political scientist, Prof. Denis W. Brogan, in the Weil Lectures today, Wednesday and Thursday.

Dr. Brogan, who teaches at Cambridge University, will open the Weil Lectures at 8 p.m. today in Hill Hall. The lectures are open to the public.

In the lectures entitled "Responsibilities of Citizenship" Professor Brogan will analyze the situations in Great Britain, France and the United States. A separate lecture on each of three successive nights will be devoted to each country. The French point of view will be discussed today; the British, Wednesday; and the American on Thursday.

An unusual combination of author-journalist - academician, Professor Brogan has travelled widely in the United States and Europe, and has written many books about the three countries involved in his lectures here.

A native of Scotland, he attended Glasgow University, Oxford's Balliol College and Harvard University. He lectured at the London School of Economics, Oxford's Corpus Christi College and University College, London.

At Cambridge he is professor of political science and a fellow of Peterhouse College. Professor Brogan is also a fellow of the British Academy, a chevalier of the French Legion of Honor and a commander of the Netherlands Order of Orange-Nassau.

The lectures originated at UNC in 1914-15 and later were endowed by the families of Sol and Henry Weil of Goldsboro. The first lectures were delivered by the late President Howard Taft.

Playmakers Schedule 3 Short Plays

The Carolina Playmakers will present three new one-act plays by student authors Thursday and Friday in the Playmakers Theatre at 7:30 p.m. The plays were chosen from those written in the playwriting class of Prof. Thomas Patterson of the Department of Dramatic Art.

The bill of plays opens with "We Might Become Examples," written by Arthur McDonald, of Milledgeville, Ga. The play is directed by Gunsam Lee. The cast includes Jeunese Hatten, Alan Pultz, Tim Jones and Douglas McDermott.

The second play of the evening is "An Age of Reason," by Robert Merritt, of Yonkers, N. Y., directed by Robert Ketter, Hunter Tillman, Tony Millili, Bill Bailey, Robert Innes, Gail Rice, Betty Rhodes, Charles Nisbet and David Peterson are in the cast.

The final play, by Douglas McDermott, of San Marino, Calif., is "With Apologies, Euripides," directed by James Armacost. The cast includes Bob Merritt, Wayne Garber, Bill File, Darwin Solomon, Carolyn Myers and Jock Lauterer.

These productions are entirely student produced. They are a regular feature of the Playmakers season. Admission to the plays is free.

UP Postpones Meet

The University Party meeting tonight has been called off.

Instead there will be a meeting of all UP candidates for offices Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Roland Parker I and II.

According to John Minter, party chairman, there will be a discussion of campaign procedures at this time. Legislators will be excused because of the Student Legislature meeting.

Coed Interviews Begin At 2 Today

Interviews for Women's Orientation Counselors will begin today for the girls from Whitehead who have returned applications. These interviews will begin at 2:00 in Roland Parker III in Graham Memorial. Coordinator Belinda Foy requests that all girls be on time for their interviews.

Men's Orientation Applications Ready

Coordinator of Men's Orientation, Tom Overman urges all interested men to secure application blanks for Orientation Counselors from the following places: Graham Memorial Information Desk, Monogram Club, Reserve Room in the Library, Lenoir Hall, YMCA, and they also will be distributed in dormitories and fraternity houses.

Counselor Manuals can be checked out for study from the Reserve Room in the Library and from the Information Desk in GM. There will be a quiz covering this material in the Manual given on April 2. The deadline for the return of applications is Wednesday, March 25.

John Minter Praises, Discusses Candidates

University Party Chairman John Minter discussed qualifications of UP candidates for vice president, secretary and treasurer of the student body in a statement released Monday.

The UP's vice presidential candidate, David Grigg, has had the experience in Legislature which would enable him to be a good speaker of that body, Minter said. The main duty of the vice president is to serve as speaker of the Legislature.

In Legislature, Grigg has served as sergeant of arms and has been a member of the Budget and Finance committees. His experience membership of such committees as the Symposium General Committee, Committee on State Affairs and the Attorney General's staff.

Academically, Grigg is a member of Phi Eta Sigma fraternity for freshmen with a B plus average. He is attending UNC on a Morehead scholarship.

The UP's candidate for secretary, Sue Wood, has also had experience in Student Legislature. Minter listed her main work in Legislature as serving as assistant clerk.

Minter said that although Bob Bingham, candidate for treasurer, has not had experience with UNC finances, he has the interest to be capable in that position. Minter said he believed Bingham would do a good job in that office as has Charlie Gray, who likewise had had no experience before elected to that position.

In addition to listing specific qualifications of UP candidates, Minter talked in general about what the candidates and the party "stand for."

The UP "does not believe in a crusade a day to keep reality away, he said.

Minter also dismissed what he termed Student Party arguments that "our slate for the big four is not 'progressive' enough in thought and action, that they will evade the privilege of governing the campus in perfecting and extending our self government, that they represent the party that is not capable of exercising the type leadership cognizant of the responsibility involved.

Minter named the qualifications of three UP candidates and commented that his party did not claim that any one UP candidate had "the most distinguished record of any legislator" as had the Student Party.

CENTS — Here's one beauty contest that students may judge. Penny votes of students in Y Building today through Saturday will determine which coed will reign as queen over the annual Blue-White football game between two teams from the UNC varsity squad. The Blue-White game Saturday afternoon will climax spring practice for the Tar Heels. Candidates for Blue-White Queen are: first row, left to right, Linda Watkins, sponsored by Chi Omega; Jenny Elder, sponsored by Smith Dormitory; Carol Carruthers, sponsored by Pi Beta Phi; and Patricia Chandler, sponsored by Carr Dormitory; and second row, left to right, Sandra Carlton, sponsored by the Nurses Dorm; Kathy Davis, sponsored by Alderman; Jo Ann Hardin, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta; Lynn Walker, sponsored by McIver; and Judy Guericco, sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi. Not pictured are Judith Bunn, sponsored by Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jane Newsome, sponsored by Delta Delta Delta; and Doodie Waldman, sponsored by Kappa Delta.

University Party 'Big Four'