Friday Makes Budget Appeal Today

Committee Will Hear Reinstatement Request

By NEIL MURPHY

President William C. Friday will appear before the joint Appropriations Committee today in the last scheduled appeal for the reinstatement of the University's budget requests.

The University has appeared before the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, the State Board of Higher Education, the Budget Advisory Commission, and will state its case tomorrow before the Joint Appropriations Committee of the General Assembly.

"The presentation to be made by Vice President William D. Carmichael, and Chancellors William B. Aycock, Cary H. Bostian and Gordon Blackwell and myself will stress the importance of restoring the original 'A' budget, to provide more faculty members, increase substantially the funds for salary increases and provide for additional funds for equipment, supplies and services.

"We will also stress the need for additional capital improvements, and the Student Union requested for Chapel Hill will be emphasized," Friday said Tuesday.

Friday expects a large number of interested persons to attend the public meeting.

The hearing will be held at 2 p.m. today in the Joint Appropriations Committee Hearing Room on the sixth floor of the Revenue Building in Raleigh.

Campaign Managers Named

Davis Young, candidate for editor of The Daily Tar Heel, announced Tuesday the appointment of Hutton Tiffany and Art Shields as co-managers of his campaign.

Both Tiffany and Shields are sophomores. Tiffany is a Morehead scholar, a member of DKE social fraternity and will handle Young's campaign in fraternity areas.

Shields has served on the Elections Board, in student government and was a dorm officer in Mangum. He will supervise Young's dormitory campaigning.

The two managers issued the following statement on Young's qualifications and his campaign to date:

"Davis Young is not only the most experienced candidate now in the race, he is also the most experienced candidate who will be in the race.

"As a Daily Tar Heel reporter, feature editor, columnist and as editor of The Summer School Weekly, Young's qualifications are beyond dispute.

"Further, his record as an SP member of Student Legislature and his present job as president of the sophomore class give him a background in campus activities which is indispensable for a Daily Tar Heel editor."

Tiffany and Shields also noted that

Dorm Courts Established For Action

Dormitory Council Courts have been set up to try violations of men's dormitory rules, according to Rudy Edwards, IDC president.

"This gives the dorm officers the means of implementing the responsibilities of their office," said Edwards. The dorm president is a permanent member of the court.

"One of the primary jobs of the dormitory presidents and IDC representatives is to establish an atmosphere of quiet and study in the dorms," Edwards said.

'61 Fine Arts Forum Up To Frosh, Sophs

If a Fine Arts Forum is held here in the spring of 1961, freshmen and sophomores now enrolled will be concerned with the planning and carrying through of the program.

For freshmen and sophomores interested in such a project, a meeting is being held Friday from 12 noon to 2 p.m. in the back room of Lenoir Hall.

Meeting with the undergrads will be students who attempted to hold a Fine Arts Forum this year. Mark Wilson, chairman of the Fine Arts Forum Committee, said Tuesday a resume of what had been done and what went wrong with Forum plans this year would be discussed Friday.

The meeting will be to explore the possibility of continuing the efforts to bring people in the field of fine arts to Carolina for lectures and discussions on alternate years with the Carolina Symposium, Wilson said.

Students who worked with the Forum committee this year have been asked to attend the meeting, in addition to freshmen and sophomores who are interested in carrying through the proposal in 1961.

Touches On Race Issue

Assembly Hears Graham

CHAPEL HILL — People must not be classified as superior or inferior on the basis of color, race, creed, nationality or status, Dr. Frank Graham, United Nations mediator, declared here Tuesday.

Graham, former president of UNC addressed the 14th annual Health Education Conference.

"In the free minds and generous hearts of millions of Southern people of both races who have long cooperated in human relations and works of personal loyalty and kindness," Graham said, "there will live and grow the unfulfilled teachings of religion for equal freedom, dignity and opportunity for all human beings."

He added, "The great adventure in creative cooperation of the different peoples, without violation of the rights of privacy, friendship and personal choice, will tend to preserve their racial identity and diversities to the enrichment of the south. Racial tensions will be eliminated as man works together in equal freedom and opportunity in the local communities and the world neighborhood."

Graham told the delegates the UN has become the biological, humane, political, economic and moral necessity of the atomic age. The world is faced with two alternatives, he said. One is an arms race and a precarious peace. The other is international cooperation and bold long range development programs through the United Nations.

Tally Speaks In Y Series At Hillel

J. O. TALLY JR.

Attorney J. O. Tally Jr. will speak here today at 7:30 at the Hillel Foundation.

Tally, the third speaker in the "Challenges of 1959" series, will speak on "Challenge to Freedom." The YWYMCA is sponsoring the talks on challenges to the American way of life and to institutions of democracy.

Former mayor of Fayetteville, Tally is now treasurer of Kiwanis International and has served as president of the N. C. League of Municipalities, of the Duke Law School Alumni Assn., of the Harvard Club of North Carolina and of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. Tally was educated at Campbell College, Duke and the law schools of Duke and Harvard.

Jones Airs Plans For Edit Page

"Both sides of any important issue that comes up should be freely aired on the pages of The Daily Tar Heel," said Dave Jones in a statement prepared for release Tuesday. "I think that it would be a gross neglect of editorial responsibility and a step toward the corruption of editorial freedom to ignore or suppress anyone's views on an issue," he continued.

Jones pointed out that as editor he would seek a variety of opinion on the editorial page and always welcome letters to the editor.

"This does not mean that I would not employ my daily column to point out facts that I thought to be pertinent to issues, or to give my opinion," he added.

Jones defined the mission of The Daily Tar Heel as being threefold: "First the paper must provide its readers with news in the areas in which their interest lie," he said.

"Second, it should provide a public outlet for cultural and social events that are sponsored locally for the benefit of the students.

"Third, it should provoke thought and discussion among its readers on subjects pertinent to their existence

Bi-Partisan Board Begins Interviews

Interviews with students interested in running for the Men's Honor Council and Student Council will be held today and tomorrow from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Men's Council room in Graham Memorial.

All candidates have been requested to sign appointment sheets on the door of the council room for interviews by the Bi-Partisan Selections Board.

The vacancies on both councils are three senior seats on the Student Council and three seats at large for the Men's Honor Council.

Men's Orientation Applications Ready

Coordinator of Men's Orientation, Tom Overman urges all interested men to secure application blanks for Orientation Counselors from the following places: Graham Memorial Information Desk, Monogram Club, Reserve Room in the Library, Lenoir Hall, YMCA, and they also will be distributed in dormitories and fraternity houses.

Counselor Manuals can be checked out for study from the Reserve Room in the Library and from the Information Desk in GM. There will be a quiz covering this material in the Manual given on April 2. The deadline for the return of applications is Wednesday, March 25.

'Old MacDonald' Wins Prize

By ANN FRYE

An impromptu rendition of "Old MacDonald Had a Farm," starring Harvey Saltz as the monkey, won a trophy for the Monogram Club in the annual Valkyrie Sing Monday night.

In addition to the Monogram Club, four other trophies were presented in Memorial Hall Monday. Sigma Nu fraternity with their "Music in the Modern Idiom! — 'The Shades'" won a trophy in the men's sing division of the Valkyrie Sing.

In the men's skit division, Manley Dormitory's "Johnny Jones Comes Home" was judged the best in that group.

"From the Hungry ADPI," performed by Alpha Delta Pi sorority, took the trophy in the women's sing division. The fifth trophy was awarded Kappa Delta sorority for its "Auntie Mame At Carolina" in the women's skit division.

In the men's sing division, the other entries were Delta Upsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, Lewis Dormitory and Theta Chi. Stacy Dormitory was the other entry in the men's skit division.

Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega and the Nurses Dorm also entered the women's sing division. Other entries in the women's skit division were Alpha Gamma Delta, McIver Dormitory, Pi Beta Phi, Smith Dormitory and Spencer Dormitory.

Judges for the Valkyrie Sing were Mrs. Marion Fitz-Simmons, Walter Golde, Mrs. William Noland, Dr. Beverly Raney and Doug Sessoms.

Mistress of ceremonies during the program was Paddy Wall. LuRuth Sutton was in charge of arrangements.

The annual Valkyrie Sing followed the Golden Fleece tapping and the presentation of members of the Valkyries.

Intermission music was supplied by the UNC Men's Glee Club.

NOW LET'S SEE . . . You belong over there — a certain amount of confusion was present at first, a natural happening for any operation as big as the Grail-Mural Sports Jamboree. This cleared up quickly as each group of boys was assigned to its correct location in the gym. (Photo by Peter Ness)

Grail-Mural Sports Revel Attracts 300 Competitors

Some 300 the intramural athletes from fraternities and dormitories combined their skills to compete in the Second Annual Grail-Mural Sports Jamboree last night in Woollen Gym.

Winners for the first night round-robin play advanced to sing elimination finals scheduled tonight at 7. Finals will be played in handball, table tennis, badminton, swimming, and half-court basketball.

Chi Psi - Joyner - I won the foul shooting event as team members George Craver (Chi Psi) and Mitchell Daughtry (Joyner) dropped in a total of 40 shots out of a possible 50. SAE-Avery ran a close second, but lost to the Chi Psi-Joyner-I club in a playoff round.

Team relays are scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m. with four fraternity men and four dorm men combined to make up a team. There are 22 teams entered in three sections. Three preliminary relays will be run with the top two teams in each section competing in the finals to determine the champion.

Dean of Student Affairs Fred Weaver will present winners with individual trophies at a "steak supper" to be held at Watt's Restaurant on Monday, March 23, at 7 p.m. Trophies are now on display in the Woollen Gym Trophy Case.

Finalists in the events are: HANDBALL: Beta-Winston-1, Phi Gam-2, Cobb-1, Theta Chi - Law School, SAE - Avery, SPE - Old West and Chi Psi-Joyner-1.

TABLE TENNIS: Zeta Psi - Ruffin, DU-Lewis-1, Theta Chi - Law School, Delta Sig-Winston-2, ZBT - Alexander-2, and DKE - Lewis-2.

HALF-COURT BASKETBALL: TEP - Cobb-2, Chi Phi - Parker, PIKA - Everett, Beta - Winston-1, Delta Sig-Winston-2 and SAE - Avery.

BADMINTON: Stacy - Sigma Nu, SAE - Avery, Phi Gam-2-Cobb-2, TEP - Cobb-2, Zeta Psi Ruffia, and DKE - Lewis-2.

SWIMMING: (200 yd. Freestyle) Manly, DKE-LEWIS-2, Phi Gam-2-Cobb-1 and ZBT - Alexander-2. (150 yd. Medley) The above teams will also participate in the medley event with the following exception: Chi Phi - Parker replaces DKE-Lewis-2.

In archery competition TEP - Cobb-2 and Chi Phi-Parker are leading with six more teams remaining on the schedule.

Students and faculty have been invited to watch the final night of competition.

How Undergrads Spend Time Is Investigated

How UNC undergraduates spend their leisure time is the subject of a research study conducted by Elsie Prevatte, a graduate student in the Sociology Department.

She will be assisted by Women's Residence Council, Panhellenic Council, the IDC and the IFC in administering questionnaires to 600 students.

The students who will answer the questionnaires have been selected through stratified random sampling to represent the undergraduate population, according to Miss Prevatte.

The study will be conducted during the second week of April.

Yack Editor To Meet Bi-Partisan Board

The Bi-Partisan Selections Board to endorse candidates running for editor of the Yackety Yack will meet Friday at 3 p.m. in the Grail Room.

"All persons interested in running are to appear at this time," Harold O'Tuel, chairman of the board, said yesterday.

Members of the board include the faculty advisers to the Publications Board, and the editor and business manager of the Yack this year.

'Oh, Hellas!' Tryouts Today In Memorial

Tryouts for all parts in this spring's annual "Sound and Fury" production, "Oh, Hellas!" will be held today in Memorial Hall from 3 to 6 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. Tryouts for dancing parts will be at 9 p.m.

Al Salley, producer, said no experience is necessary for any of the parts available.

The script, based on Aristophanes' "Lysistrata," was written by Lew Hardee and Carl Bridgers and will be directed by Joel Fleishman.

Production heads include Ed Crow, set designs; Clara Mack, costumes; Jack Mitchell, business manager; Bob Gibson, publicity; Lew Hardee, musical director, and Ess Brunner, assistant musical director.

Anyone interested in working with the production of the show may do so by contacting one of the production heads.

Sound and Fury will be presented May 1 and 2.
