Miss Elizabeth Morrison of Asheville has been selected by United States National Library of Medicine in Washington, D. C. for a year's internship beginning in September.

Only three such internships are awarded by the National Library each year.

Miss Morrison is a student in the School of Library Science. She is working toward a graduate degree in medical librarianship. This is the first student of the UNC School of Library Science to receive such an appointment with the National Library.

This advanced training in Washington will lead to approved certification by the Medical Library Association.

Miss Morrison was previously employed as a medical technician at the VA Hospital in Oteen.

NSA Regional Conference Elects Ed Levy, Bob Nobles

Two UNC students were elected this weekend to offices for the Carolina-Virginia Region of the National Student Association.

Ed Levy was selected as executive vice chairman, and Bob Nobles was elected student government vice chairman. A Johnson C. Smith University student, Charles Jones, was named chairman of the region.

The elections were held at the NSA Spring Regional Conference at Sweet Briar College in Virginia last weekend. Twenty colleges and universities were represented at the conference.

A feature of the meetings was an address by Al Lowenstein, UNC alumnus and former president of the USNSA. Lowenstein is currently employed by Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

As executive vice chairman, Levy will serve on the national executive committee of the USNSA, work in this region to recruit additional schools for the NSA and assist with regional programming.

Nobles' office involves planning a regional conference for student government personnel and aiding the coordination and communication among the 36 schools in this region.

Want A Flick? Take Your Pick

What flicks would you like to see in the coming year?

The Free Flick Committee of GMAB would like to know and is placing boxes around campus for your suggestions.

Ballot boxes were placed today at the Information Desk in Graham Memorial, on a table in the Y Building, and in the lobby of Lenoir Hall. The boxes will be out one week for students' ideas on next year's flicks.

Any and all suggestions will be considered in making up the list, but budgetary considerations will limit the choice.

The committee itself is holding an organizational meeting today at 2 p.m. in the Honor Council Room at Graham Memorial. Anyone particularly interested in helping out has been invited to attend.

The new co-chairmen, George Grayson and Stan Black, have divided the committee into three sections for the 1959-60 school year. The sections will be concerned with domestic films, foreign films and special films. The sub-committee idea promises to insure a more varied and interesting program next year.

Suggestions in the boxes will give the committee its best guide to what the students want to see. The co-chairmen have urged everyone to vote for at least five flicks, more if possible.

Three Contests Entered By High School Students

Over 5,000 high school students in North Carolina have entered three of six academic contests being sponsored by the University Extension Division, it has been announced by E. R. Rankin, secretary in charge of the contests.

He reported that 1,904 students from 106 North Carolina high schools entered the academic contest conducted in the field of chemistry which was held March 27. In 1958 there were 1,676 student entries from 76 schools.

A total of 1,200 students from 93 schools participated in the annual high school physics contest held this year on April 3. The figures again show an increase over 1958 when 1,074 students were entered from 70 schools.

The largest number of entries to date, 2,610 from 130 schools, were for the mathematics contest given April 10. Last year there were 2,261 students from 117 schools in the competition.

The three remaining contests are in the languages: Latin, Spanish and French.

Deadline for entries in the Latin contest is Thursday, April 23; Spanish contest, April 30; and French, May 1. Officials of schools desiring to enter students from accredited North Carolina public schools should contact Rankin before the deadline. Three examinations will be given in the Latin contest: (1) for those now taking first year Latin; (2) for those now taking second year Latin; and (3) for those now taking third or fourth year Latin. The examinations will be given in participating schools throughout the state on May 1.

A prize of $10 is offered for the best paper in each examination. The UNC Scholarship Committee has announced that it will award a merit scholarship in the University at Chapel Hill to the student winning first place in the Latin contest, exclusive of entries in the first division which is for first year Latin student.

The examination requires the ability to comprehend and translate Latin and knowledge of forms and syntax English derivation and Roman civilization.

Dewey Sheffield Sweeps In As Student Party Head

By DEE DANIELS

Dewey Sheffield swept into the office of Student Party chairman last night at the regular party meeting.

His only opponent was Bob Nobles.

Assisting Sheffield as vice-chairman will be Norman E. Smith, who defeated Nobles for the position. Randy Davidson was elected by acclamation as party secretary.

Unopposed for the office of treasurer was Ed Cox.

Elected to the SP Advisory Board for 1959-60 were Dave Jones, Pete Thompson, Martha Morgan and Bill Norton. They defeated Swag Grimsley and Bob Nobles for the positions.

By acclamation, Bill Whichard was selected as sergeant at arms.

Pappy Churchill and Betty Phillips were nominated as candidates for recording secretary, but due to the absence of both, the election was postponed until next week.

Don Furtado, student body president during the past year, spoke to the body expressing the feeling that "student government has been progressive" for the past year.

Concerning the party, he told members, "A party exists, not to elect people, unless they elect standards and ideals, but for a better campus community, a better state and a better nation."

Furtado outlined some accomplishments of the past year such as the installation of "hear here" phone booths in dorms, expansion of the attorney-general's staff, better study facilities, success of the committee on State Affairs, appointment of a student director for the Merchants Association, dormitory visiting agreement, formation of a Foreign Student Council, an improved Publications Board and a better coordinated Traffic Council.

The former president urged the party to concern itself with guaranteeing a better academic atmosphere on the campus. He stated that "many students leave here without ever having studied and many leave without ever having thought, which is even worse."

Furtado feels that the biggest problem facing the campus today is that of communication. There is a need for it with the faculty, with the national student community and with the students themselves, he said.

Room Deposits Are Due Soon

Men student now assigned to dormitory rooms have the option of reserving space for the summer and fall sessions providing they do it by Wednesday.

Room reservation deposits for the summer and fall must be made with the University cashier in South Building. However, a room reserved for the summer does not entitle the occupant to that space in the fall.

For the summer sessions double rooms will be available in Joyner, Mangum, Grimes, Ruffin and Winston (for graduate men). Rent in these dorms is $20 for each session, according to the housing office.

Single rooms will be available in Manly, Stacy and Lewis with a charge of $30 per session. Graham will house married students for $40 per session.

A reservation fee of $10 must be paid for all rooms by Wednesday. Room rent for the fall semester must be paid by Sept. 1.

The housing office is located in Room 3, South Building.

Charlie Gray Corrects List

Additions and corrections to the list of student government appointments released last week were made by Student Body President Charlie Gray Monday.

Omitted from the list were two vacancies on the Publications Board.

Gray said he especially urged students who will be here in summer school to apply for various positions in student government for the summer sessions.

He also reminded students interested in the position of attorney-general to apply Wednesday or Thursday, since the appointment will be presented to Student Legislature Thursday night.

The final day that students have to submit applications for the more than 150 student government positions available is Monday, April 27. Interviews with applicants will begin Wednesday of this week and continue until further notice.

Gray said the number of vacancies on various student government organizations that were reported in the newspaper was lower in many cases than the actual number available.

Henderson Strikers Are Back At Work

HENDERSON, N. C. — Union members began returning to their jobs Monday afternoon at the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills, writing the finish to a long and sometimes violent strike.

Company president John D. Cooper Jr., who signed a new one-year contract with the Textile Workers Union of America, claimed the victory in the struggle.

"It was a grand slam for the mills," said Cooper. "We achieved the aim we set out for last November" when the Union went on strike in the face of company demands for contract changes.

Cooper did not elaborate, but presumably he referred to limitations on arbitration included in the new agreement which was worked out with Gov. Hodges taking a personal hand in the negotiations.

The management claim of victory conflicted with the weekend statements of Boyd Payton, TWUA Carolina director, that the settlement was a victory for the union.

Although large crowds were on hand at the mill Monday, there was none of the disorders which marked shift changes while the strike was in progress. Returning strikers took places on a second shift, getting started for the first time Monday afternoon.

Cooper said he would announce next Monday a date for the start of a third shift. Since Feb. 16, the mill had been running on a single shift.

Missing from the Henderson scene Monday were State Highway Patrol trooper sent in by Gov. Hodges to help preserve order.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner Ed Scheidt said the number of Patrolmen, at times up to 150, had been reduced to the normal 15 for the district in which Henderson and Vance County is located.

Minnesota Cops Contest

Four Davidson College students were defeated by a team from the University of Minnesota Sunday on the television show, "College Bowl," on CBS.

The two teams competed in answering questions during the program. The final score was Minnesota, 155 points; Davidson, 50. A $1,500 scholarship went to the winning school and a $500 scholarship was awarded the losers.

Representing Davidson were Lauren Walker, 22; Francis Nye, 20; Charles Chastain, 21; and Robert Livingston, 21.

One-Act Play Given Tonight

George Bernard Shaw's one-act play, "The Showing Up of Blanco Posnet," will be presented by the Presbyterian Drama Seminar Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Presbyterian Hut.

The story of the only "western" Shaw ever wrote revolves around the trial of the notorious, debonaire Blanco Posnet, who is accused of stealing a horse. Horse stealing at that time and in that part of the country was considered a cardinal sin, with the usual penalty of death by a lynching mob.

Another character in the play, Elder Daniels, is noted for his vicious, sarcastic remarks about the church. Daniels' intent is to save every soul, even the one of the carousing, wild Blanco, who is in reality his brother.

The difference in the two characters is that Blanco has decided to "be himself" rather than to put on a "pious front" as does his brother.

Playing the part of Blanco will be Frank Mansfield, and Wendell Manuel will be starred as Elder Daniels.

Other members of the cast are Nancy Grubb, Feemy, Ed Crow, the mystery woman, Hannah and a mysterious woman; Harold Smith, Strapper; Nancy Faison, Jessie; Norwood Holmes, the foreman; Anthony Harvey, Nestor; Tony Candler, Waggoner Jo, and Diana Harmon, Babsy.

Directing the production is Art McDonald, graduate student in Dramatic Arts. The lighting, staging, scenery, makeup costumes, publicity and props are being handled by the participants.

The play is being presented to enable inexperienced students to participate in a dramatic production.

"It is my prerogative to disagree with my government and use my citizenship in what I expressly deem my right under the Constitution of the United States," Moullette told Khrushchev.
