

Balmy Kessing Breezes Beckon All Tonight

"Beat the heat and meet new friends while enjoying an evening of enjoyment and relaxation," says Art Shields, chairman of the Summer Activities Council.

Wednesday night, July 1, from 6 to 10:30 p.m., the council will sponsor a combination picnic, dance and swimming party at Kessing Pool.

There will be swimming from 7 until 9 p.m. and dancing on the pool terrace with music by the Jack Victor's combo.

Box lunches of fried chicken and all the trimmings will be served.

Student admission is $.50. Tickets may be obtained from council members, at Graham Memorial, the "Y", or at the pool.

Co-chairmen for this party are

Jack Hunnington and Al Haines.

Shields adds, "I would like to urge all summer school students, graduates and undergraduates, to come down to Kessing Pool Wednesday evening and join the festivities."

U.N.C. NEWS

"Congress shall make no laws abridging the freedom of the Press" U. S. Constitution

VOL. I, NO. 5

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1959

EIGHT PAGES

206 South Goes To W. G. Long

William G. Long, associate secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at North Carolina State College, has been appointed assistant dean of student affairs here according to an announcement by Fred H. Weaver, dean of student affairs.

His appointment becomes effective September 1, 1959.

Long will succeed Samuel H. Magill who is leaving the position to undertake graduate study in religion at Duke University.

As assistant dean, Long will be administratively responsible for various areas of student activities, including student government, dormitory counseling, orientation, religious activities, etc. His office will be 206 South Building.

Long is a native of Morgantown, W. Va.; where his father is registrar for West Virginia University. He graduated from West Virginia University in 1951 with an A.B. in political science and earned the M. A. in political science from the same institution in 1953.

Following two years in the U. S. Army as a commissioned officer, he attended the Yale University Divinity School and received the B. D. degree in 1957. While in New Haven, he in-

(See LONG Page 5)

WILLIAM G. LONG

Y To Sponsor Finn

By SUSAN LEWIS

Not with fireworks but with James Finn associate editor of "Commonweal," a leading Catholic periodical, the YM-YWCA will celebrate Independence Day weekend.

In accordance with the emphasis on freedom around July 4, Finn will speak Monday night at 8 at Gerrard Hall on "Religion in a Free Society."

This program is the main event of the Y Summer Session Council headed by Virginia Ayers.

Finn, who will be here Sunday through Wednesday, studied engineering at Purdue and English at Chicago University.

He has been with "Commonweal" since 1955 and since that time has devoted a great deal of attention to the relationship between religion and the pluralistic society.

This same topic has been the area for study of the Fund for the Republic, the non-profit and educational organization set up by the Ford Foundation to study the basic issues underlying a free society and to promote the ideas of individual liberty expressed in the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR JAMES FINN

WUNC-TV Beams French, Spanish

By JANE McCORKLE

With the help of the Ford Foundation, UNC will offer a wide state program of elementary school classes in French and Spanish over WUNC-TV next September.

Last year, first year French classes were given on an experimental basis.

This September, in the second year of the experiment, first and

(See WUNC-TV, Page 7)

What Could Be Better Than To Be Wetter

WAITING FOR HIM?—Four mermaids line one—him or a suntan. the edge of Kessing pool waiting for that special

Photo by Brinkhaus

Summer Chorus Vocalizes Under Sasser's Direction

Sixty voices under the direction of William Sasser will present the Summer Session Chorus' first concert Tuesday evening at 8 in Hill Hall.

The chorus is composed of both students and townspeople; Sasser is a graduate student and instructor in piano in the Music Department.

The program will open with C. P. E. Bach's "Holy Is God," an antiphonal anthem for solo quartet and chorus. The soloists will be Rebecca Carnes, soprano; Marilyn Zschau, contralto; James Chamblee, tenor; Marvin Tatum, bass.

The chorus will then be joined by a chamber orchestra for the presentation of a group of excerpts from "The Fairy Queen" by Henry Purcell.

Soloists will include Rebecca Carnes and Nyal Womble, sopranos; Louise McGee, Kay Robinson and Marilyn Zschau, altos; James Chamblee, tenor; David Vaughn and Marvin Tatum, basses.

The orchestra members will be Dorothy Alden, Mary Ellen Bierck, Jena Heard, D. A. MacPherson, Keith Mixer and Joanna Scroggs, violins; Elma Frysinger and Marjorie Renner, violas; Efrim Fruchtman, violoncello; Edgar Stryker, harpsichord; William Evans and Martha Holaday, flutes; Fred Rierson and John Zilkowski, trumpets.

(See CHORUS Page 7)