Health Dept. Examinations For 20-Job Register Set Dec. 5

Examinations to establish registers for 20 positions with the state and local health departments will be Dec. 5, according to an announcement today from the North Carolina Merit System Council.

Those who take the tests will be listed according to their final scores on a register maintained by the Merit System. When job openings occur in the health departments, the registers furnish a list of eligible applicants.

The tests for positions with the State Board of Health will be given for the following positions: Bacteriologist IV, Bacteriologist III, Bacteriologist II, Bacteriologist I, film serviceman, Mobile X-Ray Technician I, Physical Therapist I, puppeteer, Sanitarian II and Sanitary Engineer I.

Tests for positions with the local health departments will be given in the following classes: senior photofluorographic operator, junior photofluorographic operator, Psychiatric Social Worker II, Psychiatric Social Worker I, senior sanitarian, junior sanitarian, meat inspector, laboratory helper, senior public health educator, clinic nurse, Public Nurse II and Public Health Nurse III.

Application forms may be obtained from local health and welfare offices, local Employment Security Commission offices and from the Merit System Council, Mansion Park Building, Raleigh. Applicants for the examinations must file applications for admission with the Merit System Council before midnight, Nov. 10, 1959. The examinations will be given in Raleigh.

The Merit System offers three other public health examinations on a continuous basis. These are for Public Health Nurse I, assistant sanitarian, Laboratory Technician II (PH), all at the entrance level. Further information on the examinations, salaries, duties and qualifications for the jobs may be secured from the Merit System office in Raleigh.

YWCA Trick Or Treating For UNICEF Thursday

The calendar says Halloween is Oct. 31.

The YWCA read it Oct. 29. Anyway, that is when the YWCA will trick or treat for UNICEF.

Forty coeds will help the children from the State School for the Blind in Raleigh participate in UNICEF's Halloween program. These girls will chaperone the children as they go from house to house asking for contributions — not goodies — for the fund.

All girls who have signed up to chaperone this group are to meet at the Y office, 5 p.m., Thursday. They should contact the Y if they have a change in plans.

UP Nominates Five Freshmen Class Officers

Don Wilkinson won out over Bob Rearden for vice-presidential nomination and Judy Reynolds edged out Skippy Jones for secretary. The third and final runoff was between Gaston Caperton and Clem Ford to decide who would represent the party as candidate for treasurer.

Roger Smith is a Morehead Scholar and is also president of the Pi Kappa Alpha pledge class in addition to being a non-scholarship member of the freshman football team. His runningmate, Don Wilkinson, has been active in student government all through his high school career.

Journalism Fraternity Adds 5

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity initiated five professional members Monday in a formal ceremony.

The year old UNC chapter inducted Thomas J. Lassiter, editor of the Smithfield Herald; Julius C. Hubbard, publisher of the North Wilkesboro Journal-Patriot; Russell Spear, publisher of the Madison Messenger; Dave Wichard, publisher of the Greenville Reflector; and Cecil Prince, associate editor of the Charlotte Observer.

After the ceremony the undergraduate members, the new initiates and visiting professional members had a dinner meeting. A quartet from the Men's Glee Club provided entertainment.

Sigma Delta Chi is the oldest and largest professional journalism fraternity. It is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year.

The UNC chapter received its charter last March.

It is possible for some to pass, while others might fail. Each of the nine items will be voted on as a separate proposal.

The first item is the one which pertains directly to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. If it should pass, $5,330,000 will come to the University to be used on ten projects in the field of capital improvements.

In the package plan this University will put the money to the following use:

1. $140,000 Renovations of Labs.
2. $750,000 Geology and Geography Building.
3. $425,000 Addition to Swain Hall.
4. $485,000 Addition to Hill Hall.
5. $750,000 Botany Building.
6. $750,000 Language Building.
7. $65,000 Equipment for Physics Building.
8. $875,000 Dormitories for 700 students (50 per cent of cost).
9. $90,000 Classrooms for School of Public Health.
10. $1,000,000 Public Health Building.

Governor Luther H. Hodges has expressed the belief that the citizens of North Carolina will pass the bond issue.

On the local level, Chancellor William B. Aycock has said, "Every project, I believe, is a necessary and worthy one."

"A substantial number of the projects will enable the institutions of higher learning to grow both qualitatively and quantitatively in a period which demands of us better education for an increasing number of our young men and women at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill," the Chancellor concluded.

SP Approves Proposal, Picks Class Officers

By HARVE HARRIS

An amendment to alter election procedure to the Student Council and to the Men's and Women's Honor Council received party approval at last night's Student Party meeting.

In brief, the amendment states that one representative to the Student Council and one to the Men's Honor Council be elected by the men's voting districts.

Women will elect one representative to the Student Council and two representatives to the Women's Honor Council.

The amendment further states: "A Student Council Member from any district shall not sit on the trial concerning a Campus Code violation of any person residing in the same district. In cases of constitutionality and appeals concerning the elections law all members shall sit."

The measure will now go before the student Legislature for consideration, and if passed by that body will be submitted to a campus-wide vote.

The business of nominating party candidates for class officers was carried over from last week's meeting.

Freshmen candidates include Robin Britt, president; Mike Lawler, vice president; Anne Cummings, secretary; Leon Barber, treasurer; Carolyn Mitchell, social chairman.

Junior class candidates include Swag Grimsley, president; Dick Olive, vice president; Jeanne Huntley, secretary. The party advisory board will select candidates for treasurer and social chairman.

Laura Overcash was selected a candidate for sophomore chairman.

Di-Phi Set To Debate Labor Issue

A resolution calling for further Congressional legislation to limit the power of labor unions will be debated tonight by the Di-Phi Society.

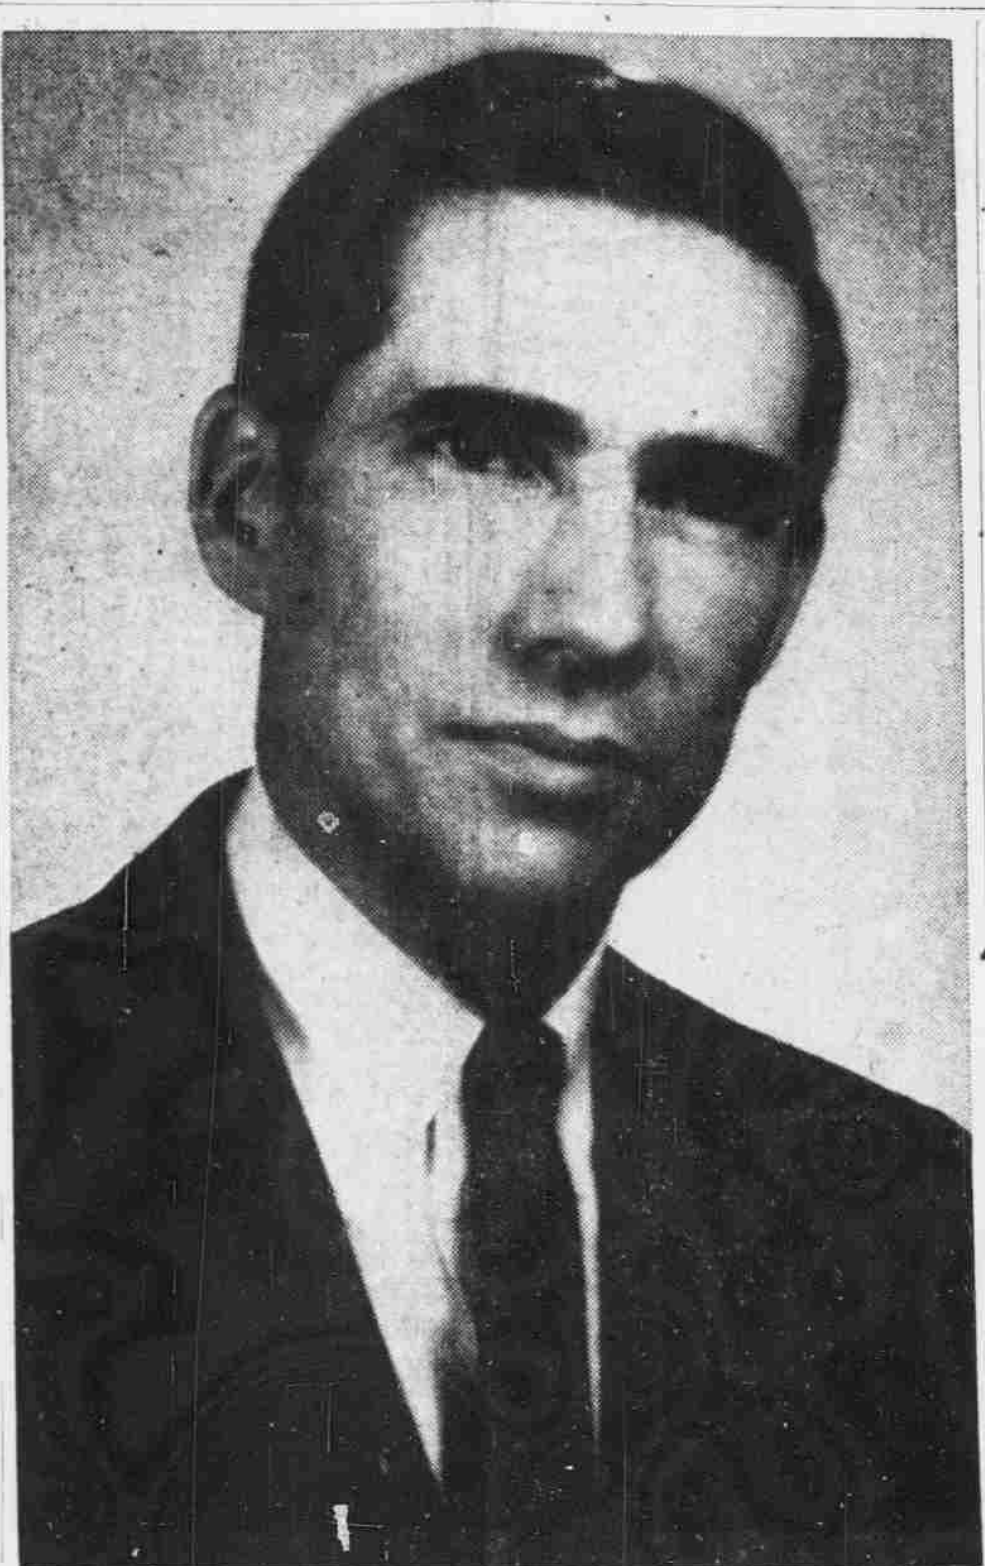

The assembly debate begins, 8 p.m., third floor of New West. Rep. Gary Greer, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, will introduce the resolution. He will advocate that Congress should enact legislation restricting the number of individual unions that may organize jointly for unified strike.

A general strike or even a strike in several of the more critical industries at the same time could bring the economy to a standstill.

The Sherman Anti-trust Act which prohibits the organization of industry into trusts or cartels, is pointed to as the model to be used in formulating the proposed labor law.

Labor unions, the resolution states, are in a position comparable to that of industry when the Sherman Act was passed.

An executive session is scheduled at the conclusion of debate to induct newly qualified applicants for membership and to consider several items of business.

Students To Get Free Admission To Ballet

"Students will be admitted free to Wednesday's performance of The Andre Eglesvsky Ballet," Mrs. D. M. Fambrough, membership chairman of the Chapel Hill Concert Series, said Monday.

"The Eglesvsky troupe of one of the outstanding ballet attractions in the country today, and we sincerely hope that students will take advantage of the free admission policy," Mrs. Fambrough continued.

The program which begins at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall, will be highlighted by the performance of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker Suite," danced by Melissa Hayden and Eglesvsky.

Students will be admitted free upon presentation of their ID cards.

Graduate School Dean Named To CCH Position

Dr. Alexander Heard, dean of the graduate school here, has been elected vice chairman of the Citizenship Clearing House for the coming year.

The CCH is a non-profit organization with main offices at the New York University Law Center.

Through political internships for faculty members and students, and workshops, conferences and other field projects, it seeks to raise the standards for political education and encourages political participation by college men and women in the party of their choice.

Dean Heard, author of several books on the politics of the South and the problems of financing political parties, was elected Monday and will serve on a board of directors.

Chairman of the CCH board is Dr. Arthur Fleming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

who has served as vice chairman of the Clearing House for the past two years.

The new secretary-treasurer is George H. Williams, assistant dean of New York University, a director of the Clearing House 1948-1958.

Saunders Hall Undergoing $44,000 Facelifting Job

Saunders Hall is now being given modern improvements with a $44,000 facelifting by the C. T. Wilson Construction Company of Durham.

The old metal windows are being replaced by tighter fitting wooden ones.

In addition, some of the small rooms will be converted to larger ones later. Other improvements will be the installation of vinyl tile on some of the floors, acoustical material for better soundproofing, and new seats in all the classrooms.

Co-Rec Carnival Begins At 7 p.m.

Over 700 students will pour into Woolen Gym tonight at 7 o'clock for the 13th Annual Co-Rec Carnival.

44 teams, composed of six men or six women, will compete for the coveted crown now held by DKE and Spencer. The two champs are not paired this year so the fight for the winner's circle will be a wide open affair.

Trophies by the car-load will be handed out at the end of the festivities, one to each individual winner and each team winner.

And there's something for everyone to do; no one will be standing around with his hands in his pockets. For instance, there are four relays (Tape Pull, Bean Bag

Under, Number Mark-Off, and Object Pass). The relay events get underway at 7

Then come the sports tournaments, five of them, at 8 o'clock. They are: badminton, table tennis, volleyball doubles, archery, and tether ball for girls and box hockey for boys.

Counted as part of the sports tournaments are the most fun events and the events from which the name of the Carnival is derived: the Carnival Games. There are eight carnival games (candle snuffing, paper plate flip, ball carry, water fall, pole ring, fish ring pole, airplane target shoot, arc-it, auto race and arm-link race).

The Carnival will sprawl, like a big circus, over a large area which will include the main floor of Woolen Gym, the Women's Gym and the Tin Can. Some 40 intramural officials will be needed to handle this, the biggest single event sponsored by the Intramural Department.

Team points will be scored on a 7-5-3-1 basis. The Co-Rec teams (which consist of four boys and four girls in the relays, six of each sex or other events) have been divided into four groups. The relay teams will run only against teams in their group until the championship relay is held.
