Friday Against Raise In Tuition For UNC Students

"I have always been against raising the tuition," said Consolidated University President William Friday this week in reaction to recommendations that student tuition be raised.

In the budget recommendations which the Advisory Budget Commission presented to the General Assembly last Thursday, it was advised that tuition be raised $25 per year for North Carolina students and $100 per year for out-of-staters.

Friday Proposes

Friday has proposed to the legislature that out-of-state students' tuition be raised $100 as a means to raise part of the money required by the C.U. to improve its facilities.

Friday continued, "It's hard to say just how much the tuition would be raised. The students are already liquidating thriteen million dollars of debt, and the Commission added two more million to that . . .

"Since that would be paid for by the students, it wouldn't be too much, but then at the same time you have to' start building up money to run the student union (to be partly built with self-liquidating funds), and that might make an increase of twenty dollars in itself."

Di-Phi Approves Measure's Repeal

By a large majority Tuesday night, the Di-Phi voted that the Connally Amendment ought to Arthur Hays, the resolution engendered lively debate.

The 1946 Amednment to the Charter of the World Court states that the United States should have the right to determine those affairs which are domestic and not subject to jurisdiction by the International Court.

The argument presented by the opponents of the amendment stressed the fact that the measure is basically irrelevant, since Article 333 of the Statutes only provides for jurisdiction by the World Court in matters that are international.

Rep. Hays was awarded the "Speaker of the Evening" Award in the blackness of space. for his efforts. Di-Phi Critic Glen Johnson, graduate student in political science, presented the award.

Concert Stars Jazz Singer, Rockin' Berry

The annual Spring Germans concert will be held between 3 and 5 o'clock at Memorial Hall Saturday, but the Friday night dance which usually marks the starting point of the big weekend will not be held this year.

Francis Craighill, president of the Germans Club, stated yesterday that the fraternities in the club had voted against having the dance, explaining that the main reason may have been that frat members were required to pay for both the concert and the dance, even if they only wanted to attend the latter function.

By this reasoning, many people spent money for an event they weren't planning to go to. Backed By Octet

Film Committee Urges Students To Observe Rules

An appeal for student cooperation was issued yesterday by the Graham Memorial Films Committee.

Warren Williams, chairman of the group, asked that everyone attending the week-end Free Flicks please observe the regulations and that soft-drink bottles, candy, ice cream, and other refreshments not be brought into the auditorium.

The ban on smoking is to prevent fire hazards and to insure maximum safety in the crowded auditorium. No esting and drinking is allowed because of the resulting mess and the inadequate means for cleaning it up before classes on Saturday and Monday mornings.
