TWO HEAD CARNIVAL—Jeanne MacDougall, a junior from Akron, Ohio, and Charles Shelton, a sophomore from Chattanooga, Tennessee, (above) are co-chairmen for the Campus Chest Carnival. The carnival will be held March 11. The Campus Chest drive will be coordinated this year with fraternity Greek week. Sororities and men's and women's dorms will also build various carnival booths.

day night by the Student Legislature.

The Carolina Honor System may operate under new rules soon.

On Thursday Rep. Davis B. Young presented a constitutional amendment calling for a re-definition and reform of the student judiciary to insure a "fair trial" and an "unbiased judgement" on the part of the Honor Councils.

The composition of the judiciary may get a shake-up if the amendment passes a student body vote.

The Men's and Women's Councils will remain separate but the Student Council will be done away with and combined with the Men's Council.

The amendment passed legislature but as a constitutional amendment it must be passed by the student body to go into effect. The election for this purpose was set for March 7.

This amendment, if passed by the student body in the general election will take effect after the fall 1961 elections.

Bill Passes

Another bill passed called for an appropriation of $1000 for a twenty-five minute film on the Carolina Honor System to be used in collaboration with the Orientation program.

Bill Hariss and Mike Lawler both resigned from legislature and Bob Bilbro was appointed to the Student Athletic Council.

Now the Men's Council tries only honor violations, campus code violations are within the jurisdiction of the Student Council. This move would combine these functions and act, as the Women's now does, on all honor violations committed by men.

The size of the councils will be determined by the legislature. Here the election and number of council members will be defined by the legislature and will be based on geographically apportioned judicial districts.

In cases involving constitutionality the question will be reviewed by a seven-member board composed of three members of the Men's Council and three members of the Women's Council with the chairman being the chairman of the Men's Council.

Guitarist, Combo & Gentlemen Slated For GM Concert Tonight

A swing 'n sway concert combining the talents of the Carolina Gentlemen, guitarist Mike Hall and a jazz combo will round out a day of campus music at Graham Memorial tonight.

The evening's free entertainment, sponsored by the GM social committee, will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the GM Rendezvous room and conclude at 11 p.m. A juke box is available for late-evening dancing.

First show of the night will feature the Gentlemen specializing in folk songs. The Gentlemen are Tony Salinger, Scott Makepeace, Mike McClister and Billy Dunlap, substituting for Bill Whittenton.

Members of the second show, the combo, have not been named yet. Charles Carroll, of Carroll Talent Associates, is handling the arrangements for the social committee and is responsible for hiring the Gentlemen, the combo and Mike Hall, the third act of the evening.

A first semester senior majoring in art, Hall is a guitarist and singer who has played across the United States and in Mexico. He has been singing and playing the guitar professionally about five years.

Flashy Guitar-Strummer & Torch Singer On UNC Stage

The annual Winter Germans will be held this afternoon in Memorial Hall between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Featured on the Germans' program are Nina Simone and Chuck Berry.

Nina Simone is a vocalist of all popular idiom (jazz, popular, spiritual, blues, and folk song). Chuck Berry is the instigator of such songs as "Maybellene," and "Johnny B. Goode," and is a master at flashy guitar-strumming.

Both Need Luck

Both Berry and Miss Simone needed luck in gaining the degree of prominence they now have. Berry took part in an all-time talent review in high school and sung to the backing of teenage guitarist Tom Stevens. Chuck took an interest in this instrument after the performance, bought a six-string Spanish guitar for four dollars and a set of instruction books, and got a start in the St. Louis area as a guitarist-singer.

After three years of touring with his own group, Chuck cut a record for Chess Records in 1955, which led him to his present position.

Loses Job

Nina Simone grew up in a family which was musically inclined, but which did not favor jazz or popular music. In the summer of 1954, she lost her job as an accompanist for vocal students at the Arlene Smith Studio in Philadelphia.

The only job she could find was as a singer at $90 a week in Atlantic City. She took the job, but changed her name from Eunice Waymon so that her students and parents wouldn't know that she was singing in a bar. Nina did well in her first show business job, developing a reputation as a fine jazz pianist and popular singer. She decided to go into show business after the successful tenure at Atlantic City, and since has climbed to her present status in the jazz world.

Lumumba Men Attack Missions Protesting Death

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — New waves of terror and violence rolled across the Congo Friday. Lumumbist youths attacked Roman Catholic missions and killed and mutilated a priest in Bukavu, a stronghold of Lumumbist forces in the north.

A United Nations spokesman said bands of youths protesting the death of Patrice Lumumba swarmed through the streets of Bukavu, capital of Kivu Province, sacked and burned a Roman Catholic mission and attacked priests and nuns.

A group of Lumumba supporters in Stanleyville beat to death a man who had openly criticized his successor, Antoine Gizenga. Gangs of youths roamed the African quarters of Leopoldville during the night, attacking supporters of President Joseph Kasavubu and hacking one man in two.

Does About Face

Kasavubu, who has been cool to United Nations operations in the Congo, did an abrupt about-face Friday and pledged his full support to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

To show his power he sent a battalion of well-armed paratroopers swinging past the U.N. headquarters in Leopoldville. They marched in perfect step and wore immaculate jungle green uniforms.

Kasavubu cabled Hammarskjold, "At the moment when your person is being violently attacked by different countries we want to assure you again of our confidence and the wish of the legal government of the Congo to cooperate with you."

Infirmary

Free Flick Tonight Eddie Duchin Story

"The Eddie Duchin Story," the sensitive and human story of the famous orchestra leader and pianist, will be tonight's

Free Flick presentation. The life story of Eddie Duchin ranges from deep-seated despair to spectacular triumph. Into his short life he packed more success, more tragedy and paths, more highs and lows of living than one could think possible.

Showings are in Carroll Hall at 6:30, 8:30, and 10:30 p.m. and are open to University students only.

Retiring Professors Total 186 Years

Five veteran UNC professors with a combined total of 186 years of service, will retire July 1, it was announced this week by UNC Chancellor William B. Aycock.

The quintet of scholars who will leave their classrooms at the end of this academic year includes:

Dr. Wesley Critz George, professor of anatomy in the School of Medicine and a noted specialist in comparative studies of the blood of invertebrate animals and man.

Dr. Katherine Jocher, research professor emeritus of sociology in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, and an editor of the publication, "Social Forces," for ten years.

Dr. Arthur Melville Jordan, professor of educational psychology and authority on tests and measures and child development.

Dr. Guy B. Phillips, professor of education and a specialist in school administration, especially active in the betterment of public schools of North Carolina.

Dr. Gustav Theodore Schwenning, professor of business administration, specialist in personnel relations, industrial management and labor economics.

Chancellor Aycock said that "these 186 years represent a period of outstanding service to the University." He added that he believes "such long and able loyalty and service is not easily come by... nor will it be easily replaced."

FIVE RETIRING UNC FACULTY MEMBERS gathered in the office of Chancellor William B. Aycock in South Building as he expresses appreciation for their combined 186 years of service. (Seated, l. to r.) Dr. Katherine Jocher, sociology, and Arthur Melville Jordan, education. (Standing, l. to r.) Dr. Gustav T. Schwenning, business administration; Guy B. Phillips, education; Chancellor Aycock; and Dr. W. C. George, professor of anatomy. They will retire this July.

LIBERIA PROPOSES CONGO TRUCE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Liberia today proposed a 60-day general truce in the Congo while leaders of all the country's political factions come to United Nations headquarters for peace talks with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and the Security Council.

Liberian Ambassador George A. Padmore put before the Security Council the suggestion first made by President William Tubman of Liberia.

WEST GERMANY PLEDGES AID

WASHINGTON—West Germany promised President Kennedy Friday to share with the United States and other nations the cost of a long-range aid program for underdeveloped countries.

Extension of the West German aid program—a new step toward easing the overseas drain on U. S. gold and dollars—was announced after a meeting between the President and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

MINE EXPLOSION KILLS SCORES

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — A thousand pounds of dynamite exploded in a gold mine near here today, trapping or killing scores of native miners working deep below ground.

The blast occurred about 8 a.m., shattering heavy wooden shoring in a shaft and causing tons of water to pour into the lower levels of the mine.

FACES CERTAIN DEFEAT

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (UPI) —Retired Gen. James Van Fleet, who led the U.S. Eighth Army in Korea, will defend the Auburndale City Hall in the face of certain defeat Saturday.

Van Fleet was chosen to head City Hall defenders when the building is "attacked" by 100 bearded Confederate soldiers as part of Auburndale's Civil War centennial celebration.

The planners have seen to it that Van Fleet's men won't have a chance.

DELAY GRANTED

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mrs. Katherine Clever, who pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to file a 1954 income tax return, has been granted a delay in sentencing until April 18.

Her attorney explained Thursday that Mrs. Clever operated an accounting business and would be very busy through April 15 processing clients' income tax returns.
