

Sing, Tapping Due April 17

Valkyrie Sing, Carolina's annual skit and singing competition, will be held Monday, April 17, at 7 p.m. in Memorial Hall. The campus musical talent show will be held in conjunction with the tapping of the Golden Fleece.

Entries for the sing will be accepted from any group on the Carolina campus: dormitories, sororities, fraternities, church groups, campus organizations and all eligible groups have already received applications by campus mail. These applications must be returned with an eight-dollar entrance fee by March 8 to Helen McCallum at Carr Dormitory.

Similar to last year's Sing, groups may perform either in the Musical Skit division or the Sing division. Emphasis in the Sing division will be placed this year on the quality of the singing.

In the Skit division, originality, singing and presentation will be the most important factors. However, groups may only spend ten dollars for costumes and props, and an itemized account of expenses must be turned in to the Sing Chairman.

Because there is no major theme for the Sing, groups are urged to use original themes; contrary to the belief of many groups that the theme must tie in with Carolina, the Valkyries have not specified a Carolina theme as a requirement.

A SORORITY SATIRIZES "Y-Court" in a typical Valkyrie Sing production. The annual event is open to all dorms, fraternities, sororities and organizations.

Orientation Interviewing Starts Soon

Interviews for positions on the Campus Orientation Committee will be held Wednesday-Friday, March 1-3, from 2 to 5 p.m. in Roland Parker III.

Application blanks can be obtained now at the information desk of Graham Memorial or at the desk of the Reserve Reading Room in the library.

All blanks are to be turned in at the information desk of GM and applicants are to sign there for interview times.

Al Pollard, chairman of orientation, said that he wished to "emphasize the fact that the success of the entire Orientation Week depends upon the work of the committee in its planning and execution of the program."

WITH STL REPRESENTATIVES, ON-CAMPUS

MARCH 2, 1961

Challenging new problems in the areas of aerodynamics, celestial mechanics, tracking and trajectory analysis, systems simulation, and test evaluation require individuals with more than the usual inclination toward, and qualifications in, computer-oriented mathematics.

Space Technology Laboratories' Computation and Data Reduction Center, located in Southern California, is one of the nation's largest and most advanced computational facilities. Its staff members daily utilize two IBM 7090's and sophisticated data reduction systems to solve problems arising in the Air Force ballistic missile program and space flight studies.

STL offers opportunity for: association with a superior technical staff headed by progressive management; participation in unusually challenging computation and data reduction problems; professional growth; and for advancement within a stimulating and creative environment.

Second Oldest Honorary Amphoterothen Still Exists

Carolina's second oldest honorary organization still exists to honor the thirteen outstanding junior and senior men in the fields of Oratory, Leadership and Service.

This organization is the Amphoterothen Society.

The presiding officer, whose name is kept secret until the tapping each year, it titled the Janus after the ancient double-faced god.

The name Amphoterothen comes from the Greek word meaning two-sided.

The society was founded in the academic year 1912-13, largely due to the initiative of Dr. Joseph Gregoire de Raulhae Hamilton.

Dr. Hamilton had been a member of an oratorical society called Chelidon at the University of the South.

Thinking that the promotion of extemporaneous speaking was worthwhile, he and three outstanding seniors, among them Claude Teague, now Special Assistant to the President of the Consolidated University, founded the Amphoterothen Society for that purpose.

This group of four men decided to initiate thirteen members each year on the basis of oratory, leadership and service.

The meetings of the newly formed group were held every Friday afternoon in the history office of the Old West Building. A leader was chosen alphabetically each week to present an unannounced topic on which each of the members were to speak three minutes without preparation.

In 1947 the Society became inactive after thirty-five years of active existence. In 1951-52, James Wallace and William Poteat, who had been members of the Society when it became inactive, along with Dr. Ernest L. Mackie, selected a group of campus leaders to reactivate the organization.
