Algerian Terror Hits New Height With 27 Killings Daylight Curfew Is Placed On Suburbs

ALGIERS (UPI) — A mob of hundreds of Algerians threw up a road block in an Oran suburb Friday, ambushing and killing occupants of European cars. Thousands of police and soldiers clamped a daylight curfew on Arab suburbs to halt the outburst of violence.

The ambushing caused a wave of fury among Europeans in the west Algerian port city where terror attacks have been running at the rate of about one every 20 minutes in recent days.

The Oran violence capped a day of terrorism in which at least 27 persons were killed and 37 were wounded throughout Algeria. It brought the total casualties since Jan. 1 to 1,043 killed and 1,786 wounded.

The highway leading from Oran to the city airport was the main trouble spot.

Hundreds of Moslems erected a road block with paving stones and attacked all European cars with stones and iron bars.

Most of the ambushed drivers abandoned their cars and fled for their lives. But the mob chased three Europeans and a Moslem to a vacant lot and slit their throats.

Troops and mobile gendarmes rushed to the scene, quickly dispersed the mob and cleared away the barricade. But the Arab bands roamed the area for several hours and authorities finally imposed a curfew to impose calm.

Earlier in the day, a group of more than 100 Algerians broke the pre-dawn curfew and shot up a government office in the same suburb of Oran.

At nearby Sidi Bel Abbes, headquarters of the French Foreign Legion, several hundred Arabs ran riot after a bomb went off in front of a Moslem-owned store.

Indian Governors Hit Menon Group

BOMBAY, India (UPI) — Local leaders of India's governing Congress Party charged Friday the Communists have taken over the election campaign of Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon.

The party leaders sent a message to their central organization and to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru complaining the Communists had moved in and elbowed aside local campaign workers.

Krishna Menon, the Congress Party candidate, faces a hard fight to retain his seat in parliament in the Bombay area balloting. He is opposed by independent candidate Acharya J. B. Kripalani.

Some 17,000 "Vote for Menon" posters were dispatched to Bombay by air from New Delhi Thursday night to give Krishna Menon a boost Sunday—the last polling day in India's 10-day general elections.

ASKS $1 MILLION

Labor Dept. Seeks Farm Job Openings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department asked Congress Friday for more than $1 million to help find farm jobs for unemployed city workers particularly those living in depressed areas.

Robert C. Goodwin, administrator of the bureau of employment security, said his agency planned to recruit the workers in labor surplus areas and in Louisiana and Mississippi. He said large numbers of farm workers are unemployed in these states.

In a statement to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, Goodwin said he hoped the farm placement drive and expanded information gathering activities by the federal bureau and state agencies would reduce employer dependence on Mexican labor.

Rapid mechanization on the farm and shifts in the kinds of crops being produced have produced longer time gaps between jobs for migrant workers, Goodwin said.

The use of farm machinery has upset traditional movements of migratory labor, he said.

"We plan to reschedule the movements of migrant workers to take advantage of the additional unemployment opportunities in crops where the yield and labor requirements are expanding," Goodwin said.

Goodwin indicated the low wages and poor working conditions were the principal barriers to employment of more domestic workers in farm jobs.

Gungus Ho will be twisting to the music of the Catalinas tonight at the CU Day Dance at Woman's College.

Woman's College Plays Host For CU Celebration

The Catalinas will entertain for the CU Day Dance tonight when 3,000 girls at Woman's College play host for Carolina men. The dance will be preceded by an open house in Mendenhall Dorm at 7 p.m.

The IDC and the Communications Committee have been promoting the event in the hopes of establishing a permanent program of dorm parties with WC. The two groups have been co-operating with the Consolidated University Student Council, composed of representatives from Carolina, N. C. State and Woman's College, which sponsors the CU Day activities.

Two buses have been chartered and will leave Y Court for Greensboro at 5:45. The round trip charge for the bus trip will be $1.00 per student. Those students making reservations for their dorm presidents for the bus trip will have preference in seating.

The admissions fee for the dance is $1.00.

Student Party To Survey All Candidates

Monday night at 7:30 the Student Party will hold its regular weekly meeting in Howell Hall. Legislative seats will be filled for the remainder of the present term in the districts of DW II, consisting of Nurses' Dorm, Whitehead, Smith, Carr; DM III, Joyner, Alexander, Conner, Winston; DM IV, Upper Quad; TM III; and TM IV.

The Convention and election information will also be announced Monday. All persons seeking SP endorsement for Spring elections have been asked to be present. Furthermore, prospective candidates have been asked to keep in mind the SP policy of no double endorsements.

The Nominating Convention will be held next Monday and Tuesday nights, March 5 and 6, at Howell Hall. Candidates for President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Student Body will be nominated with part of the legislative candidates Monday. The rest of the 50 legislative candidates will be nominated Tuesday. The 1962-63 platform will also be adopted.

All interested students have been invited to place their names before the party for nomination on March 5 and 6 by SP Chairman Jimmy Weeks.

Turkish Forces Stop Teenage Rebellion

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Calm returned to Turkey Friday after loyal armed forces snuffed out a vest-pocket rebellion by teen-age military cadets. Premier Ismet Inonu told the nation his government was "in full control."

A government announcement said some 8,000 cadets returned to the war school after regular army troops surrounded them and arrested the school commandant, Col. Talat Aydemir and other alleged revolt leaders.

Student Solons Pass Resolution Against N-Tests Legislature Amends Election Laws

The Student Legislature heard a speech by President Bill Harris, passed an atomic testing resolution, amended election district apportionment and revised election laws, bought a duplicating machine and passed several other bills Thursday night.

Student Body President Harris spoke on the election laws, the "Carolina Handbook," dorm social life, and campus improvements.

The first business was Rep. Robin Britt's atomic testing resolution to condemn Russia's last tests, support a U. S. move for a test ban and ask that the U. S. move for a test ban and ask that the U. S. not test unless necessary for national security.

The resolution was hotly debated for over an hour. Arguing both sides, representatives from both parties fought about whether the legislature had the authority to sponsor a resolution or should sponsor one.

The resolution finally passed in a roll call vote—18 for, 15 against, one abstention.

Rep. Bill Criswell's bill to provide a $600 scholarship for a Cuban refugee was debated and then sent back to committee for further examination.

A reapportionment-bill amendment, introduced by Rep. John Randall, to even up district representatives was passed. (Dorm Men's 5, which has about 300 residents, had been given as many representatives as Dorm Men's 2, which has 600 residents.)

Electing NSA delegates in the spring elections instead of appointing them was adopted in a bill sponsored by Rep. Randall.

Appointing the Yack Editor instead of electing him was also passed. Rep. Randall said that since the Yack editors needed technical qualifications, appointment would better assure competent editors.

Rep. Wheelers' bill requiring a finance committee report at every legislative session was passed. He said the Legislature needed to know exactly how much money they had.

The Legislature bought the Student Government a duplicating machine. Rep. Hays sponsored the bill, saying the machine would save time, money and effort. Since the machine prints in several colors, it was named "The Exotic Machine" by Vice-President Hank Patterson.

The Representatives elected by acclamation Rep. Richard A. Kers as their Sergeant-at-Arms and two delegates to the Publications Board—Rep. Dick Stapleton and Rep. Kippy Carter.

In his "State of the Campus" speech, Pres. Harris asked the Legislature to correct the reapportionment bill (which they did) to give equal representation.

He announced the new "Carolina Handbook," explaining that it was a combination of several previous publications. He expressed the hope that the new book would make fall orientation easier and give incoming freshmen a truer picture of Carolina.

Urging the Legislature to improve social facilities for dorm men, he said that this is one of the "areas that needs improving and, sadly enough, is hardest to improve."

He outlined the University's improvement plan and urged continued work for a new student union. He said that the student government is working with Chancellor Aycock and the Administration on a building plan that stretched through 1970.

Several new bills were postponed till the next session. Several committee reports were heard.

Caine Mutiny Shows Tonight

Humphrey Bogart, Jose Ferrer, Van Johnson, Fred MacMurray, Robert Francis and May Wynn star in tonight's Free Flick, "The Caine Mutiny." Produced by Stanley Kramer, "The Caine Mutiny" is based on Herman Wouk's Pulitzer Prize novel and enacts the raw emotions and drama seething beneath the decks of the combat vessel Caine in the Pacific during World War II. Here is the age-old story of men against the sea and man against himself, told with power, with understanding and by superb actors.

Showings will be in Carroll Hall at 7:30 and 9:30 and only students with ID Cards will be admitted.

Glenn Labels Space Travel Habit Forming

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — U. S. spaceman John H. Glenn Jr. said Friday that whirling in orbit around the earth was "a very pleasant sensation that one could become addicted to" and predicted that future space flights will depend more heavily on the man aboard.

"It was quite a day," the suntanned 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel said of the voyage that took him 157 miles into space and 81,000 miles around the globe last Tuesday.

Glenn, newly decorated by President Kennedy and the center of attention from thousands who welcomed him back to the country Friday, painted a dramatic picture of glowing sunsets, sparkling blue oceans and mysterious "space fireflies" — a few of the scores of views he had from his space capsule.

The spaceman also reflected briefly on a fearful moment toward the end of his four hour, 56 minute trip in which it seemed at the time he faced a possibility of flaming death on a blazing re-entry through earth's atmosphere.

A signal from the capsule he named "Friendship 7" indicated its heat shield — a curved piece of metal and plastic designed to protect the spacecraft from the heat of atmospheric friction — had separated from the craft. The signal later proved to be false.

"It could have been a bad day all the way around," Glenn commented.

Enthusiastically Described Flight

The astronaut was enthusiastic in describing most of the three-orbit flight. "I don't know what you can say about four beautiful sunsets in the same day," he said about his favorite view of the trip.

Glenn said that after the space ship had soared more than 100 miles above the earth and entered a state of apparent weightlessness at 17,000 miles an hour, "it was very pleasant. I enjoyed it very much. In fact, it's the sort of thing you could become addicted to."

Glenn said he felt "no ill effects at all" during weightlessness.

He said he tried several head movements very violently but that these too caused no ill effects.

Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov, who orbited the earth 17 times last August, reported later he became ill at about the sixth orbit. Glenn speculated that "probably over an extended period there might be some nausea."

Weightlessness led to some curiosities inside Friendship 7. The astronaut said that at one point he was using a hand camera to make pictures through his viewing window when he had to make a switch change on the instrument panel. He let the camera go and it hovered in the air. "It seemed just like the natural thing to do," he said with a smile. "We all adapt very rapidly to a situation. I suppose." But here gravity also has its problems.

Lost Can Of Film

Glenn recalled that a little can of film fell out of his fingers. "and when I tried to grab it I batted it and it fell behind the instrument panel. That's the last I saw of it."

Glenn had no problem eating from a tube of food which he squirted into his mouth but had to forego one attempt at eating in the orbital flight when he became involved with keeping Friendship 7 from wobbling because of difficulty with its automatic control system.

NASSER LEARNS LESSON

CAIRO (UPI) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser told a mass rally Thursday night that the lesson learned from the breakup of the United Arab Republic was "never to compromise with reactionaries." The rally was held to commemorate the union of Egypt and Syria four years ago.

Folk, Powell Win Goettingen Bids

Michael James Folk and Robert Duane Powell have been selected as Goettingen Scholars for 1962-63, the Goettingen Selections Committee announced yesterday.

The two juniors were selected mainly on the committee's judgment on "how much they can contribute to Goettingen University and to UNC upon their return," committee spokesman John Cline said.

"Both showed keen interest in and good knowledge of the Goettingen exchange program," Cline said. "The two also presented excellent academic records."

Folk has been a member of the track and cross-country teams here for three years and placed fourth in the ACC cross-country standings as a sophomore.

He earns all of his college expenses by working as a computer programmer at the Computation Center. He also holds a student aid scholarship. He held an NROTC scholarship during his freshman year but was disqualified by poor eyesight.

Powell, a physics major from Wilson, is a Morehead Scholar and has qualified for Dean's list three semesters. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma honorary fraternity and Sigma Nu social fraternity.

He has served as chairman of the

GOP Leader Hits Odum Statement

Earl Baker, UNC-YRC president yesterday stated that T. L. Odum's statement regarding justification of the Republican Party's existence in the state is "ridiculous on its face."

"Since the Democratic Party has been entrenched in power in the state for decades," he added, "the state has consistently been at the bottom of the pile in education, teacher benefits and standard of living. High-Tax-Terr's belated program for the highly touted New Day is a tacit admission of this."

Baker noted that the up-coming debate between the YRC and YDC will probably touch on these issues. The debate is on Wednesday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 in the Law School Courtroom, 210 Manning.

Probable debaters for the YRC will be Earl Baker and Mack Armstrong; for the YDC, Johnny Killian and Joe Roberts.

Odum said Baker's statement "typified the usual gripe, gripe, gripe of Republicans in this state." He added, "When Republicans in this state can show us that they could have done a better job, I will eat a pair of donkey's ears."

The debate topic will be, "Resolved: That the one party system in North Carolina has been detrimental to the best interests of the citizens and the state."

Khrushchev Makes New Bid For March Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan were preparing Friday to tell Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that no amount of propaganda would force them into a summit conference at the opening of next month's Geneva disarmament talks.

Officials here and in London said the Western leaders would reply within the next day or two to a lengthy and somewhat truculent note which they received from Khrushchev Thursday.

In the 2,500-word note, Khrushchev renewed his bid for a March summit meeting, and questioned Kennedy's sincerity in going ahead with disarmament conference plans at a time when, according to press reports, the United States was preparing to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

Officials made clear that the U. S. and British governments will reject the new Soviet demand for a top-level meeting, and will stand firm on their previous assertion that the 18-nation disarmament talks in Geneva should begin March 14 on the foreign ministers level, with a summit gathering possible later if progress warrants.

U. S. officials said Khrushchev may be maneuvering to sabotage the entire disarmament conference if President Kennedy, as expected, announces early in March his decision to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

At the minimum, they said, Khrushchev is trying to build up world pressure against resumption of U. S. testing, and to extract as much propaganda advantage as possible from the expected Kennedy decision.

Kennedy has said that nothing will influence his decision on renewed testing except the results of a study which U. S. experts are now completing of the Soviet nuclear tests last autumn.

Campus Briefs

"Is There A Christian Philosophy of History?" will be the topic of a talk by Father John A. Weidinger, Ph.D., to the Newman Club Sunday night. The meeting begins with supper at 5:30.

Graham Memorial will present Odetta at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Memorial Hall. The concert will be free to all UNC students upon the presentation of ID cards. Spouses will be admitted for $1.

All Carolina students interested in forming a coed Caving-Climbing Club are invited to attend a dinner meeting at 5:30 p.m. Monday in the middle upstairs room of Lenoir Hall. Persons unable to attend this meeting may contact David Danzler at 406 Mangum.

The Student Party will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Howell Hall. A program is planned and several legislative seats will be filled.

Graham Memorial will sponsor a 7 week course in bridge starting March 1. Anyone interested may sign up at the information desk in GM. There will be no charge for the lessons.

A bus driver is needed today from 5:45 to 1 a.m. There will be pay. Call 968-9055 and ask for Owen Bishop or Ralph Mosely.

UP Chairman Bill Criswell announces that anyone interested in joining the University Party may do so between the hours of 2 and 6 p.m., today and Sunday at the UP headquarters in the Yack office. GM. The UP will hold a convention Monday at 7 in Memorial Hall.

Both graduated and undergraduate students are invited to participate in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament which will be held in Roland Parker Lounges 2 and 3 at GM Sunday.

February 25 at 2 p.m. Partnership reservations must be made in advance by signing up at the GM Information Desk or calling Ray Weisen at 968-6163.
