

MRC Joins National Association

First Southern School In Assn.

By PETE WALES

UNC has become the first university in the South to join the National Association of College and University Residence Halls.

The Men's Residence Council voted last week to join the organization founded last year at the University of Denver.

"This organization is strictly non-political," MRC President Gerry Good said. "It is not like NSA."

"This organization was started solely for students. It will deal with problems related to their lives and living quarters on the campus."

Good listed problems of construction, state aid, social life, counseling and management as concerns of the association.

The organization now consists of 250,000 students from 33 schools. Most of the members are in the Midwest.

The MRC will send Good with the president-elect and the vice-president-elect to a conference of eastern members at Penn State April 10.

UNC will also send delegates to the national convention April 25 at the University of Denver.

Meanwhile, the MRC plans to try recruiting other schools in the southeast. Good is optimistic about getting more members because of the non-political nature of the organization. Southern schools have long ignored organizations such as NSA because of their liberal political orientations.

The two conventions will meet to discuss problems and share information on their solution.

The national office issues a monthly newsletter and maintains an information service. It also publishes an annual report on the national conference.

The association sponsors an internship program organized similar to a student exchange. Students and recent graduates go to a different college or university.

Student Party Holds Panel Discussion

The student's role in civil rights will be the topic of a panel discussion in tonight's Student Party meeting in 08 Peabody Hall at 7:30.

Mike Lawler, student body president; Dr. Robert Sitton, professor of philosophy; Ray Farris, graduate economics student and former senior class president; and Father Robert Wilkin, Catholic student chaplain, will be on the panel.

They will consider seven areas of student participation:

- 1) Discrimination in education
- 2) Discrimination in hospitals
- 3) Unemployment
- 4) Employment of faculty members
- 5) Recruitment of Negro athletes
- 6) Inequalities in wage scales for university employees.

The room holds about 150, according to Paul Dickson, SP chairman.

"The public is invited, but Party members will be given priority in seating," Dickson said.

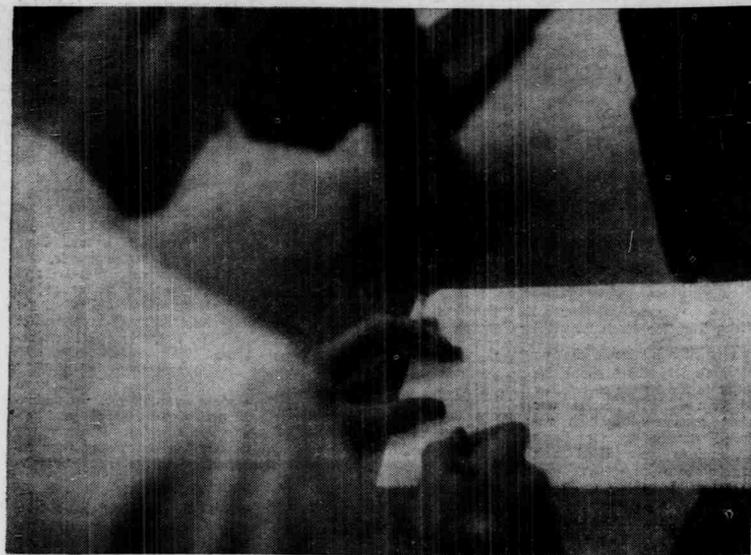

In other business, a new sergeant-at-arms will be elected.

Pacifist Speaker At Peabody Tonite

Annalee Stewart, legislative secretary for the U.S. section of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, will speak tonight at 8 in 010 Peabody Hall. Her subject is "Peace and Human Rights by 1970—With or Without People."

The public meeting is being co-sponsored by campus organizations CCUN, YMCA and YWCA, the local Friends Meeting, United World Federalists and the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Stewart, a Methodist minister herself, is married to a Methodist minister, Dr. Alexander Stewart. She has worked as a lobbyist in Washington for many years and has traveled widely in Europe and the Middle East. In November, 1961, Mrs. Ste-

FLUNK? Anyone afraid they might fail the Peace Corps' placement test currently being given here can forget it. There is no passing or failing score according to Corps officials. The "test," used to measure aptitude and in placement, is only part of a larger process including experience, academic records and references. No special preparation is needed to take the test. ## UN Intern Program Is Announced

By DICK SMITH

Graduate School Dean Hugh Holman announced yesterday that for the third summer UNC will have an intern program at United Nations.

Three graduate students will be selected to work in the U.N. Secretariat for a ten-week period beginning July 5. Each will receive a $750 stipend to cover travel to and from New York and living expenses there. The program is being financed by the Institute of International Order of New York. Other participants are Yale University and Antioch College.

Professor Thomas Hovet of New York University, a specialist in U.N. affairs, will serve as advisor to the interns while they are in New York and will help arrange special discussions and interviews with senior U.N. officials.

The interns will be selected by an interdepartmental committee headed by Professor Andrew Scott of the Political Science Department. Selection will be based on interest, academic achievement and preparation. Dean Holman said that U.N. officials have expressed an interest in having one of the UNC interns a native of a foreign country.

Application blanks are available from Mrs. Ritchey, room 101 Caldwell Hall, and must be returned there by March 16.

Carroll Hall from 7 to 9 p.m.

The first film, "Goblin on the Doorstep," portrays the Navy's submarine defensive might and shows the latest in anti-submarine warfare.

"Blue Angels" shows the Navy's famed precision flying team. The last film, "Wings of Gold," tells the story of the educational process of becoming a Navy pilot.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONITE

A three point program dealing with the local racial situation will be discussed tonight when the Committee of One Hundred meets at 7:30 in the Hillel House.

The Committee will discuss raising money to test the proposed amendment to the Chapel Hill picket ordinance; writing letters to the public informing them of the local racial situation; and the possibility of picketing segregated Chapel Hill establishments.

Allen Reddick, spokesman for the Committee, said the meeting will be open to all interested adults.

DEVIL OR ANGEL?

The newly elected officers of the UNC Angel Flight, AFROT, are Jean Fox, Commander, Ann Moody, Executive Officer, Betty Jean Kirckdorfer, Comptroller, Deanna Darr, Assistant Administrative Officer, Patty Quillan, Information Services Officer, Sparky Sedlacek, Chaplain, and Curry Kirkpatrick, Chaperon.

Talent Show Duets

Tickets for the Freshman Talent Show this Friday night are now on sale from members of the class, Y-Court and at the Information Desk of Graham Memorial.

The show will feature Ray Stansbury, the grocer from Hillsboro and the first candidate for governor. Stansbury will bring his hand and give a commentary on the local political scene.

Also on the program is a skit featuring faculty members, including Dean Katherine "Lady Beale" Carmichael. Tickets are 75c stag and $1 for couples.

Committees Compromise On Pickets

By JIM CLOFFELTER

In The Durham Herald The Human Relations Committee and a group opposing the Board of Aldermen's ban on night picketing both have made concessions this week in hopes of ending a dispute neither side wants.

The committee has conceded that picketing should be allowed later than 7 p.m., the cutoff time set by the aldermen last week.

The anti-restriction group has conceded that some restriction on time can be made.

In Judiciary Committee Compromise Is Seen On New Election Date

By JOHN GREENBACKER

A compromise on the spring election date was made by officials of both parties at a meeting of student government's Judiciary Committee yesterday. April 14, the date originally recommended by the Elections

Board as being most convenient, was confirmed as the best by committee members and the chairmen of both University and Student Parties.

Controversy over the date began Feb. 6 when Legislature voted to set the elections for March 24.

On Feb. 1, a SP motion to rescind the March 24 date was defeated when Speaker Bob Spearman broke a tie to vote against it.

Last Thursday another SP motion to rescind was passed by an easy majority, and the election date was changed to April 21.

University Party leaders, unhappy over the new date, issued various charges against the SP.

When Phil Baddour, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, proposed the committee take up changes in the election laws and asked representatives of interested groups to attend yesterday's meeting, UP Floor Leader Don Carson said, "I hope that the SP bosses will rise above partisan considerations in the best interests of the student body."

When the problems of scheduling the Symposium, the Mock Political Convention and the DTH publication dates were added to the problems arising from the change of administration, all attending the meeting agreed the Elections Board's suggestion of April 14 should be accepted.

Proclaiming Student Legislature's actions of the last few weeks on this matter as "looking ridiculous," Baddour said Elections Board Chairman Arthur Hays had the right to say, "I told you so."

The date should be officially changed at the next meeting of the Legislature.

Rent Referendum Passed By MRC For Next Election

A referendum to raise room rents $30 a semester to pay for the intramural managers program has been passed by the Men's Residence Council and will be voted on by students in April.

The program, as it now stands, was initiated this fall by Vice-President Bob Spearman. Student Government pays half the funds required and the administration pays the rest.

The rent increase will bring in $2,250.00, half the cost of paying the intramural managers for one year.

If the students vote for the referendum and the administration consents to continue paying their half, the program will become permanent.

A report issued by Spearman and MRC President Gerry Good shows an increase since last year of 153 teams in residence hall

ChiO Makes Statement On Initiation Banquet

Chi Omega sorority yesterday answered charges made by DTH editors Gary Blanchard and Dave

Ethridge that they had "done a disservice to student government."

The sorority issued its statement after a news story appeared in yesterday's newspaper reporting the picketing of the sorority at the Pines Restaurant on highway 54. The restaurant is on the list of segregated establishments which the student body has been urged to boycott by President Mike Lawler and the Student Legislature.

The newspaper carried an editorial titled, "But It Would Have Been Inconvenient," citing reasons why the sorority should not have held their banquet at the Pines.

In the statement, the sorority said that it "regrets that its recent dinner for initiates had been interpreted as disregard of university policy or of what is claimed to be student government policy."

"Our social activities are planned long in advance. The possible places and dates for a dinner for 65 are limited and cannot be changed on the spur of the moment."

"In proceeding with this dinner as planned, we have violated neither university or student government regulations."

Papers At 4 Ill. Schools Censored

CHAMPAIGN, Ill (CPS) — The student newspapers at the four Illinois state teachers' universities will have all copy censored by a faculty appointee in the future.

The announcement of the policy was made Monday by the Illinois Teachers College Board, which regulates policy for Illinois State University at Normal, Eastern Illinois University, Western Illinois University and Northern Illinois University.

The policy states in part, "a competent faculty sponsor shall have the right to examine all copy presented for publication, including headlines, and shall be authorized to correct and edit copy to meet the standards of accuracy and good usage and finally, he shall scan proofs of each page of type and have the authority usually vested in the director of a privately owned publication of general circulation."

The action apparently resulted from the dismissal several weeks ago of John Woods, student editor of the Eastern State News. He tried to print an article which allegedly would have been libelous.

Connie Schneider, who has been named to succeed Woods, said the new policy could curtail the student editors of the paper.

"The faculty adviser is, in effect, the editor if he desires," she said.

Royal A. Stipes, head of the board, said Monday night the policy does not amount to any censorship. According to him, each university always has had a policy similar to this, but the board never has formalized it before.

The statement emphasized that the policy only "reaffirms and formally states" the regulation.

Quincy Doudna, president of Eastern Illinois University, said after the meeting Monday, that the policy "does not in any way change existing policy at Eastern Illinois University."

Woods said that Eastern has always had the power to suppress news in the paper, but that it has never exercised its authority before.

Kenneth Hesler, adviser to the Eastern State News, said Eastern's policy regarding student publications is consistent with the board's announced policy. "I foresee no changes, or plan no changes, in my practice or duties as a result of the board policy," he said.

The board's resolution stated:

"All campus publications (of the four universities) are a part of the university functions and are responsible to the university authority, which in turn is responsible for them to the Teachers College Board and the State of Illinois."

"The university administration is accountable . . . for the management and content of all university publication . . ."

"The fullest freedom of expression, in university publications, should be encouraged, but all such expressions must meet the tests of truth, fairness and judgment, as well as acceptable journalistic standards. The same rules relating to factual content, libel and judicious expression of opinion that apply to publications generally must also be applied to university publications."

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

I Love You, Yeah, Yeah, Yeah!

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — A government committee expressed doubts Tuesday on the advisability of an Israeli tour by the British quartet, the Beatles, after reports of riotous scenes by U.S. teen-agers.

The committee, which must approve their payment of performing artists in foreign currency, said the Beatles have tentatively booked an Israeli tour for next summer but that a sounding of public opinion will be made before they are contracted.

29 Decide They Like US Better

VIENNA (UPI) — Twenty-nine East Europeans defected to the West during the recent Winter Olympics in Innsbruck, an Austrian government official said Tuesday.

He said the defectors visited the games in Innsbruck as spectators, then asked Austrian authorities for political asylum.

The defectors included 14 Hungarians, 12 Czechs, 2 Poles and 1 East German, the spokesman said.

Would You Please Pass The No-Doze?

HAMINA, Finland (UPI) — A non-sleeping Finn who claims he hasn't dozed off for the past two weeks challenged three Canadians Tuesday to match his record.

The sleepless Finn, crane operator Tiomi Silvo, 51, learned in a telephone conversation with a Helsinki newspaper that three Canadians had entered the contest.

Silvo proposed that the four get together.

"I challenge my three Canadian colleagues to a sleeplessness contest," said Silvo.

"The only condition is that we all keep awake in similar circumstances. Either they come to Finland or I go to Canada."

Dodo Bird And Silver Dollar Similar?

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — The silver dollar, which has been wearing out pants pockets in Nevada since statehood was granted during the Civil War, may be going the way of the dodo bird.

This bit of shocking news to Nevadans, who are used to going around with a couple of pounds of "change" in their pockets, was announced by

"I'm sure that someone else — not me — falls asleep first."

Silvo had passed the 14-day mark at 4 a.m. Tuesday, when he heard of the competition.

"I've just eaten a lot of potatoes and bread," he said, "and I've got strength enough to go on."

"I've got to keep awake for the Fatherland."

Silvo plans to keep going until Saturday, when he will have been awake 18 days. But he appeared to be getting weary, and there were doubts that he would hold out long.

He has, however, already remained awake longer than others who had been indulging in the pastime in recent months.

someone who should know—Eva Adams, director of the U.S. Mint.

Miss Adams, speaking like the true Nevada she is, offered "eight-to-five-odds" that a congressional committee presently considering further manufacture of the famed "cartwheels" won't approve further minting of them.

Keep Them Cold Icy Fingers Off Of Me

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviets dashed cold water Tuesday on President Johnson's proposal for a freeze on missile production but stopped short of rejecting it outright.

Instead, they returned to their old demand that all missiles be destroyed in the first stage of any disarmament program except for an unspecified number strictly limited to defense.

Canadian disarmament negotiator Gen. E. L. M. Burns told the 17-nation disarmament conference this would be like "buying a pig in a poke."

Tax Bill Nears The Final Stages

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate negotiators hastened to complete work Tuesday on a compromise tax cut bill and clear it for quick final congressional passage.

The compromise form of the priority bill, cornerstone of President Johnson's good-times ahead economic policies, was being hammered out by a House-Senate conference committee in closed-door bargaining sessions.

If passed by both chambers this week, as backers hope, and signed by the President, millions of American wage earners will feel the impact in slightly higher paychecks the first week in March.

The bill provides top-to-bottom cuts in all tax brackets for 51 million taxpayers, and does out a net $2.4 billion in extra relief to 576,000 corporations. Two-thirds of the tax reductions will be effective this election year.

IT'S DANCE TIME

Learn to dance—cheap. For only two bits (that's 25-cents) a lesson, you can learn to cha-cha, foxtrot, bossanova and tango. The small charge is needed to pay the instructor, who charges $7.50 an hour to teach.

The lessons will be given each Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. That is, each Thursday night from March 5 to April 30. So save your money. The instructor needs his $7.50 an hour.
