Founded Feb. 23, 1893

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1964

United Press International Service

Boycott Is Bi-Partisan

Social Room Project Goes To Joyner

Carson Announces Choice At Meeting

Joyner Residence Hall has been selected as the site for Student Government's social room "pilot project."

Den Carson, co-chairman of the Residence Hall Improvement Committee, made the announcement at a meeting of the residence hall last night.

The project will cost about $3,000, and will include wall-towall carpeting, new furniture and new lamps. It will be completed by April 15.

The project will cost about $3,000, and will include wall-towall carpeting, new furniture and new lamps. It will be completed by April 15.

The project was originally scheduled for a hall in the upper or lower quad, but this would have involved preempting a three-man room. The anticipated overcrowding next year made this impossible at the present time.

In making the announcement, Carson cited the cooperation of the administration, especially Chancellor William B. Aycock and Business Manager J. A.

"It should be emphasized," Carson said, "that this project is by no means a philanthropy in behalf of Joyner. The residents will have the tremendous responsibility of properly using and caring for the room, and ilts condition depends upon whether or not the Adminuistration will be willing to use funds for other residence halls in the future."

CAREERS

"Careers for Carolina," a program designed to give UNC students aware of the opoprtunities of public service, will start operations Friday. The one-day program, to be held March 6, is open to 25 freshmen, 50 sophomores and 25 iuniors. It is on a first-come, first-served basis.

Friday will be the first day for sign-up.

Quarterly Owes

The Carolina Quarterly will not receive a subsidy next year from Student Government's budget unless more interest is shown in the publication, budget committee chairman Dick Akers said yesterday.

The Quarterly showed a loss of $205 last year after it was allotted $1755 in the budget. This year it received $1905, but Akers reported the magazine expects to double its losses. "The Quarterly is behind schedule in publication and down in its number of advertisements," Akers said. He attributed the difficulty to "a general lack of interest on campus and among the Quarterly staff.

"We hope by taking away the money, interest in the magazine will revive," he said. "If a revival of interest occurs, then Student Legislature can allot them more money; they have from now until May to do so."

By JOHN GREENBACKER

Leaders of both campus political parties signed a statement yesterday concerning the civil rights situation in Chapel Hill.

The statement, initiated by Student Party Chairman Paul Dickson and Student Body Vice President Bob Spearman, was sent to the Editors of the DTH. The statement reads:

"We the undersigned members of Carolina's oldest and leading political parties feel that it is our responsibility to take a stand on the present civil rights situation in Chapel Hill.

"The racial situation in Chapel Hill is of such pressing importance that we feel it imperative that students take meaningful and effective action.

"We feel that the recent form of civil disobedience in Chapel Hill is not rational, it is not effective and it has served to increase high tensions in the entire community.

"In the past, Student Government has been active in securing equal opportunities for all students by promoting the integration of Kenan Stadium and urging the integration of the downtown theaters.

"We recognize that at the present time business establishments have the legal right to choose their clientele. So may the students legally choose to patronize the businesses whose policies they wish to support.

"We feel the situation is akin to that of a manufacturer who exploits child labor in the absence of regulatory legislation. It is his legal right to do so; however, it is our right and responsibility not to support those businesses of which we disap-"We note that the majority of the businesses in Chapel Hill (Continued on Page 3)

By HUGH STEVENS

The old Sadie Hawkins custom of "girl gets boy" will be in effect this week on the Carolina

The Inter-Class Council will sponsor a Leap Year Dance Friday night following the freshman basketball game, and it's permissible (though not mandatory) for the girls to ask the

for the dance, which will be held in the Women's Gym from 8:30 to 12:30. Admission will be $1

"We thought the girls should have an opportunity to get their dates for a change," a spokesman for the council said. "Besides, why not let them bear the

The spokesman, a male, wished to remain anonymous. He did say, however, that it was still perfectly permissible for boys to get dates "if they think the girls aren't going to ask

The sponsoring organization, the Inter-Class Council, is composed of certain officers of the four classes. Its main functions are to co-ordinate class activities to prevent conflicts and to assume responsibility for projects too large for the individual

Woody Harrison, who is cur- ing.

expense for once?"

The Fabulous Five will play campus-sort of.

per couple.

Leap Year Dance

Is This Weekend

Capias Is Issued For Dunne, Profs

John Dunne, chairman of the Chapel Hill Freedom Committee, and five Duke University professors were arrested yesterday when they failed to appear in Orange County Superior Court. However, the charges were later dropped by Judge C. W. Hall when the six paid $4, the cost of issuing the capias.

Hall also issued a capias for 15 other persons who failed to appear in court. The Orange County Sheriff's Department has not been able to locate the 15.

The arrests and subsequent releases came on the heels of complaints from local civil rights leaders who say the court cases have not been individually dock-

Rights leaders say that many students are missing valuable classroom time because they have to be in court whether or not their cases are scheduled.

Pat Cusick, member of the local Freedom Committee, said an attempt would be made to have presiding Judge Raymond Mallard draw up a specific calendar showing when each of the cases is scheduled.

FILM SOCIETY FOLDS

Due to poor ticket sales, the University Film Society has been forced to cancel its 1964 spring

Ticket refunds may be secured at Graham Memorial or by calling rently heading the organization, said this week's dance is designed to lead to greater cooperation between the classes in eral other projects, including a Faculty-Student gathering with discussion topics, an information service concerning the various departments of the University, and an Inter-Class calendar of

He also announced that the four classes would share the expense of Friday's dance, and that each class had assumed the responsibility of certain ele-

"We feel that this dance will do a lot to promote better class relations," Harrison concluded.

"So far they have divided the responsibilities well, and we feel certain that the dance will be a good one, especially with a combo

SSL DELEGATION

year's State Student Legislature will meet today at 5 p.m.

in Roland Parker III to finalize transportation plans for delegates and alternates. Dates of the session are tomorrow through Saturday in Raleigh.

Everyone who plans to attend is required to come to the meet-

The UNC delegation to this like the Febulous Five."

events," Harrison said.

ments of the project.

"We are also working on sev-the future.

Cusick said that some of the students may flunk out of school if they miss many classes. However, if they don't show up for court, they risk forfeit of bond and possible contempt of court

Stop!

Bar the doors! That's exactly what the UNC administration may have to do soon, as the applications for admission to these hallowed halls are flooding into South Building at a record rate.

"We just don't have enough dormitory space," President William Friday said Monday. "And the problem is going to get

"Many qualified students are not going to be admitted."

As of this weekend, some 10,500 applications had been filed, and the Office of Admissions expected another six thousand. Only 4,000 places are available. The University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNC-G) is experiencing similar difficulties, with applications running well above 20 per cent higher than last year.

The Raleigh branch (UNC-R) figure is 18 per cent above last

The UNC president made it clear that North Carolina students would have a "clear priority" over those from out of state as in the past. "We intend to continue this policy of admitting North Carolina residents," he said, "but it will be contingent on expansion of facilities and aditional personnel commensurate with growth."

He also made it clear, however, that all applicants could not be accepted.

"It is clear that the university will not be able to accept all applicants," he said, "including some who stand above minimum requirements for admission based on class standing and college board scores. We do not have the necessary class rooms, dormitory or laboratory space to accommodate all applicants. We fear this problem will worsen in the next several years."

Friday pointed out "the urgent need to get on with the job of establishing more comprehensive community colleges in our cities and counties." He also cited the need for expansion to four-year institutions the colleges at Asheville, Charlotte and Wilmington, along with the encouragement of the growth and expansion of church-related and private insti-

New Veeps Announced By Trustees

Weaver And King Get Top Posts

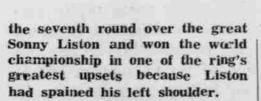

RALEIGH (UPI)-Changes in administrative positions and praise for a trustee were among action taken Monday by trustees of the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

Roy Rowe, recently elected president of the Association of Governing Boards, a national organization of colleges and universities, was praised in a resolution passed by the trustees.

Fred Weaver was approved as vice president of administration and Dr. Aronld K. King as vice president for institutional studies at the request of UNC President William C. Friday. Weaver and King officially take over their new positions on March 1. In other action, the trustees changed the position of vice president of graduate studies and research to vice president for academic affairs. The trustees went into executive session to select this year's winner of the O. Max Gardner Award, presented annually to the UNC faculty member who has done the most for humanity. I couraged to come.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) -

Unbeaten young Cassius Clay proved Tuesday night that his mitts were as mighty as his mouth when he scored a TKO in

Bond Appointed

Handbook Editor

For Coming Year

Van Lear, Lancaster

Carolyn Bond, a senior from Lumberton, is the newly appointed editor of the Carolina Hand-

A Junior transfer from Peace

College where she was editor of the college newspaper, a member of Theta Kappa Junior College

Honorary Society and Outstanding

Senior, she has been active at

Carolina as a member of the State

Affairs Committee, an officer in the Student National Education

Association and as an orientation

The Publications Board announced its selection after interviews

Carolyn Bond

Other appointments went to Murray Van Lear, a junior from Roanoke, Va., who will be business manager for the Handbook;

and to Martin Lancaster, a third year pre-law student from Golds-

The Carolina Handbook is the freshman orientation guide which is edited in the spring and sent to all incoming students in the Interviews for positions on the staff will be held in the Publications Office on the second floor of Graham Memorial Thursday and Friday from 4-5 p.m. Positions will be open for section editors, copy writers, ad salesmen, layout assistants, and photographers.

All interested students are en-summer.

poro, who will be lay-out editor.

were held last Friday.

Counselor.

Also Gain Posts

Am The King!'

A Wet, Slushy Mixture Of Rain And Snow Covers The Ground In Chapel Hill

Clay came dancing out into the bell rang for the seventh round. Watching across the ring, he apparently realized that Liston was unable to continue.

Then referee Barney Fleix signalled the fight was over.

In his corner, Liston, suffering the first knockout of his career, said, "I just couldn't go on. I was hit in the first round and it kept getting worse all the time."

Clay, a 7-1 underdog, amazed the 8,000 fans in the Miami Beach Convention Hall by not only weathering the champion's heaviest punches but by giving him a boxing lesson in some of the rounds.

Bernard Off To Africa

University of North Carolina's Director of Admissions left yesterday for Africa.

Charles Bernard will interview Africa students who are candidates for scholarships to United States universities under the African scholarship program of American universities.

Bernard is one of 10 U.S. educational administrators serving as members of committees screening candidates for the scholarship awards this year. He will interview students in Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Swaziland, Bechuananland and Basuto.

Lincoln High Won't Admit 2 Walkouts

The Chapel Hill School Board refused to readmit two Negro students expelled from Lincoln High School following a walkout. The students were protesting racial discrimination within the school system.

The board left any further decision on readmission of these students to Dr. Howard E. Thompson, superintendent of Chapel Hill schools. The decision came after Thompson told the Board, "If the boys are admitted through a motion by the Board, I will resign.'

Thompson, in a statement to the DTH said that the decision was outside the jurisdiction of the Board. "I feel," Thompson said, "the decision is not in the area with which the Board is concerned.

"It is clearly an administrative matter. That is what they hried me for when they hired a superintendent."

Dr. Thompson said the other participants in the boycott are being allowed to return to school and to make up the work they have missed. Dr. Thompson said these students had not been expelled as had the other two.

Butner Hospital Benefits From Campus Chest Dollars

One thousand six hundred men- state an average of $150,000 per tally retarded patients at the Murdoch Center in Butner will be aided by Campus Chest

This institute is one of four such state supported centers in North Carolina and the cost of running these centers is about $1800 per patient each year. The most any parents pay for this care is $60 a month, and most parents do not pay anything.

Donations received from or-Chest are used to buy chemicals, hands, supplies, and small equipment for the laboratories. In the last year researchers at Murdoch have discovered another of the causes of mental illness, but have not yet found its cure.

One of the causes of mental illness for which a cure is known is phenylketenuria. Testing a baby for this in the first both. few weeks of his life costs less than 50c and a special diet can prevent mental illness from this cause. Caring for patients in whom the disease was not discovered early enough costs the of their own environment."

patient.

The "children" at Murdoch are six years old and up. They live at the Center, although some of them go home for weekends or vacations.

Many of the patients have I.Q.'s between 60 and 70. Each year from six to 12 of this group are able to leave the center and find work. One now works as a beautician's assistant, another helps on the staff at Murdoch ganizations such as Campus and many are employed as farm

Many of the children are physically, as well as mentally, handicapped. When Miss Ann Cleary, a physical therapist, first came to Murdoch over two years ago, many of her patients were literally on the floor. Today most of these children can walk or use a wheel chair, or

These children learn to paint, to sew, and to spell. They know where to find their blocks, books, and musical instruments. They are taugit "to become masters

-Photo by Jim Wallace.

IFC Elects Martin

Ned Martin, a junior from Chapel Hill, has been elected president of the Interfraternity Council.

Martin, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was elected at a meeting of the IFC last night. Other officers include George Wainwright, vice-president; Wade Logan, secretary; and Borden Parker, treasurer, Frank Martin was elected Rush Chair-

Elected to the IFC Court were Warren Price, Olin McKenzie, Tom Baysden, Claude Freeman and Alex Sarratt,

Folk Concert

Phi Mu Alpha wil sponsor "A Folk Concert" Friday at 8 p.m. to raise funds for a music scholarship in memory of James Michael Barham. The concert is at Memorial Hall.

Members of the local chapter believe that this concert will further the first purpose of their fraternity: advance the cause of music in America.

Tickets are $1.

Fund Gets $112

Two student wives headed the 'Double-V Wives for Longer Lives" last Sunday, Heart Sunday, in a UK-to-UK, apartmentto - apartment, barracks-to-barracks canvass in Victory Village for the Heart Fund. Linda Miller and Linda Lankford, co-chairmen, reported contributions totalling $112.78 to support the programs of the North Carolina and American Heart Associations. Volunteers who participated in the Victory Village canvass were Nancy Aiuto, Mary Ann Betke, Brenda Brennaman, Betty Dayton, Jan Drapalik, Jo Ann Hudson, Jean Moore, Melva Parlier, Mary Parrish, Lois Roberson and Martha Roberts.

"Any persons who were not at home when the volunteer came by may wish to send a contribution to the Heart Fund in the envelope left by the worker." Mrs. Miller said.

Two Are Honored

The Senior Class Scholarship Committee has recognized two seniors for their outstanding scholastic achievement in their respective majors.

Elizabeth Jane Fillard of Blacksburg, Virginia, has the highest scholastic average in the School of Education. She is a math major who finished her practice teaching last semester in Charlotte. After graduation she plans to teach math in a Martinsville, Virginia, high school, Miss Fillard has been the treasurer of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. an orientation counselor and a member of the University Party.

Recognition was also given to former banker Robert L. Cherry of Chapel Hill. Cherry, 56, has the (Continued on Page 3)

No, all these people aren't lined up in front of Graham Memorial to complain to the editors

It the Daily Tar Heel, they're just waiting patiently for a chance to buy tickets to the Chad Mitchell Trio concert next Wednesday at 8 p.m. Don't rush, the concert's already sold out.

-Photo by Jeffrey Dick