After what I thought was a bad start, I had almost given up the idea of becoming a great prognosticator until I looked at Sports Illustrated and found that they hit only eight of 20 games.

Wake Forest, Air Force and Boston College ruined my week last Saturday but I finished with 16 right, five wrong and the USC-Dook tie for a .762 percentage. So here are this week's guesses.

VIRGINIA at DUKE—The Dukes or the Cavaliers didn't play up to their potential last week. Scotty Glacken and Mike Curtis should best Bob Davis in a real battle. Duke, by 9.

CLEMSON at STATE—The Wolfpack will not be able to get up for this one. Clemson is still smarting from last year's upset. Clemson, by 15.

WAKE FOREST at VIRGINIA TECH—Wake surprised everyone last week, but they can't keep pulling rabbits out of the hat. VPI, by 6.

SOUTH CAROLINA at MARYLAND—The Terps will be without their two top quarterbacks and top runner. South Carolina has moved into the conference dark horse role. South Carolina, by 3.

BOSTON COLLEGE at ARMY—After upsetting Syracuse last week, the Eagles' luck is scheduled to run out. Paul Dietzel could have the best team in the East. Army, by 12.

KANSAS at SYRACUSE—The Big Orange is still smarting from last week's upset. Their big line will stop Gale Sayers. Syracuse, by 1.

Jimmy Sidle Runs Wild

AUBURN at TENNESSEE—Jimmy Sidle runs wild. Auburn, by 25.

MIAMI at GEORGIA TECH—The Hurricanes did not come through for me last week so I give up on them. Tech, by 20.

VANDERBILT at GEORGIA—Vanderbilt has their best team in years. Georgia doesn't. Vandy, by 1.

NOTRE DAME at WISCONSIN—Ara Paraseghian opens his Notre Dame career, but unless he's a magician—Wisconsin, by 3.

SOUTHERN CAL at OKLAHOMA—Oklahoma was not impressive while beating Maryland. Southern Cal pulls off an upset. Southern Cal, by 3.

LOUISIANA STATE at RICE—The Tigers have always had trouble with Jess Neely's team. Another upset. Rice, by 6.

ILLINOIS at CALIFORNIA—Craig Morton gives the Illini a fit, but—Illinois, by 5.

PITTSBURGH at OREGON—Fred Mazurek comes back after a poor game against UCLA. Pitt, by 10.

PENN STATE at UCLA—The Uclans make it two in a row over Pennsylvania teams. UCLA, by 2.

Mississippi over Kentucky.
Alabama over Tulane.
Slippery Rock over Edinboro State.
Florida over Mississippi State.
Indiana over Northwestern.

Frosh Topple Terps, 20-14

By ALEX KAPLAN

Tim Karrs threw two touch-down passes and piloted a drive that led to a third tally as Carolina's Tar Babies handed a 20-14 defeat to the Maryland Baby Terps in the season's opener yesterday.

The frosh quarterback hit tackle Darrell Wright with a five yarder on a tackle-eligible play and later hit Charles Carr on a beautifully executed pass play covering 34 yards.

From the start of the game it looked like Maryland would win easily. Taking the opening kickoff the Terps behind Jimmy Van Heusen marched down to the Carolina eleven yard line. The drive was halted by illegal procedure and clipping penalties.

The Terps got the ball right back when Tom Masino fumbled. Again the Terps moved the ball well on roll outs by Van Heusen and the powerful running full-back Art Brzostowski. Another penalty slowed the drive and Carolina was able to hold.

Maryland had another good chance to score in the first half. The Terps moved from their own 26 down to the Carolina nine. The mainstays of the drive were two fine running backs, Ernie Torain and Tom Burger. This attempt also failed and the half ended with no score. Statistics show how completely Maryland dominated the first half. The Terps had 11 first downs, 150 yards rushing, six yards passing for 156 total yards. The Tar Babies ran for an enemy 23 yards, passed for 48 yards for 71 yards total offense. Maryland ran an amazing 47 plays to only 20 for the frosh.

The second half began as a rerun of the first half. The Terps stopped a Carolina drive and finally scored on a quarterback keep by Van Heusen from the three. The kick was wide and Maryland led 6-0.

After the score the Tar Babies seemed to come alive. With Karrs at the helm, doing some fine running and passing, the frosh scored. Karrs passed to tackle Wright and Carr kicked the conversion. The tally came with 1:14 left in the third quarter. The drive went 75 yards in 15 plays.

The Tar Babies scored for the second time in the last period. A Maryland fumble recovered by Bob Connolly on the Terps' 25, set up the score. The frosh moved the distance in only four plays, with Dave Riggs going over from the three. The kick failed and with 8:34 to play the Tar Babies led 13-6.

The Tar Baby defense, almost non-existent the first three quarters, got tough. The frosh put a fine rush on the passer and Maryland was forced to punt. With the ball on their own 45 the Tar Babies again scored, the tally coming on Karrs 34-yard toss to Carr. The end's try at the conversion was successful and the frosh extended their lead to 20-6.

With only 3:17 to go the game seemed safe, but Maryland was not about to quit. Again with Van Heusen quarterbacking, the Terps moved 70 yards on only seven plays to make the score 20-12. Van Heusen went over for the score on another roll out play. Maryland went for the two-point conversion and Van Heusen carried it over to make the score 20-14.

With only 1:01 remaining, Maryland tried an on-side kick, but the Tar Babies recovered and ran out the clock.

Score by quarters:
Maryland .. 0 0 6 8-14
UNC ..... 0 0 7 12-20

Md.—Van Heusen, 3 run. (kick failed).
NC—Wright, 6 pass from Karrs. (Carr kick).
NC—Riggs, 4 run. (kick failed).
NC—Carr, 34 pass from Karrs. (Carr kick).
Md.—Van Heusen, 3 run. (Van Heusen run).

Sisler Confident His Reds Will Top Phils

NEW YORK (AP)—If anybody had predicted a month ago they'd be selling World Series tickets in Cincinnati this fall, a lot of people would have said he was crazy.

One of those skeptics would have been Dick Sisler, the acting manager of the Reds.

But that's what was taking place Friday as the Reds, led by Sisler, were scaring the heck out of the Phillies with a September surge that already had reduced Philadelphia's once safe 7½ lead to a mere three.

"Frankly," said Sisler, who has been managing the club, except for a brief interval, for two months, "I never dreamed it could be done. But now I'm convinced we can catch the Phillies."

"We've got the momentum and they've got the stagers. They must be awfully tight right now."

I know just what they must be going through. Back in 1950 the Phillies had a seven-game lead with nine games left but had to beat the Dodgers on the last day of the season, in Brooklyn, to avert a playoff for the pennant."

Sisler will never forget that day. He was a member of the 1950 Phillies and it was his 10th inning home run with two mates aboard that gave the Phillies a 4-1 pennant victory over the Dodgers.

Overtaking the Phils still is a monumental task and nobody realizes it more than Sisler.
