

Jubilant Hickey Praises Entire Team For Victory

By PETE GAMMONS

"They were a good tough football team . . . but get them down here, and it's a different story."

That's what Jim Hickey had to say, trying to suppress his obvious elation over winning his first game over a Big Ten foe.

He called it a "great win" and cited several players as stand-outs.

As might be expected he mentioned Danny Talbot, who got his big chance this week and made the best of it. "He's a great kid who gives you a real ball game," said Hickey.

The jubilant coach also had nothing but praise for Frank Gallagher, who played the best game of his career. Gallagher was consistently in the Michigan State backfield haunting quarterback Steve Juday.

Also praised were sophomore end Bo Wood, and Jim Harrington, and Chris Hanburger. Hickey must feel repetitious lauding the big center every week, but as he said, "He's a heckuva ball-player."

The big difference this week he felt was "zip." Against NC State the Tar Heels played reasonably well and did most everything well mechanically, but lacked drive. That was not the case this week. The only time they got hurt was when they tried to play too cautiously, and Mich. St. took full advantage.

Asked whether he had intended to start Talbot all along, Hickey smiled and said he certainly had. The much-heralded sophomore had been prepared all week to start, with Black in reserve if needed. "We wanted to protect Black and be able to get him whole for next week—after all he did have a broken rib." He wasn't needed, and UNC will have two quarterbacks for Wake Forest.

Down in the dressing room there was a mass of tired but jubilant faces.

Seated off in one corner was Hanburger, who could only say he was "Damn glad to win."

Gallagher was quite talkative, but most emphatically repeated that "we knew we had them." He contributed a lot of his success to the great play of Henry Sadler, whose ability to cut off the ends enabled Gallagher to get at Juday.

John Hill and Richie Zarro walked around as if in dazes, realizing a dream-come-true after two humiliating defeats at the hands of the Spartans in their first two years on the varsity.

Probably most indicative of the attitude afterwards was Captain Ronnie Tuthill, who wore a Joe E. Brown grin from ear to ear.

Across the way it was silent. The smiling Irishman Duffy Daugherty had apparently wasted all his words on referee Jack Vest (for which the latter rewarded Duffy with a key 15-yard penalty). He slammed the door to the dressing room and wouldn't talk to reporters.

No matter how close the score, you win or you don't.

Hickey won.

'Big Season Ahead For Booters—Allen

By TOM HANEY

This could be the year for soccer at Carolina.

Coach Marvin Allen will probably field one of his most powerful squads in several years when the Tar Heels open their season with Virginia Tech on Oct. 5.

After watching his boys scrimmage Cherry Point Friday, Allen is very optimistic about the upcoming season. Led by Jack Writer's hat trick, the Tar Heels easily trounced the determined Cherry Point squad 9-0.

Although the competition wasn't very potent, the team showed great potential in their easy victory.

Coach Allen, obviously elated over the team's showing commented, "The team at this stage of the season is better than any I've had in quite a few years. The line is the best skilled group of forwards I've ever had."

The "best skilled group" includes Nigeria's contribution to North Carolina soccer, Edwin Ckuroma who broke the scoring ice in Friday's scrimmage, the ever-present Writer and sophomore whiz John Loud.

Also up front are Terry Henry and Dean Murphy whose spectacular play highlighted the first half scoring Friday.

Co-Captain Jim Talbot leads the powerful halfback line which also has the big foot of Jim Hammer and Danny Galves. The other captain, Park McGinty, and the tough Gordie Cadogan hold down the fullback slots.

The goal is manned by Tom Roberts and Bob Johnson. If Friday's scrimmage is any indication, this really could be the year for soccer at Carolina.

HONOR STUDENT

Susan Diane Doak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Doak of Chapel Hill was one of 112 students listed on the honor roll for the 1963-64 school year at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind. Miss Doak was a senior, and graduated last June.

Newest Hero Has Big Day

It's great to be a hero—just ask Danny Talbot.

Mobbed after the game by students, graduates, teammates, and autograph-seeking kids, the sophomore from Rocky Mount was nothing but smiles.

Proudly looking down at the game ball which he was deservedly presented, he called it "The best game I've ever played."

Danny is an amazing athlete, and what is most amazing is his ability to come up with the big play at the right time. On the first touchdown drive he twice had to come through on third-and-seven, and both times he made it, once on an unbelievable run where he scrambled from one side of the field to the other dodging tacklers.

"In a situation like that you just tell yourself you can make it, call the play, and do it," explained Danny. "If you don't, the other players will lose confidence in both the quarterback and themselves."

Danny Talbot is good, and is going to become great. But there's one thing that's obvious to any spectator, and it is the fact that when he plays he's the center of attraction. Everyone pulls for him, and yesterday he rewarded them richly.

Shades of Charlie Justice, maybe?

THE YOUNG MAN IN THE KNOW: WHAT HE'S WEARING THIS FALL

Here are some of the clothes that rate with college men this fall. We know. Because we asked them. Campus leaders from all parts of the country gave us the word at the 3rd Annual Du Pont College/Career Fashion Conference.

These clothes have more than great style. They also have the built-in neatness of Du Pont fibers. They'll stay in great shape through lots of hard wear. And easy care will keep them in great shape.

All the big styles come with the extras of Du Pont fibers. Just make sure the label says "Dacron", "Orlon", "Lycra", "Antron" nylon, Du Pont nylon . . . and, in shoes, new "Corfam". Stop and see your favorites at MAURICE JULIAN, Chapel Hill.
