

Singers Highlight Duke Entertainment

Singing stars Peter, Paul, and Mary, comedian Bob Newhart, cellist Leonard Rose, former Brazilian President Dr. Juscelino Kubitschek, the Hungarian String Quartet, and the BBC Symphony Orchestra head Duke University's Calendar of Cultural Events this year.

Other attractions include a full list of performers on the Duke Artists Series and the Chamber Arts Series, special lectures featuring noted American and foreign speakers, dramatic presentations by the "Hoof 'n' Horn" Club and the Duke Players.

The Student Union Adventure Series will offer movies and lectures on Colombia, the Nile, undersea explorations, and the Soviet Union. Foreign and American films will be shown by Duke's Quadrangle Pictures on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7 and 9 p.m.

The department of music will present faculty and student recitals, special concerts, performances by the Concert Band and Symphony Orchestra, and other programs. The Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, Madrigal Singers, Chancel Singers, and Chapel Choir will appear in a series of choral presentations.

Further information about Student Union or Artist Series events and tickets may be obtained from the Duke Student Union, Box KM, Duke Station, Durham. Dr. Ernest Nelson, Box 6665, Duke Station, Durham, will provide information on Chamber Arts Society programs.

Following is the complete list of attractions for the Duke Artists Series, the Student Union series, and the Chamber Arts Society series:

UNC's Men's Glee Club At The New York World's Fair

YDC Backed Winner

The UNC Young Democrats Club actively supported George Miller in his successful bid for the state YDC presidency last weekend in Raleigh. The Carolina YDC cast its block of 12 votes for Miller. Miller, closely allied with the Preyer wing of the party, defeated Moore-backed Doran (Doe) Berry of Fayetteville. A Durham attorney, Miller served as UNC's YDC president in 1956-57. At its caucus Friday night the Carolina YDC voted to endorse Roy Patton of Pfeiffer College federation chairman. Patton was defeated by Walter Turner, senior at Fayetteville Methodist College. UNC had no member running for office this year. A resolution was adopted which criticized GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater saying "his radical and extreme beliefs are alien to the American moderate political tradition, both Republican and Democratic." The resolution has been interpreted as a mild rebuke for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Moore for not enthusiastically endorsing the national Democratic ticket. At the convention's formal opening, Moore said that "the time when North Carolina Democrats can be complacent is past. I am confident that we will win in November . . . because we offer a program of continued progress in North Carolina."

achievements under the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. Murphy said the national Democratic ticket "challenges the American people to move forward to even greater achievements . . ." He predicted the Johnson-Humphrey ticket will score its greatest percentage of victory among the nation's "young people." At the Saturday night banquet 450 people heard Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia predict a landslide victory for the Democrats in November. Sanders said Barry Goldwater "seems to be taking full advantage of his confused position" on civil rights. A resolution, adopted unanimously by the convention Saturday morning, was read to Governor Sanford, praising him as "one of the outstanding Democratic governors" in the state's history.

Wilson Heads Student Party

Election for two open seats on the Party's Advisory Board was delayed until next week. Dickson said the delay was caused by the lateness of the meeting and was to give new members a chance to run for the positions.

lative appointment was to fill the Cobb Dormitory seat formerly held by Sherry Stanley, who moved into a sorority house. Gail Feik, a junior transfer student from Mars Hill College, defeated sophomore Kelly Hunter, 38-15.

Other legislative seats filled included Men's District I (all persons living outside the corporate limits of Chapel Hill). Jack Tate, a senior, was selected by acclamation. The seat was formerly held by Dick Akers, who resigned due to an increased study load. Elaine Carlson, a junior transfer student, was selected by acclamation to fill the vacated seat in Women's District II (Alderman, Kenan, McIver). The seat was held by Patty Nash, who moved into a sorority house. The only other contested legis-

Seniors and law students who missed their designated photograph time last week can have pictures taken at that time. Men should wear dark coats with white shirts and ties. Women should wear black seaters.
