

The Daily Tar Heel

Negative Campaign?
DTH editors discuss the 1964
Presidential campaign. See edit page two.

Founded Feb. 23, 1893

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1964

Associated Press Wire Service

LBJ, Lady Bird Plan Visit To N. C. Tuesday

1,000 UNC Students Expected At Durham

An estimated 1,000 UNC students are expected to participate in ceremonies early Wednesday morning welcoming the nation's First Lady to Durham, local Johnson supporters predicted yesterday.

Officials of Chapel Hill's "Citizens For Johnson and Humphrey" announced tentative plans for University students interested in taking part in the Durham welcoming.

Students will gather at Y Court at about 6 a.m. and proceed in a motorcade to Durham, officials said, where they will mass with banners, placards and signs to welcome the "Lady Bird Special."

The west end of the lot will be cleared of traffic to accommodate the crowd, he said. Local Johnson supporters said they intended to distribute handbills this weekend with further information in an effort to drum up greater support for President Johnson.

Advance men for the President were in Chapel Hill yesterday afternoon to complete arrangements for the welcoming ceremonies. Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, and Representative Hale Boggs of Louisiana are expected to be aboard the train, along with 100 members of the White House press corps.

Seven Orange County women have been named to the Welcoming Committee for Mrs. Johnson's visit to Durham.

The seven, Mrs. Roland J. McClamrock, Miss Betty June Hayes of Hillsboro, Mrs. Everett Lloyd, Mrs. L. J. Phipps, Mrs. Martha McKay, Miss Helen Hunt and Mrs. Robert Haas, will work with the Durham County Welcoming Committee to plan the Durham reception.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served following the ceremonies at the whistle-stop site. Watts Hill Sr. and John H. Wheeler, who are "unofficial" advisors to the organizers, have urged everyone to put their best effort into preparing a fitting welcome for Mrs. Johnson.

"This is something that goes beyond politics," Wheeler said, adding that he fully expected a crowd of more than 25,000 would turn out for the visit.

Hill said a committee of county party leaders and interested citizens met Monday night to lay plans for the official welcome preparations.

He added preparations mapped out so far included hanging welcome banners from the store buildings facing the track.

Transportation will be provided to and from Durham, they said. The ten-car red-white-and-blue campaign train will make a 15-minute stop in Durham at 7 a.m. Wednesday as part of Mrs. Johnson's five-day foray into the South. Following the Durham stop, the First Lady will go on to Greensboro, Charlotte and eventually New Orleans three days later.

Durham County Democratic Party chairman S. C. Brawley said the train will make its public stop on tracks along the west end of the Durham municipal parking lot behind Thalheimer's-Ellis, near the Five Points intersection.

Dr. Clarence E. Philbrook, UNC professor of economics, will be the club's faculty adviser. "We are in the process of forming several standing committees," Gordon added. "We have already established a Campus Affairs Committee, which will attempt to encourage and place conservatives in various campus organizations."

Also planned are discussion groups, led by conservative faculty members, and listing of conservative books in the UNC Library and local bookstores. "We want to emphasize that this organization is not just for political discussion — it is concerned with all types of conservative thought," Gordon said.

"We hope to participate in the upcoming National Issues Week, and later to bring in conservative speakers," Gordon said. "The conservative voice on this campus has been very quiet, and the club is an attempt to get conservatives to participate in campus activities."

157 Coeds Pledge UNC Sororities

The Dea of Women's Office announced Wednesday 157 coeds had pledged Carolina sororities this fall. Rush activities ended Tuesday night with formal pledging ceremonies.

Nearly 350 girls—the same number as last year—participated in rush.

PI BETA PHI
Gail S. Austin, Clinton; Barbara A. Banker, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mary E. Barker, Jacksonville, Fla.; Nancy Barrett, Chapel Hill; Ada Lea Birnie, Atlanta, Ga.; Kaye T. Boyle, Charlottesville; Anne Cheatham, Smithfield; Suzanne Craven, Roxboro; Ann G. Crutchfield, Greensboro; Nancy Ray Dame, Bethesda, Md.

Also Louise B. Davis, Winston-Salem; Jane J. Dulin, Charlotte; Susan C. Gebhardt, Charlotte; Judy Haley, Lookout Mt., Tenn.; Elizabeth V. Harris, Pittsboro; Julia Jordan, Danville, Va.; Analeak S. Lipfert, Winston-Salem; Elizabeth R. Link, Danville, Va.; Mary W. Lowe, Charlotte; Margaret A. MacQueen, Clinton.

Also Gail McGregor, Washington, D. C.; Millicent J. McKeithen, Winston-Salem; Eunice Howze Milton, Marianna, Fla.; Frances C. Mock, Kinston; Betsy R. Morris, Jacksonville; Carol S. Payne, Tupelo, Miss.; Elizabeth A. Taylor, Chapel Hill; Mary Helen Volkwein, Jacksonville, Fla.; Susan L. Warren, Raleigh; Sally Wiggins, Charlotte.

CHI OMEGA
Octavia S. Ashford, New Bern; Beverly K. Bailey, Wilmington; Katherine H. Clark, Williamston; Emily Jane Davis, Columbus, Ga.; Margaret A. Eason, Salisbury; Ann Edwards, Durham; Susan Ehringhaus, Raleigh; Mary Entwistle, Louisville, Ky.; Margaret Graham, Durham; Margaret Gregory, Salisbury.

Also Margaret Groome, Greenville, Miss.; Gaye K. Harris, Charlotte; Elizabeth Hudgins, Greensboro; Charlotte Milstead, Fort Smith, Ark.; Patti T. Newton, Dorien, Conn.; Kathleen Mary Powell, Greensboro; Greylin Reeves, Huntingdon, Valley, Pa.; Virginia Remsburg, Goldsboro; Anne E. Retzwe, Pinehurst; Elizabeth J. Ross, Concord.

Also Susan Russell, Morganton; Winborne Shaffer, Chapel Hill; Jean Sims, Orange, Va.; Eleanor Stowe, Charlotte; Martha Temple, High Point; Martha Weeks, Rocky Mount; Lucelia White, Virginia Beach; Peggy Woodard, Hickory.

DELTA DELTA DELTA
Maria W. Brownell, Jacksonville, Fla.; Betsy Burton, Reidsville; Katherine Cannon, Charleston, S. C.; Mary Beth Coker, Chapel Hill; Jane C. Craige, Keswick, Va.; Alice M. Creech, Snow Hill; Anne DeLa-

Verne, Salt Point, N. Y.; Judy Fleming, Durham; Nancy Griffin, Woodville and Lorraine Hatcher, Morehead City.

Also Elsie Ives, Raleigh; Marguerite Kurtz, Rockingham; Susan Lollar, Jacksonville; Susan Moore, Raleigh; Carol M. Mowery, Winston-Salem; Sally Jo Mullen, Lincolnton; Anne F. Murphy, Hillsboro; Carol L. Myers, Lexington; Martha B. Powell, Durham and Janet Price, Wilmington.

Also Carole Sandlin, Jacksonville, Anne Scott, Fair Bluff; Carole Southerland, Goldsboro; Alice K. Taylor, Kinston; Laurie V. Tucker, Warrenton; Marianne Wall, Raleigh; Nancy V. Wallace, Salisbury and Joyce Watt, Reidsville.

ALPHA DELTA PI
Bobbie J. Bailey, Aiken, S. C.; Harriet Burns, Charlotte; Susanne Burwell, New Bern; Mary J. Cherry, Newland; Elizabeth B. Cox, Winston-Salem; Ruth Cromartie, Clinton; Jane C. Dankworth, Coronado, Calif.; Charlotte P. Donovan, Winston-Salem; Jane Early, Ahoskie and Madeline Gray, Charlotte.

Also Andrea Jenks, Afton, N. Y.; Ellen L. Lentz, Goldsboro; Nancy P. Olson, Ridgewood, N. J.; Frances R. Peeler, Chapel Hill; Anne W. Penland, Newland; Sarah H. Pierce, Raleigh; Maureen A. Shannon, Westfield, N. J.; Mary R. Story, (Continued on Page 3)

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

Ponder Deal Setback By State Court

RALEIGH (AP)—Zeno Ponder, Madison County political leader, lost out before the State Supreme Court Wednesday in his battle for the Democratic nomination in the 34th Senate District.

The court said the State Board of Elections may proceed "to declare and certify the Democratic nominee for the 34th Senatorial District." The board already has said it would certify Ponder's opponent, Clyde Norton of Old Fort, if it was free to do so.

Norton, who is recovering from bronchitis, said he planned an active campaign before the Nov. 3 election.

Ponder was unavailable for immediate comment on the court decision.

Johnson Halts Long-Shoreman Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson invoked the Taft-Hartley Law last night against a threatened Atlantic and Gulf Coast strike by 60,000 long-shoremen. The main issue at deadlock was an old one—automation on the docks.

Officials of the AFL-CIO international Longshoremen's Association walked out on peace talks in midafternoon, and the union set its strike machinery in motion.

Less than three hours later, an executive order from the White House set-up a three-man board of inquiry—a preliminary step to invoking the 80-day cooling-off period provided under Taft-Hartley.

It was the first time Johnson has used the labor law since he became President last November.

London Demonstrators Heckle Home

LONDON (AP)—Outbursts of rowdiness broke out Wednesday at several national election campaign rallies, interrupting speeches by Prime Minister Douglas-Home and opposition Labor Party leaders.

Police guards were called in to protect Douglas-Home and his wife against demonstrators in a London Precinct, where hecklers shouted him down when he defended Britain's nuclear deterrent.

College students heckled Deputy Labor Party Leader George Brown in Wellingborough, Northamptonshire.

Gov. Johnson Orders Bombing Probe

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Paul Johnson yesterday ordered a state investigation into racial bombings and violence in the McComb area and pledged law and order would prevail in Mississippi.

Johnson said Col. T. B. Birdson, chief of the Highway Patrol, had set up an information center at McComb "to coordinate and evaluate evidence, to assign leads and to receive information from the general public."

He told newsmen officers had "some excellent leads" but he was unable to say whether any arrests were expected immediately.

Band Day Attracts 2,000 Musicians

A color spectacle of 2,000 musicians representing 37 North Carolina high schools will present the annual Band Day during halftime of the UNC-Wake Forest game.

Calvin Huber, director of the Wake Forest Band, will conduct their alma mater, "Dear Old Wake Forest." Under the direction of Robert Kepfer, head of the N. C. Music Educator's National Conference, will be a special arrangement of "God of Our Fathers."

Director Emeritus of the UNC Band, Dr. Earl Slocum, will conduct the massed bands in his arrangement of "Selections" from the opera "Hansel and Gretel."

Rinaldi To Face Trial November 9

A one-week special term of Orange County Superior Court for the trial of former UNC graduate student-instructor Frank Rinaldi has been set for Nov. 9, District Solicitor Thomas D. Cooper said Wednesday.

Cooper said no judge has been chosen for the special term. Rinaldi is charged with the first degree murder of his pregnant wife last December. He is lodged without bond in Orange County jail pending trial.

Cooper said that he expected the trial to last about a week and for this reason wanted it held before the regular sessions. Cooper said yesterday that he did not expect the trial to spill over into a second week.

Rinaldi was indicted by an Orange County Grand Jury in August and denied bail in a subsequent habeas corpus hearing after the testimony of a surprise witness for the state.

The witness, Alfred L. Foushee of Chapel Hill, testified that several weeks before Mrs. Rinaldi's death, Rinaldi had offered him "a lot of money" to kill her.

President Slates Raleigh Address

RALEIGH (AP)—Paths of the nation's campaigning First Family will cross in Raleigh next Tuesday night. Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will come to Raleigh on the first day of a whistle-stop trip through the South on her special train, the "Lady Bird Special."

President Johnson will join her and combine their efforts to win North Carolina's 13 electoral votes in the November general election.

Mrs. Johnson's visit was announced several days ago. Rumors that the President would also come here had been prevalent for several days and were confirmed Wednesday by State Democratic headquarters and later by the White House.

Plans for the President's visit are being worked out by State Democratic headquarters. Members of the Secret Service were in Raleigh Wednesday checking on a place for the President to speak.

Johnson is expected to address a rally on the N. C. State campus at around 6 p.m. Tuesday. Speculation yesterday was that the rally would be held at either Riddick Stadium or the Reynolds Coliseum.

Mrs. Johnson plans to spend the night in Raleigh, where a motorcade and a reception are being planned for her visit. Johnson is expected to arrive in Raleigh at 5:30 p.m. and return to Washington after his address.

On hearing of the President's plans, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Dan Moore said in a statement he would extend "a cordial and respectful welcome to the President of the United States." Moore has disappointed many North Carolina Democrats because he has refused so far to campaign in support of the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

"We already had planned a similar welcome to Mrs. Johnson," Moore said, "and now that the President has decided to come to Raleigh for a brief visit on the night of Oct. 6 we will, of course, do our best to make their combined visit a pleasant one. I shall extend a personal welcome to the President and his wife."

Gov. Terry Sanford expressed pleasure on hearing of the President's planned visit. Tentative plans call for State Democratic chairman J. Melville Broughton Jr. to preside

At Di-Phi Meeting

Barry Is Branded A Cowboy By Geer

History instructor William Geer referred to Sen. Barry Goldwater as "that department store cowboy from the West" in an address at the Di-Phi Senate inauguration Tuesday night.

Geer criticized the GOP Presidential nominee for his belief that "in the international scene all we have to do is to stand up, shake our fist at everyone, and all our problems will go away."

The instructor's speech was part of ceremonies marking the 170th year of Di-Phi's existence on campus. Incoming president Baxter Limey took office during the session.

"The Republican candidate," Geer said, "suggests that we return to the coziness of the past. That's a nice idea, but if we deal merely in the past we will be out of date."

Referring to Goldwater as "a man of prompt decision, if not too thoughtful," Geer said, "The United States needs a big government to handle a big population."

Turning his remarks to the Di-Phi Senate, the instructor noted that "It is more correct to say this University is steeped in the traditions of the Di-Phi than the Di-Phi is steeped in the traditions of the University."

He praised the societies for founding Student Government and the Honor System on campus, but warned them "not to look back too much, and rest on your splendid heritage."

"History has no life unless it is a prologue to the present," he said.

for the President's speech and for Gov. Sanford to introduce the President.

The Raleigh trip is one of several for next week announced today by the White House.

President Johnson will see his wife off at Alexandria, Va.,

PRESIDENT JOHNSON

Tuesday on her whistle stop train tour; speak at Des Moines, Iowa, the next day; and has speeches in Gary, Ind., Cleveland, and Indianapolis on Oct. 8.

He will rejoin Mrs. Johnson Oct. 9 in New Orleans. He will visit Louisville, Ky., Oct. 9 and be in San Francisco Oct. 11 for a Columbus Day parade—a day ahead of the actual anniversary.

The President will take a helicopter today to Baltimore to speak to the students, faculty and guests at Johns Hopkins University.

The President will leave the White House at 10:30 a.m. by helicopter and arrive across from the tennis courts at Johns Hopkins at 10:55. He is to speak between 11 and 11:30 and then return to Washington.

As it stands, the President will be in on the start and finish of Mrs. Johnson's four-day trip to Dixie.

Survival Is Topic Of Speech Tonight

Dr. Jerome D. Frank, chief psychiatrist at Johns Hopkins University, will address a luncheon meeting of community and University leaders at noon today in the Carolina Inn ballroom.

"Breaking Through the Thought Barriers to Survival" will be his theme. He is expected to speak on popular attitudes towards disarmament.

Dr. Frank appears in North Carolina under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee.

Dean Cathey (Left) And Don Carson
—Photo by Jock Lauterer

Joyner: A Success Story

By JOHN GREENBACKER
DTH Staff Writer

"Smoking is permitted," the neatly typed list reads. "If cigarette burns are found on the furniture or carpet, smoking will be prohibited."

This rather stern warning is only one of many which grace the door to Joyner Residence Hall's new $3,000 social room.

Completed this summer, the room is the fruit of over a year's work by Student Government Residence Hall Improvement Committee and local student groups.

Visitors to the room experience instant comfort as they ease themselves into the softness of a new overstuffed chair and look across the expanse of green wall-to-wall carpeting to the lines of a massive stereo console.

Joyner residents intend to keep it looking that way.

"Last summer we had some girls in here and one of them spilled a drink on the floor," one resident explained. "That's why we have all the new rules."

Head of the Improvement Committee and a leader in the fight to improve residence hall social facilities is Student Body Vice President Don Carson.

"All our hopes for the ultimate improvement of social facilities in other halls hang on the success of this project," he said.

"Administration leaders are impressed with our success and we are confident that they are going to give their support, financial and otherwise, to the project."

Last Tuesday Dean of Student Affairs C. O. Cathey paid a visit to the Joyner room.

Declaring the decor "in good taste," Dean Cathey said he was happy to see "a number of students reading newspapers, listening to music, and just loafing."

"We ought to have several more like this," he said. "The lack of facilities is one reason why dorm men are handicapped in their relations with coeds," he said. "Dean Carmichael and I have both been in favor of this for a long time."

Cathey said the problem in getting new facilities is "overwhelmingly one of financing."

He cited the high cost of materials used in the room's redecoration. "This rug cost $1,100 and we got a very good buy on it."

Cathey said the University is going to ask the State Legislature this year for an additional 2,000 living spaces on campus.

Carson and the Dean both spoke of future plans. "I intend to report to the student legislature, the student body president and the administration about these problems," Carson said.

Cathey cited the new student housing to be built on the present grounds of the Chapel Hill High School by a commercial firm.

"The building will have wings for both male and female graduate students, with common social facilities and cafeteria," he said. "It will even have a roof garden for dances."

"There is a great deal more thought being given to the planning of these buildings," he added. "Future residence halls may