

The Daily Tar Heel

Founded Feb. 23, 1893

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1965

Books
The APO book exchange is still going strong in the Y-Building lobby. Buying and selling will begin at 9 a.m. and last until 4 p.m.

Lawmakers Receive Chopped Up UNC Budget

Alpha Gamma Delta Plans To Disband Next Summer; Lack Of Funds Is Cited

By FRED SEELY
DTH Co-Editor

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority announced yesterday they will suspend operations at UNC June 7 and become an alumnae chapter. Financial need was cited as the reason for the action.

A spokesman for Alpha Gamma Delta said yesterday, "We just couldn't keep up the house."

After rush, it became evident we would not be able to continue," she said. "Our international headquarters did everything possible, but we finally decided to go inactive."

The move leaves UNC with seven sororities: Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Omega, Phi Mu, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi and Delta Delta Delta.

The final decision was made by the Grand Council of the sorority, and was relayed to the Panhellenic Council and Dean of Women Katherine K. Carmichael in a statement yesterday.

Dean Carmichael expressed regret at the sorority's decision yesterday.

"Alpha Gamma Delta performed valuable service on the campus, and we regret losing the contributions they made," she said.

The statement was signed by local chapter President Vicki King, Corresponding Secretary Helen Whitehead, Panhellenic Representative Frances Pegues and local Alumni adviser Judith Hayes Hand.

The Panhellenic Council met for two hours in Graham Memorial yesterday afternoon, but no action was taken on the sorority's decision.

The decision to go inactive will affect 25 active and pledges of the local chapter. The five pledges will be initiated later this month.

The spokesman added the sorority will not participate in informal rushing this spring.

The DTH learned yesterday the house, at 311 E. Franklin St., has been purchased by the Chi Omega sorority for an undisclosed price.

Matilda Gholson, ChiO president, said yesterday she knew nothing of the sale. The Chi Omegas have been looking for a new house for several months, and alumni officers have told members of the local chapter they will be given a full progress report at a meeting next Wednesday night.

Mrs. Guion Johnson, local alumni adviser for Chi Omega, could not be reached for comment.

Sorority To Vacate House In Summer

THE ALPHA Gamma Delta house at 311 E. Franklin St. will be vacated by the sorority June 7 when the women will suspend operations at UNC.

The announcement was made yesterday by the sorority's Grand Council. This will leave the campus with only seven sororities.

—Photo by Jock Lauterer

Alabama Police Jail 800 Demonstrators

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes were arrested by the hundreds Wednesday as racial tension heightened in Alabama. More than 300 were arrested at Selma and more than 500 were arrested in Marion, 30 miles away.

More than 1,500 have been arrested since Monday, and about 1,800 since Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. began leading a civil rights campaign at Selma 16 days ago.

Not since the long, hot summer of 1963 have so many been arrested in connection with racial strife. About 3,000 were arrested in Birmingham that summer.

The arrests in the two West Alabama communities Wednesday came about the same time. Demonstrations at Selma were in support of a voter registration drive. Those arrested at Marion were protesting the earlier arrest of about 15 other civil rights workers.

A voter registration campaign has been under way in both Dallas (Selma) and Perry (Marion) counties.

The White House announced in Washington that President Johnson is being kept informed of the situation.

Press Secretary George Reedy said Johnson talked by telephone Wednesday with Atty. Gen. designate Nicholas Katzenbach about the situation in Selma. But he gave no details.

In the Senate, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the new outbreaks over Negro voter registration "may well show need for new laws to let federal registrars step in and handle the registrations."

Most of those arrested were pupils.

The teen-agers were taken into custody at Selma as they locked arms in a massive human chain, swayed back and forth and sang freedom songs. They continued singing as they submitted to sheriff's deputies and state patrolmen.

Blue helmeted state troopers and sheriff's deputies corralled the demonstrators around the Perry County Courthouse and around the jail across the street.

All available state troopers were ordered to stand by for Crowds of Negroes were locked inside a wire fence surrounding the jail and others were hemmed in against a wall of the courthouse.

Groups of white persons watched curiously, but they were not involved in any incidents.

The demonstrators arrested at Marion were protesting the arrest of 15 civil rights workers on charges of trespassing after warning.

Colombian Students Arrive

Twenty-four Colombian students from the National University of Bogota arrived here last night on the last leg of their NSA-sponsored tour of America.

Juan Carvajal, treasurer of the International Student Board and organizer of their four-day stay, said yesterday it is their only visit in the South. Four State Department interpreters are with them.

They will hear a talk this morning by John Sanders, director of the Institute of Government on "North Carolina State Government," and Student Body President Bob Spearman will discuss "Student Government at Carolina" this afternoon.

UP Chairman Jim Hubbard and SP Chairman Dou Wilson will then tell the students about political parties here. The Colombians will learn about the North Carolina Fund in Durham tonight.

Fred Weaver, secretary of the Consolidated University, will speak to them Friday morning on "The University and the State."

They will visit the Governor's School for Gifted Children in Winston-Salem tomorrow night.

Rev. Charles Jones of the Community Church will speak on civil rights Saturday morning, and a panel will discuss the same subject that afternoon.

Some Requests Cut, Others Eliminated

By ERNIE MCCRARY
DTH Managing Editor

The University's budget requests for 1965-67 were cut considerably yesterday when the Advisory Budget Commission made its recommendations to the General Assembly on the first day of the new session.

Consolidated University President William C. Friday said, however: "My first impression is that the commission, with the amount of money they have to work with, went as far as they could."

He had not yet seen the budget report and could not comment on its details.

Many requests were cut nearly 60 per cent, while the requested faculty increases were reduced just 41 per cent.

UNC asked for $3,407,983 to increase faculty salaries about 10 per cent.

The commission recommended a total of $2,008,319 for the biennium—59 per cent of the request. Pay increases at other branches of the University received similar cuts.

The entire "A" budget was approved, according to Consolidated University Treasurer A. H. Shepard, Jr.

"The 'A' budget is the continuation budget," he said. "It's the budget we need to keep services at the same level and provide for expected enrollment increases."

Exact figures for the "A" budget were not available last night.

"The 'B' budget is the one we're actually concerned with," Shepard said. "It includes expenses for new programs and improvement of existing ones."

Cuts in the "B" budget were substantial.

For academic affairs, $5,406,006 was requested by the University — $2,196,667 (41 per cent) was recommended. A request for $2,389,229 was made for Health Affairs and $599,588 (40 per cent) was recommended by the commission.

Also under the "B" budget, the psychiatric center asked for $205,469 and $11,640 was recommended. Memorial Hospital received a recommendation for $241,416 of the $1,076,872 requested.

Forty-three per cent of the "C" (capital improvements) budget was recommended. The request was for $20,569,094. The recommended figure was $8,766,000.

Some "C" budget items received recommendations for the full amount requested. They were: $1,880,000 for a new Law School building, $950,000 for a new English department building, $165,000 for Venable Hall renovations and $140,000 for New East renovations.

No recommendation was made for fund requests for campus utilities and site improvements or for purchase of property next to Health Affairs campus.

It is possible, however, that the land-purchasing funds will be included in another part of the budget.

Other "C" budget items for which the commission did not make a recommendation are: $1,350,000 for Ackland Art Center expansion, $1,169,837 for a dramatic arts building, $860,000 for Institute of Government additions, $740,000 for Louis R. Wilson Library additions and $270,000 for new recreational facilities.

Construction of new residence halls was included, but it was recommended that the cost be 100 per cent self-liquidating.

The University asked that the new facilities to house 2,000 students here be built on a 50 per cent self-liquidating basis. Self-liquidation is achieved with student housing rental fees and other charges.

The recommendations were included in a record $2,071 billion state budget for the 1965-67 biennium. The new budget is about $155 million more than the 1963-65 budget, but the commission foresees state income of $2.13 billion, leaving about a $64.4 million surplus.

Included in the total proposed budget are about $365 million in federal funds.

The budget did not include the 10 per cent increase in pay for all state employees promised by Gov. Dan Moore during his campaign. At the same time the commission made no requests for higher taxes.

About 75 cents out of every budget dollar would go to the general fund which includes support of public schools, state colleges, government, welfare, ports, hospitals, prisons, recreation and retirement funds.

The highway fund would get 24 cents of each budget dollar and the agriculture fund one cent.

Total budget recommendation for education in the Tar Heel State is $800.4 million. Of this, public schools would get $629 million.

NSA

The price of new NSA International Student ID cards will be increased from $1 to $2 Feb. 15. The card entitles the bearer to discounts on many items purchased in foreign countries and certain expenditures in New York. The 40 cards now left will be sold until Feb. 15 for $1 in SG offices.

Falk Selected To Head Philosophy Department

Werner D. Falk has been named chairman of the Department of Philosophy here, it was announced yesterday.

He succeeds Professor E. Maynard Adams who has completed a five-year term as department chairman.

Falk is the James G. Hanes Professor of Humanities. The endowed professorship named in honor of industrialist James Gordon Hanes of Winston-Salem was established in 1962 and Falk was named Hanes Professor in 1964.

Falk is an internationally-known scholar, specializing in ethics, value theory and political philosophy. He is a native of Berlin and a graduate of Heidelberg University in Germany. He also holds a degree from Oxford University in Germany.

Adams has received a Kenan leave of absence for spring semester and will work on a book, "Naturalism and the Mental." Adams was recently named by the American Philosophical Association to be in charge of the program for the 1965 meeting in New York City.

Law Scholarships

Applications are now being taken for the UNC National Honor Scholarship for the University of Chicago Law School.

The scholarship will provide full tuition for one year and will be renewable for the second and third years. Interested students should contact Dean of Student Affairs C. O. Cathey in 103 South Building before Feb. 10.

Help Sought For Charity Committees

Want to help your chest? Not the one that spreads over your lungs, but the one that's the only official charity drive on campus—the Campus Chest.

The chest will hold interviews for committee positions today from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Campus Chest office, second floor, Y Building. Posts are open on the Drive, Auction, Carnival and Publicity committees. Other interviews are scheduled for Feb. 16, 17 and 18.

The chest has planned the annual carnival, door to door canvassing and an auction for the spring.

Chairman Mary Elizabeth Barker urged students to take this "opportunity to volunteer for something which is enjoyable and constructive."

Freshman Rush

Eligible freshmen may pick up rush invitations today and Friday at Gerrard Hall from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Names of the 900 freshmen eligible to participate in formal rush are available at 216 South Building. Bids may be picked up in Y-Court Feb. 12.

Spot The Spot Ends (Whew)

Winner Takes 12 Albums

By KERRY SIPE
DTH Staff Writer

Kemp Nye extended one huge armful of stereo albums toward the smiling winner and said, "Now choose the album you'd most like to have in the whole world, and I'll autograph it for you."

Van H. Johnson took about 30 minutes to make up his mind.

A telephone call to the Daily Tar Heel at 1:34 Wednesday morning identifying the bell tower and the University Laundry as the run-off answers made the senior from South Mills the official winner of the DTH Spot-the-Spot Contest.

"Hugh Stevens (DTH Co-editor) must have volunteered to stay up all night and answer the telephone," Johnson said. "He sounded so sleepy over the telephone that I worried all night that he wouldn't remember to count my entry as the winner."

"I was interested in the contest from the very beginning," he said. "Mother and I had been saving nickles and dimes for a couple of years for a new stereo. We had it almost saved one year and then ate up all the money in ice cream during the summer. I saw this contest as a way to stock our record collection."

Johnson says he put a lot of wear and tear on his health, his grades and his bicycle during the search for campus spots. He did most of his looking during the night. "I tried a couple of daytime hunts," he said, "but I looked so stupid running around peering at rooftops and manhole covers that I decided that it was best to wait until dark."

Johnson was so afraid that "everyone was going to get the first nine" puzzles that he even did research on the spots as he found them. He went to the library and looked up the histories of each of the spots and included them on his entries.

"I was ready to give up a couple of times, but some friends of mine offered to help. They hated to see me lose after so much trouble. We drove around until 1:30 a.m. last night looking for the run-off spots. When I got back to the dorm the guys had put a sign on my door that said 'Home of the famous and glorious Spot-the-Spot Contest Winner.'"

Wes Gilliam Wins

With Two Layups

ELON COLLEGE (AP)—Wes Gilliam, a Western High School senior, had a big day Tuesday.

First, Gilliam's wife presented him with a son.

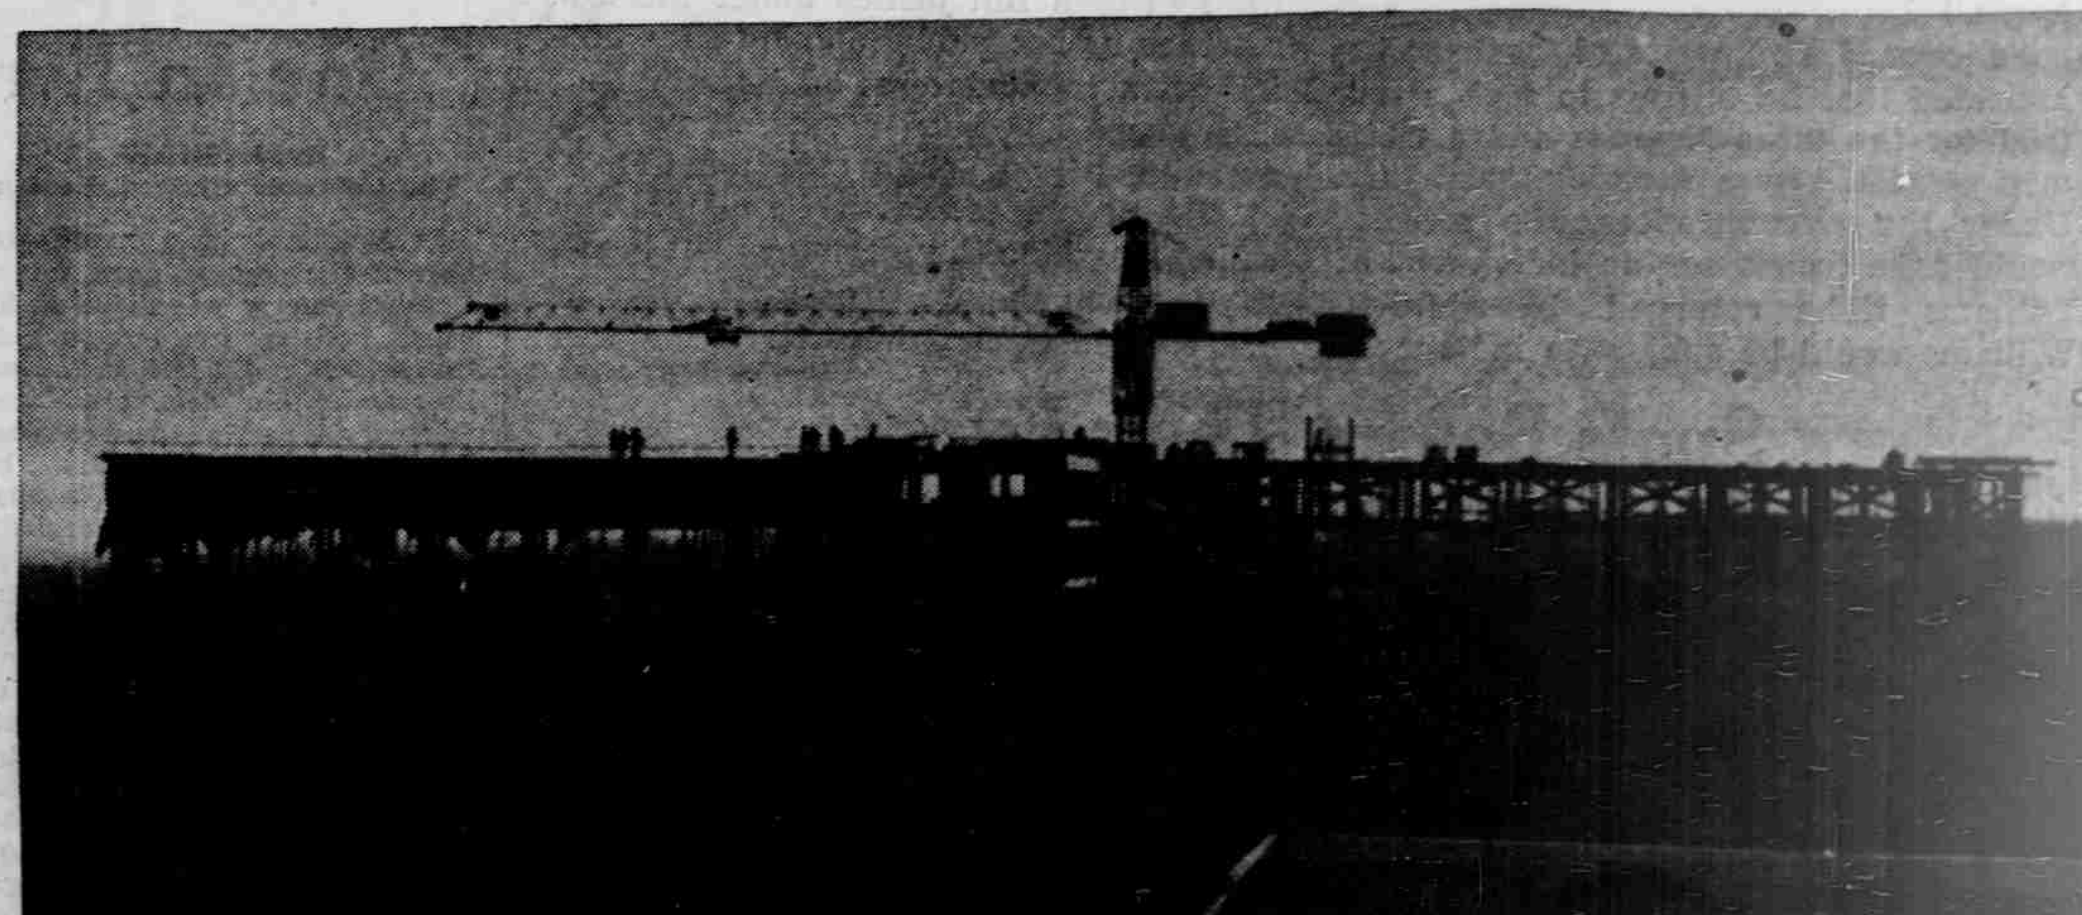

Then Gilliam scored a lay-up that gave Western High a 56-54 basketball victory over Eastern Alamance High School. The victory snapped an 11-game losing streak at Western.

Johnson Takes The Goodies

VAN JOHNSON accepts 12 long play albums from Kemp Nye as winner of the DTH-sponsored Spot The Spot contest. Johnson won the prize in a run-off among 24 finalists.

—Photo by Jock Lauterer

Construction At Morrison: A Sign Of The Times

CONSTRUCTION AT MORRISON Residence Hall is a sign of the times at UNC. As the new living unit goes up, the University is planning how to house and educate the increasing number of students which will knock at UNC's door in future years. Many of these plans will hinge on the amount of money to be appropriated by the current session of the N. C. General Assembly.

—Photo by Jock Lauterer