

Kid, Willard, Netmen Garner DTH Awards

Ken Willard, Bill Cunningham and the tennis team have swept the top honors in the annual DTH Sports Awards.

Willard and Cunningham were named as Co-Athletes of the year, the netmen were selected as the outstanding team and tennis coach Don Skakle was tabbed as the best mentor.

Judges for the event included Fred Seely, DTH Sports Editor; Dick Smith, assistant Sports Editor; Larry Tarleton, ex-DTH Sports Editor; Pete Gammans, ex-assistant Sports Editor; and Pat Stith, assistant Sports Information Director.

Each judge submitted his top three choices in each category, and points were compiled on a 5-3-1 basis.

Ian Morrison was named top Clutch Performer, the first Duke basketball game was tabbed the Best Single Contest, and Eddie Kesler's electrifying 72-yard run against Duke was awarded the Outstanding Single Play.

Top performers were also named in each sport. Honors went to Willard in football; Jim Talbot, soccer; Cunningham, basketball; Roy Hagerty, wrestling; O. H. Parrish, tennis; Dale White, track; Jeff Parker, lacrosse; John Baldwin, golf; Harrison Merrill, swimming; Dan Talbot, baseball; and Jim Meade, cross country.

Willard and Cunningham each garnered two first-place, two second-place and a third-place vote for 17 points. Merrill and two-sport stand-out Black tied for third with five points, and trackman White was mentioned on one ballot for fifth.

Skakle ran away with Coach of the Year honors, getting four first-place votes and a second for 23 points. The surprising lacrosse team figured to have troubles making .500, pushed Cony Steele into second place with 12 points and swimming's Pat Earey was third with nine.

The tennis team matched Skakle's 23 points. With a 22-0 season record plus a decisive conference championship, the netmen got all but one first-place vote. Lacrosse was second with 12, swimming had nine and soccer was mentioned for one point.

Morrison, erratic most of the season on the basketball court, came off the bench in several games with key baskets and was tabbed the Clutch Performer. Special mention was given to his game against Clemson in Charlotte and against Vanderbilt in Greensboro. He compiled 15 votes. Net star Bronson Van Wyck, who won 25 straight matches this season, was second with eight, followed by basketball's Bob Lewis with six. All are sophomores.

Intramurals Heavy With End In Sight

By DICK SMITH
Asst. DTH Sports Editor
Delta Upsilon's blue tennis team highlighted Monday's intramural action with a 2-1 win over Kappa Alpha to enter the fraternity blue finals. They will play the winner of the Chi Psi-Zeta Psi match, which was postponed.

In water polo quarterfinals, Sigma Nu dunked Everett, 5-0; Chi Phi downed Old West by forfeit; Delta Upsilon overcame Phi Gam, 2-1; and Chi Psi beat the Medical School, 3-0.

Softball action featured Chi Psi in a quarterfinal victory over the Delta Sigs by a healthy margin of 8-1. Tom Carpenter doubled and singled to lead Chi Psi hitting, while Mal Dunlevie went two for three at the plate. Errors and walks gave the winners four more runs, while Delta Sig got its run when Bill Cresmore, who had tripled, was sacrificed home.

Chandler Leads Carr
Also, Jim Chandler of Carr put on a pitching exhibition to beat Ehringhaus A almost singlehanded, giving up only three hits and striking out 10, while his teammates plated eight. Tom Sheehan and Al Vota doubled for Carr, as Ehringhaus pitcher John Spain gave up eight walks. John Mulford tripled in a losing cause, and the final score was 5-2.

The undefeated Carr team, drawn from the smallest Residence Hall on campus, will play Avery today at 5 p.m. on Navy Field for the Hall championship. Avery, led by basketballers Bill Cunningham, Tom Gauntlett and Bob Lewis, have lost only one game.

In horseshoes, Medical School beat NROTC and the Peacocks by identical scores of 2-1; Aycock Blue downed Teague Blue, 2-1; the Ruffin Reds defeated Stacy, 2-1, and Mangum 10, 3-0; Stacy White defeated Mangum 5, 2-1; Chi Psi Blue victimized Zeta Psi, 2-1, and the Chi Psi White team downed Pi Kappa Phi by the same margin. In shut-outs, the winners were: Lambda Chi over Chi Phi, Phi Gam over Delta Sig, Zeta Psi over St. Anthony, and Mangum Blue over Aycock.

Murals End Tomorrow

All finals will be completed this week, with fraternity blue softball scheduled for today. Final rounds completed yesterday included blue and white tennis and blue and white horseshoes. All results will appear in tomorrow's DTH, having been completed too late for today's edition.

Water polo action ends tomorrow night at 6 p.m., with the winner of last night's clash between Chi Phi and St. Anthony Hall facing the victor in tonight's Chi Psi - Sigma Nu game. Finals will be played in three - minute quarters. Alpha Tau Omega has already reached the finals of blue softball, and await the winner of yesterday's Chi Psi-Phi Gamma Delta tilt.

Wake Roars Back, 10-9; Nine Closes At VPI

The weak - hitting Tar Heels finally managed to turn on the power Monday night and score nine runs. Unfortunately, the team forgot its pitching and defense, and when all was over Wake Forest had whipped the baseball nine, 10-9, in a charity game at Asheboro.

The team closes out the season today at Virginia Tech in a game starting at 2:30 p.m. Coach Walter Rabb is expected to play a non - senior lineup in the season's finale.

Over 1,000 fans, the biggest crowd to see the Tar Heels this year, turned out for the annual game in Asheboro, and were presented a wild melange of hits, runs, bonehead plays, errors and walks. Each team paraded four hurlers to the mound, and fittingly enough the winning run for the Deacons scored on a miscue.

After erasing a 9-0 deficit, the Deacons wrapped it up in the ninth. Bill Molloy started the inning with his fourth hit of the game, a high infield bouncer down the first base line that didn't come down until too late to get the speedy third sacker.

Bill "Chilly" Dannemann, hurling for the Tar Heels with only two days rest, then walked Joe Sepic, and the runners advanced on catcher Tom Robbins' passed ball.

Rabb then brought in ace reliever Bob Reagan, who intentionally passed Jim Grimsley to load the bases and set up a force at any corner.

Weak-hitting Steve Wrenn, hitless in three previous at-bats, bounded one to shortstop Dick Fleming, who made a good stop, but his throw to Robbins for a force was far wide of the target, ending the game.

Hitting stars for the Tar Heels included Ken Boykin, who homered, doubled and singled to boost his average to .309, third best on the team. Bill Taylor emerged from a slump with three singles, and Bob Bonczek pounded a homer and a double in five trips.

UNC jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the top of the first on hits by Bonczek, Boykin, Dick Prindle and Gary Black. Mike McLaughlin, starting Tar Heel hurler, held the Deacons at bay with a one - hitter until the sixth, when two walks and a double by Grimsley and Molloy put them on the scoreboard.

Molloy smashed a three-run homer off Buddy Cohoon to edge the score to 9-7 in the seventh, and Wake tied it in the eighth on a cheap infield hit, a misjudged fly ball by Lynn Nesbitt which fell for a double, and a ground single that just evaded Fleming's grasp. All the scoring was done with two out.

Bonczek rapped his homer, a 400-foot plus clout, in the fifth and Boykin made it 9-0 with Taylor aboard in the sixth.

It was the third time the Tar Heels have fallen to Wake this season. They lost at home, 3-2, then journeyed to Winston-Salem for a 10-1 whipping.
