

GM Starts Semester With Entertainment Week

Paris Chamber Orchestra

First Classes Being Held In UNC Residence Halls

"The whole plan," according to Dean Long, "is to humanize the learning experience in a big place. This may be a way to do it."

Faculty, administrators and students there are pleased with the results of their program. They said there that students seemed to be more interested in the material when it was conducted in the more informal atmosphere of the residence hall instead of the traditional classroom setting.

They also suggested that grades were quite likely somewhat higher in this situation. Here, they are hopeful and optimistic.

At least one student has gone through Drop-Add to get into the Granville English class.

Dean Long is "most optimistic about the prospects of the experiment. We must reserve opinion about whether or not the program is a good idea until after it is over, but we are all hopeful and are looking for positive results."

Parker Hudson, Academic Lt. Governor of Morrison, is "very pleased with the progress that we have made thus far. If all goes as we expect, there will be many more classes in the residence colleges next fall."

Graham Memorial has begun the spring semester with a week full of entertainment. Tonight both the Paris Chamber Orchestra and Jake Holmes are performing.

The orchestra begins at 8 in Memorial Hall while Holmes continues his week-long engagement in the "coffee-house" atmosphere of the Rendezvous Room. He is presenting two shows nightly, at 9 and 10:30, through Saturday.

Jay and the Americans come to Carmichael Auditorium Friday at 8; Jorge Morel will perform in Memorial Hall Sunday at 8; and Thursday night "High Road to Skiing" will be shown at 1:30 in Carroll Hall.

For tonight's Paris Chamber Orchestra concert, the balcony is reserved for UNC students. Tickets for students are 50 cents each.

The orchestra is an ensemble of 15 prize-winning instrumentalists. The nine men and six women in the group were all students at the Paris Conservatory when conductor Paul Kuentz founded the orchestra 12 years ago.

Since then, the orchestra has given nearly 1000 concerts, touring in Europe, the United States and Canada.

The Jake Holmes appearance here is part of a venture made possible by Fred Weintraub of the Bitter End of New York City.

Entertainers who have appeared in the club will make a college tour including Duke, East Carolina, State, South Carolina, Wake Forest and Davidson.

Holmes has been described by "variety" as "America's newest writer - singer sensation." He has recently signed with Capitol records as a writer and singing performer.

There is free juke box dancing between the two nightly shows. Admission is 75 cents.

Admission to Jay and the Americans is $1 for students and $1.50 for the general public.

The Brooklynites formed their group in 1962 and became an immediate smash. The group includes Jay Black, Sandy Deane, Marty Saunders, Howie Kane and Kenny Vance.

They have performed for night clubs, television and college tours. They appeared here for the 1966 Jubilee.

Guitarist Jorge Morel is a native of Argentina. He arrived in the United States in 1961 where his first concert was in Carnegie Hall.

His performance is free to students and $1 for the general public.
