Orsagh Receives

Fulbright Grant

The U. S. State Department Wednesday announced the appointment of a UNC economist as a visiting lecturer at the Institute of Technology in Karlsruhe, Germany. Dr. Thomas J. Orsagh, an assistant professor of economics at UNC, will leave for Germany in late April and will return in August. His grant was made under the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961, known as the Fulbright-Hays Act.

A native of Philadelphia, Pa. Orsagh joined the University faculty here in 1955 as a visiting professor. He was named to the full-time faculty last fall. He holds the B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania.

Orsagh's teaching specialties are statistics, economic history and price theory. His research areas are the economic histories of Germany, the United States, and the steel industry.

He held a National Science Foundation Grant for a summer of regional science study at Berkeley.

Law Scholarship Now

Available For Seniors

Seniors going to law school next fall may apply now to Dean Cathey's office for the Chicago Law School National Honor Scholarship awarded annually to a UNC graduate. All applications are due Feb. 15.

The scholarship is worth $1980 per academic year, the total tuition, and is renewable for up to three years.

Total costs at the University of Chicago Law School is approximately $3,800 per year. Applicants usually have a 3.3 overall average in undergraduate school, although students with an average as low as 3.0 are considered. Few students apply for this scholarship. Usually, there are four to six applicants per year the Dean's office said.

Last year, five students applied. Dean Cathey's office will check the records of all applicants and conduct interviews with those found acceptable.

Interested students may contact Dean Cathey in 103 South Building.

AFROTC Offers

Two-Year Program

Air Force ROTC is reopening its two-year program for all those interested students who did not sign up before exams. Applications will be accepted through next Friday, February 10.

Any student with two years of school left, including law and graduate school, is eligible and may inquire about the program at Air Force ROTC Detachment Headquarters.

Applicants must take a d pass the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test. Selected students will attend a six-week summer camp at an Air Force Base or their selection with pay and travel expenses to and from camp.

Students enrolled in the advanced ROTC program receive a subsistence pay of $40 per month. Draft deferment is also provided.

Cadets will receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve upon graduation. A four-year active duty obligation follows. An educational deferment is available for students entering graduate studies.

Writing Contest

Story Magazine, to appear in April as a quarterly, has expanded its 1966-67 contest to include not only short stories, but all fields of creative writing.

Up to $6,650 in prizes will be awarded.

The awards will be made to college story writers, poets, playwrights, biographers, critics and essayists, film writers, TV writers, photo-essayists, journalists, and cartoonists. They must be registered in a college or university in the U. S., its territories, or Canada.

The closing date for entries is May 5, 1967. They should be mailed to 53 W. 43 St., New York, N. Y., 10036.
