

The Daily Tar Heel

Yack Pictures

Pictures for this year's Yackety-Yack are being taken now at Graham Memorial. See page 6 for the schedule.

Volume 74, Number 7

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1966

Founded February 23, 1893

Queen Finalists Will Be Chosen

By Steve Bennett
DTH Staff Writer

Eight lovely Carolina coeds selected yesterday as semi-finalists in the Consolidated University Queen contest will be judged this afternoon to determine which two will represent UNCSaturday.

The girls selected from the entries submitted by sponsoring campus organizations are Jackie Cole by Kappa Alpha, Frances Dayvault by Tri Delta, Carol Smith by Morehead Residence College, Jan Wuehrmann by Kappa Delta, Nita Wilkinson by Alpha Tau Omega, Liza Robb by Tri Delta and Toni Greenwood by Joyner Hall.

This afternoon the entrants will meet with the judges between 2-4 in the faculty lounge in the Planetarium. They should wear suits, gloves, heels and no hats.

The panel of judges is composed of Dean of Women Katherine Charnichael, Dean of Men William G. Long, Student Aid Director William M. Geer, and the heads of the Men's Residence Council, Women's Residence Council, Pan Hellenic Council and Intrafraternity Council.

The two entrants selected to represent the Carolina campus will be combined with two entrants from each of the Consolidated University's three other campuses from which the Queen will be selected Saturday morning. The winner will be announced during the half-time ceremonies of the State game.

Very special judges have been invited to help in selecting the Queen and all are expected to be special guests at University Student Council and Richard Adler, the famous composer, is scheduled to be one of the judges and will crown the new Queen.

Other special events which are being planned for Consolidated University Day this Saturday were discussed last Sunday at the first official meeting of the Consolidated University Student Council.

Representatives from each campus met on the campus of the University in Greensboro where Jim Rush was elected president of the Consolidated University Student Council and Brenda Cummings was elected Secretary-Treasurer. Both are students at Carolina.

Rush said, "The representative from our campus last year, Mary King, was selected as Queen and I hope that we will provide the winner again this year."

The two finalists from Carolina will be announced in tomorrow's Daily Tar Heel along with a list of the judges for Saturday and a detailed list of Saturday's special events.

Morrison Plans Dance On Saturday

A decision made last year by the residence colleges on South Campus to present big talent on different weekends will come into realization this Saturday night when Morrison College will present the Daydreams backed by the Epics Combo.

The dance which is scheduled to be held in Chase Cafeteria from 8 p.m. to midnight is open to the entire campus at a charge of $1 per couple.

John Ellis, Governor of Morrison said that he is expecting a large crowd for the dance since it is the main attraction being offered for all the students living in Craige, Ehringhaus, and Morrison.

Other entertainment on campus this weekend includes the One-Eyed Jacks Combo which will play in front of Graham Memorial Student Union immediately after the game.

Also the free flicks which are shown in Carroll Hall are to be Showboat on Friday night and Two Women on Saturday night.

Ellis also announced the new appointment of Richard Blackwell as Social Lt. Governor. Blackwell is already working on other plans for entertainment during the year including bringing more than $1,200 in entertainment to campus for homecoming weekend.

Jackie Cole

Frances Dayvault

Carol Smith

Jan Wuehrmann

Cynthia Graham

Nita Wilkinson

Liza Robb

Toni Greenwood

Bells, Bells, Bells, Bells, Bells, Bells, Bells, Bells

By PETER HARRIS
DTH Staff Writer

For some students, the wait for the period-ending bell is all to agonizingly slow.

Other students, running madly from Morrison to Murphy, hope not to hear that little bell, the wretched sound of lateness. For all, however, the bell controls daily movement to a frightening degree.

The class bells are controlled by high frequency wave lengths which are being continually sent from the University power plant to South Building.

At ten minutes to the hour and again on the hour, the centralized timing system in South Building transmits a consequent signal up to the South Building tower bell, and out to the affected campus buildings.

The system was first built in the 1930's and involved much complicated wiring from the South Building headquarters to the other areas of the campus.

Today, the system has been improved. It has eliminated the many wires and the impulses are sent out over the main electrical circuits. Theoretically, the bell units could be utilized by simply plugging them into the wall.

This improvement, however, caused a minor problem of electrical interference with radio and television pick-up.

The University physicists have consequently created a wave length which is practically too high to be heard on other receivers.

When the electronic system was first improvised, the grounds department waited six months before announcing the improvement.

John S. Bennett, former Director of Operations at UNC said, "Traditionally, an old Negro man would ring the bell by hand in South Building, using a dollar watch as his timer. This had been the system since the beginning of the University."

"We perfected the tone and number of rings to sound the same as when they were controlled by pulling a rope. We waited six months because we feared that the old professor would want the former tradition to be continued."

Another tradition in South Building is the irregular tolling of the bells after a distinguished member of the University has died. This is now performed by merely resetting the timing pattern in South Building.

The Morehead Bell Tower is operated by hand and is not connected to the South Building system.

Not everybody here appreciates the modern electronic system. The staff members of some of the classroom buildings have refused to allow bells to ring within their walls, and they will change classes only according to the more pleasant chimes of the tower bells.

The Scholarship Information Committee (SIC), a branch of the YM-YWCA Human Relations Committee here, has begun work on the second edition of a 91 page booklet informing students in a fifteen state southern area of educational and vocational opportunities for Negroes.

This booklet is being prepared under a grant from The Fund for the Advancement of Education, a branch of the Ford Foundation.

Last year's edition, less than half the size of this year's, was published to inform southern Negro high school students of available financial assistance for college education.

Included in this year's edition will be over a hundred scholarship, loan, and fellowship sources for high school and college students. Some of these are especially for the Negro student but most are open to all applicants. There will also be a general section on going to college which will feature sample admission forms and scholarship applications. Also included will be some summer job opportunities for students.

In another section of the booklet there will be a list of colleges and information on each one and special programs which each school may or may not offer. Some of these schools are also listed on Sidney Sullivan's list of colleges that still have room for students.

Last year's edition attracted so much interest that the SIC has already had many orders for the new edition. The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation has requested 1000 copies for distribution to its teacher interns. Other requests have come from the Office of Economic Opportunity and Whitney Young of the National Urban League. Anticipating this large demand, the SIC has

See SIC On Page 6

Seniors Get Military Plan

By STEVE BENNETT
DTH Staff Writer

Senior men at UNC are now eligible to participate in the Army Officer Candidate School College Option Enrollment Program in order to fill their military commitment.

UNC President William C. Friday was notified this week by Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman of the U. S. Army that Carolina is included on the list of colleges and universities recognized by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare for participation in the Army's Officer Candidate Program.

The program is being emphasized because of the increased world-wide military commitments which have resulted in the expansion of all United States military forces.

After interested senior men are accepted for the program, they must complete basic combat training, advanced individual training and Officer Candidate School training.

They are then commissioned a second lieutenant and are obligated to serve a two-year tour.

Advantages of this program include future schooling, challenging assignments, and broad experience in the responsibilities and rewards of leading men.

Dean of Student Affairs C. O. Cathey said he feels this program is an excellent opportunity for UNC students to plan for the fulfillment of their military obligations.

The program is not actually begun until the student graduates, but it is best to enroll in the program ahead of time.

The total training program for Officer Candidate School lasts approximately 10 months from enlistment to commissioning.

Any students interested in learning more about the Army Officer Candidate Program should go to the office of the Dean of Student Affairs in South Building.

The program's providing the opportunity to sign up before graduation is one of its most outstanding features in view of the recent long lists of applicants for Officer Candidate School.

See RUSSIA On Page 6

Advantages of this program include future schooling, challenging assignments, and broad experience in the responsibilities and rewards of leading men.

Dean of Student Affairs C. O. Cathey said he feels this program is an excellent opportunity for UNC students to plan for the fulfillment of their military obligations.

The program is not actually begun until the student graduates, but it is best to enroll in the program ahead of time.

The total training program for Officer Candidate School lasts approximately 10 months from enlistment to commissioning.

Any students interested in learning more about the Army Officer Candidate Program should go to the office of the Dean of Student Affairs in South Building.

The program's providing the opportunity to sign up before graduation is one of its most outstanding features in view of the recent long lists of applicants for Officer Candidate School.

See RUSSIA On Page 6

Russia Hits Red Chinese Culture Push

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union directed a withering attack at Red China's cultural revolution today, branding it a "Tragedy for the Chinese People" and accusing Peking of warring on all Communists in the world who reject its line.

The Soviet government newspaper suggested pointedly that some day "Healthy forces" of the Chinese Communist Party would lead the country back to a more rational path.

The broadside, couched in the harshest of terms, signaled a new stage of the long Soviet-Chinese quarrel. Moscow, after a long period of restraint in the face of taunts and insults from Peking, once again is retorting in kind.

Izvestia denounced the current "Great proletarian cultural revolution" — or purge — in China as inflicting unprecedented discredit on the ideas of Marx and Lenin, the founders of modern communism.

Izvestia said the 11th plenary session of the Chinese Communist Party central committee in August, which launched the violent red guard movement of teen-agers against all things considered either "Bourgeois" or "Revisionist", demonstrated that Peking planned "an open political struggle" not only against the Soviet Union, but also against all communist countries which rejected Peking thinking.

China's communist leaders constantly accuse the Soviet Union of "Revisionism," or departure from the revolutionary line of world communism. The Chinese policy, said

See RUSSIA On Page 6

Percy Reveals Threat Note

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican leader Charles H. Percy, whose daughter Valerie was savagely bludgeoned and stabbed to death early Sunday, received a letter threatening him with "a one-way ride," it was learned today.

Sen. Russell Arrington of Chicago, Republican leader in the Illinois senate, said today that Percy sent him a copy of the letter which was postmarked from Chicago in May.

Arrington said the letter was addressed to Percy but also mentioned Arrington, Former Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the U. S. Senate Minority Leader.

UP To Meet On Thursday

Bob Spearman, Rhodes Scholar and 1964-65 Student Body President, will speak at the University Party's first meeting of the year at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in Gerrard Hall.

Spearman, who was also UP chairman as an undergraduate, will discuss the ways students can work creatively in Student Government through campus parties. Bill Purdy, student body vice-president, will then discuss the role of the student legislature on campus.

UP members will have a chance to determine the party's strategy for this year. David Kiel, UP Chairman, said any member wishing to offer a resolution should contact him before the meeting in order to have copies of the resolutions made available to other party members.

"All students are welcome," Kiel said. "I am hopeful this meeting will set the tone for an active UP year."

New Fight Song By Adler To Be Introduced Saturday

By PETE IVEY
UNC News Bureau

A newly-adopted "fight song" will be introduced at the Carolina State football game in Kenan Stadium Saturday. The song is written by Richard Adler, Broadway producer, UNC alumnus and composer-lyricist.

Richard Adler staged "Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees" and other musicals. He will crown "Miss Consolidated University" at the game.

Health Dept. Receives Grant

The University of North Carolina has been notified by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare that it will have a total of $42,400 to award for the coming academic year under the new Health Professions Scholarship program.

The Health Professions Scholarship Program is a new program which will be in operation for the first time during the coming academic year, according to Julian D. Mason Jr., director of student aid at the University.

Adler is a 1943 graduate of UNC.

He has written special lyrics to a new "fight" song to be played by the UNC Band. The song "We're Gonna Win" is the same as a similar set of lyrics he has written for a nationally-telvised show to be seen on ABC network Wednesday, Sept. 28. The name of the television show is "Olympus 7-0000." It is a comedy.

When the Carolina band plays the song, it will be the world premiere of the tune — since four days later will be the time for the national TV show, featuring an all-star cast of New York and Hollywood actors, actresses, singers and dancers.

J. M. (Spike) Saunders, the UNC alumni secretary, is in charge of arrangements here for Dick Adler Day. He is working with Band Director Yesulaitis, with Chuck Erickson, the Athletic Director, with student groups and others planning the extra events for the State-Carolina game.

Richard Adler is a native of New York City. He came to Chapel Hill to school as a freshman in 1939, and became active in campus shows, chiefly in the student musical comedy organization "Sound and Fury." He served in the Navy in World War II, and

Richard Adler then began writing songs. He composes music and writes the words. His comedy songs in "Pajama Game" gave him his first Broadway recognition. President John F. Kennedy asked Adler to come to Washington to put on theatrical and musical shows for political fund-raising events. Adler brought the stars of New York and Hollywood to Washington for the performances and won the title "Presidential Producer."

WE'RE GONNA WIN

*We're Gonna Struggle onward and upward
We'll never give an inch in our fight
We're gonna win, win, win if it kills us
And from the way things look
It might!*

*Our badge of honor will be our bruises
Our blood may flow, but we'll be ahead
We're gonna win, win, win if it kills us.
Don't look now you're dead!*

*We'll end up beating Princeton
We'll end up beating Yale
Lissen Mister "Football Genius"
Lookin' at this bag of goodies
You'll end up in jail
I know the odds are strongly against us.
The road ahead is rocky and steep
But we will win, win, win if it kills us!
The thought of what may come fairly kills us!
Altho it may be costly we'll get by
Today the price of funerals is sky high
We're Gonna Win!*

UH-UH. LET'S WATCH THAT. The time of the second annual sex bowl game is at hand. The game will be played between teams representing Winston and Joyner at 4 p.m. today in the area adjacent to these residence halls. Spectators, volunteers, kibitzers, cheerleaders, referees and other interested persons are welcome. The stunning play depicted above took place during last year's game. —DTH Photo By Ernest H. Robl