Tar Heels Take On Wolverines Today

By BOB ORR

The once beaten North Carolina Tar Heels face nationally ranked Michigan this afternoon at Ann Arbor before an estimated crowd of 75,000 fans.

The Tar Heels, who bounced back from an opening loss to Kentucky with a 10-7 victory over N. C. State last week, are two touchdown underdogs. The 7th ranked Wolverines rolled over Oregon St. in their opener 41-0, then added a 17-7 victory over California last Saturday.

UNC will be without the services of fullback Tommy Dempsey, who injured his shoulder against State. However, Coach Jim Hickey plans to have sophomore Dick Wesolowski ready for action. The hard running Canadian missed last Saturday's game because of a knee injury. Carolina must face one of the best passing combinations in the Big Ten. Quarterback Dick Vidmer has connected on 22 of 33 passes for 364 yards in Michigan's first two games. His main receiver is captain Jack Clancy. Clancy began his senior year by setting a single game pass - catching record of ten passes for 197 yards against Oregon State. He added eight receptions for 97 yards against California. Michigan will complement their passing attack with a solid running game. Halfback Carl Ward was 4th in the Big Ten in rushing last season. Accompanying him in the Wolverine backfield will be Jim Detwiler, a star in Michigan's Rose Bowl champions of 1964.

The Tar Heels must face a rugged defensive unit, that has held two opponents to a total of seven points. The defensive backfield is an especially strong point for Michigan coach Bump Elliot. In Michigan's first two games, opposing quarterbacks were able to complete only 17 of 40 passes.

Coach Jim Hickey will be relying on the pin point passing and running of quarterback Danny Talbot. The Tar Heel coach hopes that Carolina's running attack will continue to show improvement. Wesolowski, Dave Riggs, Tom Lampman, and Mark Mazza will carry the brunt of the running.

Slated to see some action at offensive halfback is sophomore Billy Dodson. Dodson was used primarily as a kicker against State and will be counted on heavily again this capacity.

UNC's defensive unit which performed heroically against the Wolfpack will have its hands full with Michigan. Several sophomores will be counted on heavily including defensive tackle Tom Renedo and safetyman Gayle Bomar.

The nationally ranked Wolverines, who defeated Carolina last year at Chapel Hill 31 to 24, will not be taking the Tar Heels lightly. Coach Bump Elliot says that Danny Talbot is the best quarterback his team will face all year. Gametime is 1:30 EST.

Inez Turns Killer; Aims For Bahamas

MIAMI, FLA., (AP) - Mighty Hurricane Inez whirled across Cuba with screaming winds and huge flood tides Friday and aimed her fury at the Bahamas on a northwestern course that would take her far from the United States.

Her attack on Cuba came in the course of a tragic journey through the Caribbean that left unknown numbers dead and massive destruction.

Havana radio reported no deaths and only light damages despite torrential rains and hurricane force winds. But the broadcast, monitored at Miami, said the brunt of the storm hit the cities of Guantanamo, Alto Songo and La Maya, all in the southeast of Oriente Province where communications were dead.

Top winds of 138 miles an hour were recorded at Guantanamo and the radio said 3,500 families had been evacuated from the low-lying sections of the province.

As Inez battered Cuba, 94 bodies had been counted on the islands behind in the Caribbean.

Gusts of 108 miles an hour were recorded at the U. S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay where 9,000 civilian and military personnel were safely sheltered in its strong buildings which received undetermined damages. Units of the Navy's 2nd (Atlantic) Fleet had sailed south to Jamaica to escape the storm.

In the Dominican Republic, the Armed Forces Minister, Gen. Enrique Perez, said at least 60 were dead and the count may go considerably higher. He said 55 were killed in the Juancho area and five in Oviedo, where the city hall was the only building standing after the storm.

All crops were destroyed on the Dominican Republic's Barahona Peninsula in the furious onslaught of wind and wave.

Three Charged With Drinking On Church Step

Three students drinking beer on the steps of University Baptist Church were arrested at 12:30 a.m. Thursday, Chapel Hill Police reported Friday.

The three were charged with public display of beer and will go before Recorder's Court October 11.

All three students gave their addresses as a house in Fraternity Court. The church is located on South Columbia Street, adjacent to the court.

Exam Set For Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) - The fall series of Selective Service college qualification tests will be given at more than 500 test centers on Nov. 18 and 19, it was announced today.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said posters announcing the tests are now on display in colleges, universities, post offices and public buildings.

Local draft boards throughout the 50 states, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Guam, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia have application cards and information bulletins for registrants.

Any registrant may apply who is enrolled in college or is a high school senior or graduate and has not previously taken the test. A registrant takes the test only once. Selective Service said the test is intended to predict a student's ability to do college work.

All applications must be mailed to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., in a preaddressed envelope obtainable from any draft board. They must be postmarked no later than Oct. 21. Applications postmarked after that date will not be processed.

Scores will be forwarded by Educational Testing Service directly to the registrant's local board. Local boards may consider the result along with other data in the registrant's file in determining eligibility for occupational deferment as a student.

Miniskirt Arrives In Moscow Show

MOSCOW (AP) - The modified miniskirt was introduced Friday in Moscow.

The All - Union House of Fashion, arbiter of style in the Soviet Union, featured skirts up to three inches above the knee in its fall collection.

Hemlines here have been kept discreetly low, reaching the knee. Foreign girls who turned up here in miniskirts drew incredulous stares. Old people could be heard muttering in disapproval.

That's sure to change after Friday.

The breakthrough has been made.

The House of Fashion models swished by at the showing in one short skirt after another. Some hems went down to the top of the knee, but the trend was definitely up, up, up.

It looked as if once again the Soviet authorities had given in to youth.

Official morality in this country is conservative, resisting Western fads as decadent. But teen - agers, students and young working people are avid to get such things and have a way of winning out in the end. Jazz once was banned. Now it's everywhere.

Then there was the twist. Now it's apparently the turn for miniskirts.

A deputy minister of light industry, I. G. Barabanov, was even on hand for today's showing, giving more of an official stamp to the occasion. Women in the audience chatted excitedly among themselves. Men stared.

The cautious nature of the miniskirt - some thigh but not too much - was typical of Soviet style in general, and today's collection.

The highest high heels were about 2 1/2 inches, and they were not stiletto - thin. The general emphasis was on looseness, with none of the curves sharply outlined. But the models where tall, slim girls, just like in the West.

And there was daring for the men. Style - consciousness here in the sturdier sex in the past has been looked upon as al-

Klan Site Called "Insult"

RALEIGH (AP) - Gov. Dan Moore has been urged to reverse state fair Manager Arthur Pitzer's action in which booth space was rented to the Ku Klux Klan.

Golden Frinks, state field secretary for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, in a telegram Friday, asked the governor to cancel Pitzer's action as a precautionary measure for the protection of Negroes at the fair.

Frinks termed the Klan action the latest and greatest insult leveled upon the Negroes in recent months. He said Pitzer was aiding the KKK by renting the space.

The Klan reserved the space this week. J. Robert Jones, grand dragon of the North Carolina Klan, said the booth was a permanent type structure and could be moved to other fairs. It will be located near the Dorton Arena.

Frinks also sent a copy of the telegram to James Graham, state commissioner of agriculture.

Legislature Votes Ban Suit Support

By LYTT STAMPS
DTH Staff Writer

Student Legislature gave its support Thursday night to the plaintiffs in the Speaker Ban court case.

The roll call vote on the issue was 34 for the resolution, seven against and one abstaining.

"This body supports the efforts of the plaintiffs in C-59-G-66 (the Speaker Ban case) in seeking relief from any past, present, or future attempts by the State or any of its subsidiary agencies to prevent students from conducting a truly open forum for speakers and ideas," the resolution read.

The supporters of the resolution were led by Jed Dietz (SP) who introduced the bill with David Kiel (UP).

"The defendants in the case are saying those who introduced the case are irresponsible and not representative of the Student Body," Dietz told the legislators.

"The question to be answered is 'why a case?' This is outlined in the resolution," he said.

The resolution says, "The Student Legislature has consistently upheld the right of students to conduct an open forum for speakers and ideas on the campus."

It then briefly relates the development of the suit questioning the validity of the Speaker Ban and its amendments.

"The students here widely deplore the use of demonstrations, violence, and unlawful activity in resolving matters of this sort, and feel that this kind of question is best decided in a Court of Law where Constitutional questions can be justly determined, and where Constitutional rights can be secured," the resolution says.

Before the bill was introduced, Student Body President Bob Powell spoke briefly urging Legislature to act on the resolution since all arguments in the case must be presented to the Court by Wednesday.

"The defendants claim the plaintiffs are not representative of the student body," Powell said.

"I urge your action now because of the October 5 deadline for submitting arguments. That date is before your next session."

Steve Salmony, (UP) chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, speaking against a special session to consider the resolution, said, "There is no need to wait on action on the resolution."

"This session opened on a bad start with a resolution I introduced which would have prevented the President from referring to himself as a representative of the student body in the case."

"I feel this new resolution is constructive."

Salmony urged the legislators to "look at the principles of the resolution, not at past

Sitterson Regrets Prof Resignations

The resignation of four UNC Spanish professors brought an expression of regret from J. Carlyle Sitterson Friday.

"We regret indeed to lose these able faculty members in Romance Languages," Chancellor Sitterson said.

Those resigning are Prof. John Esten Keller, who has taught Spanish at Chapel Hill since 1950; William C. McCrary, who came to UNC in 1963; Daniel R. Reedy and Joseph R. Jones, both of whom have taught Spanish here since 1962.

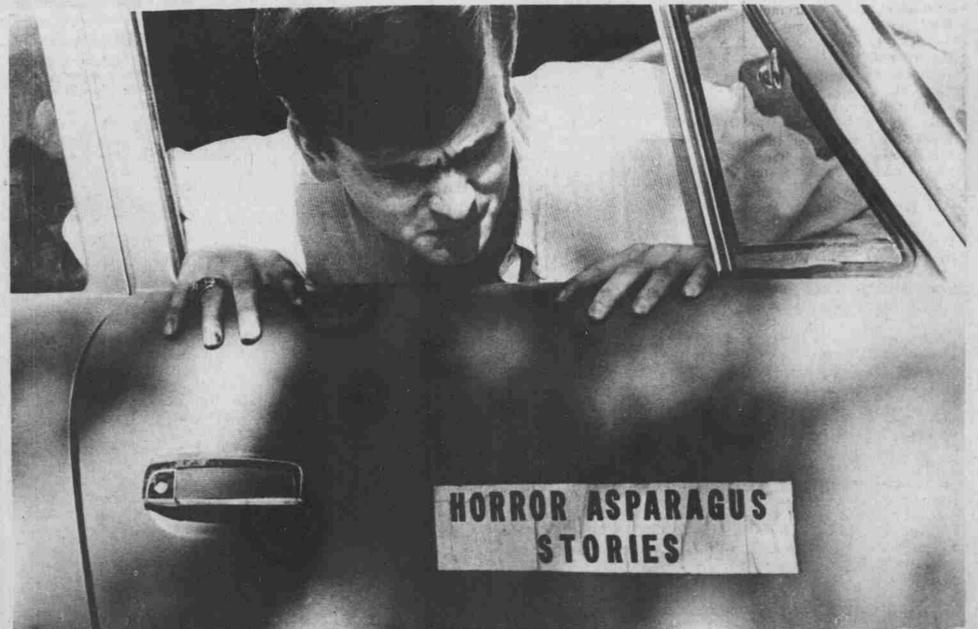

Chancellor Sitterson stated: "There are many factors that cause a professor to move from one institution to another. Dr. Keller is being offered a challenge and opportunity that was not available here; namely that of associate dean of Arts and Sciences and chairman of the Department of Spanish and Italian, in addition to a major salary increase."

He added that the other three faculty members have been offered other inducements.

"The wife of one of them has been offered a position in the department, a practice that does not prevail at Chapel Hill, the University here does not permit employment by a man and wife, on a permanent basis, in the same department."

Salary raises for the four are substantial, he said. "I understand that the minimum increase over what they are making here $4,000 a year, and for some it is more than $6,000 increase."

Sitterson added, "The departure of these able scholars is indeed a serious loss to the department and to the University. The University wishes them well in their new opportunities."

Asparagus And Airfried Borsch

ARE YOU KIDDING? If this is a new political bumper sticker for cars, forget it. "Horror Asparagus Stories" happens to be the name of a record cut by UNC's own Roger Kelly for KNR Records this summer in Los Angeles. Roger's horrified former roommate (he couldn't take it any longer) Walt examines the new car sticker. Roger now plays rhythmic guitar with the One Eyed Jacks of Chapel Hill. Oh, and by the way, flip side "Asparagus" is none other than "The Reality of Airfried Borsch." Sheesh!

Dean Asks 'Discretion' In Dress

Dean of Women Katherine Carmichael has requested that women students "use a little more discretion" in their dress on campus.

The request was made in a letter to the president of the Women's Residence Council, Susan Gretz.

Carol Norman, chairman of the Rules Committee for the Women's Residence Council, said that Dean Carmichael sent the letter after seeing "several examples of extremely tight slacks on campus."

A change was made in the women's rules concerning acceptable dress for coeds this September.

The new rule allows the "use of discretion in dress" in areas other than the classroom, in the library, in administrative buildings or in the University dining facilities.

Before the rule was changed women students were not allowed to wear shorts or slacks anywhere on campus.

It is now a House Council offense to violate the "discretion" clause of the dress rule.

The new rule also allows that each dorm is responsible for making their own rules concerning the proper dress for main entrances and parlors.

Miss Norman added that the change has "been a great help to female students. It has eliminated the raincoat problem," referring to the concealing of shorts and slacks under coats as co-eds walked out of their dorms.

She urged that in order to keep the rule in effect in coming years that coeds use common sense when and where they wear sports clothes and that they consider the fit of the clothes before appearing in public.

Four Tops Cancel

Due to the unexpected hospitalization of the Four Tops' lead singer, the group will be unable to perform here tonight, according to Mr. Howard Henry, GM Director. Re-funds will be available at GM next week.
