It's a big task — trying to provide a program and environment for theology that will both interest and enhance the college student's mind — but its being done at UNC!

The most important objective of the campus churches is to make religion not an hour-a-week affair, but an integral part of the student's life. It is important for the student to realize that theology is not "a thing apart."

To accomplish these objectives the ministry of the university churches covers an extremely wide territory.

Campus chaplains of every denomination are available at any time to be of service to the student. Organizations such as Wesley Foundation (Methodist), Newman Club (Catholic), Hillel Foundation (Jewish), plus Lutheran, Episcopal, Baptist, and Presbyterian Student Centers provide a home-away-from-home atmosphere for the student who makes the effort to take advantage of their facilities.

Most of these centers are equipped with study rooms or libraries for the student's use, and several have T.V. rooms and other recreational conveniences.

Individual counseling can be obtained by a student from a theologian at any time.

SEMINARS HELD

Seminars covering every phase of life for every type of student from the devout evangelist to the critical agnostic are being offered regularly by all denominations. Most seminars are completely informal, and are usually at a faculty members house or a student center.

Although many of these activities border on being social, their purpose is to make religion a natural part of the college student's life. They are not meant to "take up time" many of the churches on an "ask and ye shall receive" basis.

Several churches are offering films for the student's enjoyment and interest. The films are usually followed by a discussion concerning the film.

Speakers are being invited to preside at symposiums and seminars at almost every church. Reading and study material written by such famous theologians as Soren Kierkegaard, who is heralded as the father of modern theology, are being made available to the student.

or to "preach" how to follow the straight-and-narrow, but rather to open the doors of Faith for the student. The rest is left up to him. He may turn his back. He may look curiously through the doorway. He may walk through the doorway only halfway. Or he may walk proudly across the threshold, sure of each step. It's up to him.

Q. Who were Carolina's best punters?

A. There is a long list of good punters in Carolina history, but Charlie Justice, a master of the quick-kick, holds the career record with his average of 42.5 over four seasons. Fullback Harry Dunkle, whose gift was long, high spirals, had the best season with a 46.16 mark in 1939. Both men were nationally recognized.

Johnson Declines Invitation

RALEIGH (AP) - Gov. Dan Moore was advised Monday President Johnson had turned down an invitation to visit North Carolina Oct. 11.

In a letter to the governor, presidential assistant W. Marvin Watson cited Johnson's planned trip to Manila Oct. 18 and "other commitments" as the major reasons behind rejecting the invitation.

It was the eighth time in the last year Johnson has turned down invitations to speak in North Carolina.

For liberal arts majors

*Professional Qualification Test—A prerequisite to qualify for a career position with the National Security Agency.

WHEN: October 22, 1966

If you expect to receive a liberal arts degree before September 1967, register for the Professional Qualification Test. Taking and passing the PQT doesn't commit or obligate you to anything, but we urge you—even if you are not now fully certain of your future interests—to investigate NSA career opportunities.

An Agency of national prominence, this unique civilian organization is responsible for developing "secure" communications systems to transmit and receive vital information. How and why does that affect you? Because NSA has a critical and growing need for imaginative people—regardless of your academic major.

You will participate in programs of national importance, working in such areas as: Cryptography (the making of codes and ciphers), analytic research, language research, data systems design and programming, and administrative management.

At NSA, your professional status and earning power grow rapidly from the day you begin, without having to wait for years of "experience." Starting salary of at least $6,451 (for bachelor's degrees), regular increases, excellent advancement possibilities... and all the benefits of Federal employment. Another advantage is NSA's location, convenient to both Baltimore and Washington and a short drive from ocean beaches and other recreational attractions.

Plan to take the PQT. It could be your first step to a great future!

IMPORTANT: THE DEADLINE FOR PQT APPLICATIONS IS OCTOBER 12. Pick up a PQT Bulletin at your Placement Office. It contains full details and the necessary registration form. Applicants must be U. S. citizens, subject to a complete physical examination and background investigation.
