

Kiss My Hand

I Was Watching A Redskin Game On TV, When She...

By HARRY FURGESON

WASHINGTON (UPI) —News item: The kissing of ladies' hands at social occasions is gaining favor in Washington. All of the foreign diplomats, of course, are experts at it and some American men are taking up the practice.

So I've got the Washington Redskins and the Giants on the television and suddenly she gets between me and the screen and starts waving the Washington Post and I say you are beautiful my dear but could you step aside so I can see what play Sonny Jurgensen is about to call in this situation which is third and six on the Giants 34.

She says I am under the impression that Mr. Otto Graham receives munificent monetary compensation for coaching and supervising the activities of the Redskins off and on the field and I am sure if he needs your help he will telephone you so shut up and look at this picture.

She sticks the paper in my face and it's a picture of Lady Bird holding out her arm and a guy with a bushy mop of hair and all dressed up in one of them white necktie suits is kissing her hand. I say so what and she says that man is Van Cliburn and he is greeting Lady Bird as a gentleman should greet a lady because Van Cliburn is not only an internationally accomplished pianist but he is a true cosmopolitan which is the funny way she has been talking with big words ever since she sent away for a correspondence course called enlarge your word power and fascinate your friends.

She says it is time for Old World courtesy and gallantry to find their way into American civilization and cultural concepts so from now on you are going to kiss my hand, and furthermore Charlie Craddock is going to kiss Helen's hand and Bob Blake is going to kiss Doris' hand and John Maddox is going to kiss Barbara's hand and all of you husbands are going to kiss all the wives' hands on arrivals and departures from social occasions and just don't say hi there when you do it say something like good evening madame we talked it over at bridge yesterday and its all settled.

I says well all I know about kissing dames' hands is I saw a movie once and Marilyn Monroe says a kiss on the hand makes a girl feel good but a diamond bracelet lasts forever so a kiss on the hand can't be the greatest thing in the world for you. She says I accept your gracious and generous offer of a diamond bracelet which is a commodity that has been in short supply in this marital establishment for the last twenty years or two decades but you still are going to kiss my hand and the hands of my female friends be they guests or hostesses.

A roar comes out of the TV and I know somebody has scored so I says would you step aside long enough for me to see what's happening and she says that won't be necessary you can hear what the man is saying a Mister Gogolak scored three points for the Redskins as the man so crudely phrases it booting the pigskin squarely between the uprights. Real sarcastic like I says that's just great and now would you be kind enough to tell me if anybody is kissing Charlie Gogolak's hand or is that thrill reserved only for dames? She says it is an exclusive prerogative reserved for the female sex and no man can understand its potential for building and maintaining morale and as sense of euphoria. Just look how radiant Lady Bird is while Van Cliburn is kissing her hand why Barbara Maddox was saying only yesterday the main reason Lady Bird always is looking radiant is because the diplomats kiss her hand and Helen Craddock verified that statement by stating she personally had viewed photographs of Lady Bird's hand being kissed by ambassadors extraordinary and envoys plenipotentiary such as Senor Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador and count Kield Gustav-Winterfeldt of Denmark and Dr. Guillermo Seville-Sacasa of Nicaragua not to mention uncounted legions of such people as the deputy air attache at the Italian embassy and the envoy of cultural affairs from the Republic of Switzerland.

I've had it by now so I says if you don't shut up I'm going nuts and how about going away some place fairly far so I can watch this game on which I have bet ten smackers on a six point spread favor the Redskins. She says ah we now are the crucial stage and focal point of this fascinating discussion of contemporary manners and protocol how would you like to watch all the Redskins' games for the rest of the season and even have Charlie Craddock and Bob Blake and Johnny Maddox over to join you sometimes on Sunday afternoon. I will provide the beer and potato chips or maybe even solid Old World wine for your consumption and pleasure but no hard liquor because you might over indulge and spill some on my rug.

I says that would be just great but I know there's a catch somewhere so come on out with it. She says it merely will be a binding compact between thou and me that you will practice kissing hands until you become proficient at that courtly gesture and then exercise it at social events.

THE VIRGINIANS, Epic Label's hot new vocal group from UNC, will appear in Carmichael Auditorium Thursday night as a part of the Bob Hope Show sponsored by the Arnold Air Society. Their new release "It's A Long Walk Back To Paradise" is beginning to show action across the country. Hope's manager has contracted the group to follow the show to the University of Virginia the following night. This will be the group's first major appearance at UNC.

Small Spats Help Marriage, But Don't Let It Go Too Far

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP) —A spirited spat is good for most marriages, a psychiatrist said yesterday, but watch out for overkill.

"Marriage fights have the character of a pitched battle," said Dr. Alfred D. Messer. "Not only does one want to defeat the opposition, but defeat him so soundly that he will never rise again."

He told the American Psychiatric Association Convention that arguments are inevitable in a marriage and probably offer one of the best ways couples have to work out touchy problems.

"Two individuals who live intimately together must occasionally frustrate one another," said Messer, an Emory University professor.

Neither spouse makes much of these problems — toothpaste tubes squeezed in the middle, dirty socks on the floor, burned potatoes, broken budgets — until they build up to a flashpoint, Messer said. "There is an explosion," he said. "One partner will then drag out a catalog of these incidents in an attempt to 'slay' the other partner."

"What is said in the heat of battle cannot, of course, be taken as the whole truth," he said. Husband and wife must keep in mind the theme of the fight and not concentrate too hard on the particulars, Messer said.

"When most of the frustrations have been talked out or discharged in some vicarious way," he said, the fight can be ended. At this point one partner will release a coy dove of peace, he said. "The gesture itself may be quite innocuous. A woman may decide to bake a particular food her husband likes, or mend his sock; A husband may decide to buy a particular household item the couple had talked about purchasing.

Well, the frost is on the pumpkin and some of the finest acts available are slated for the area this weekend. Tonight, the fabulous Embers are performing at their club. Thursday, Bob Hope will warm the hearts and tickle the ribs of a sell-out crowd of super-cool Tarheels. Also, the Virginians will be on hand to sing their hit single, "Long Way Back To Paradise."

Friday, Granville West presents a pre-halloween carnival-combo party in their basement, at eight. Appropriate booths and decor along with "The Loved Ones" (were the Shadows) will make for a hauntingly good time. Best costume, though not required, will win five dollars, cold cash. The six bits a stag, buck a couple, admission price will go towards a future orphans' party. Also, the Tactics will be on hand at the Embers Club.

The long awaited (ha!) Righteous Brothers show at Dorton Arena begins at eight, Saturday. Starring along with the Dynamic Duo will be Nino Tempo and April Stevens. The exciting Sergio Mendez and his Brazil '66 will be featured in concert at Duke Indoor Stadium at 6:30 p.m.

The same night, the Embers Club presents the out-of-this-world Aqua Lads who are one of the most exciting bands on the circuit. Sunday, the Ed Sullivan Show will feature James Brown and his entire show. His previous performance that included a half dozen capes was a rage. So try and view it on a color tube. Monday, Halloween night, the bat signal is supposed to illuminate the northern sky at nine o'clock.

Comin' up on Monday, November 14, at Dorton is another C & M Productions Spectacular. It features four, count 'em, big acts, along with a big show. Incidentally, those four are Wilson Pickett, Sam and Dave, Billy Stewart, and Junior Walker and the All Stars. Tickets are on sale at the Record Bar. More information later. Those of you who missed "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" can see it at Raleigh's Ambassador theatre. "Morgan" continues to attract large crowds at Durham's Rialto. Ditto for "Doctor Zhivago" at the Center. "Khartoum" playing at Durham's Carolina features many fantastic battle scenes.

"Where do 'in' people go?"

"Out to hear the 'in-est' south-of-the-border sound since Tijuana Brass!"

SERGIO MENDES & BRASIL '66

DEAR REB:
Even When She Answers, He Still Gets the Busy Signal.
DEAR REB:
Lately, every time I call my girl, she's either "not in" or "not interested." Last week I called her 23 times and couldn't even make a coffee date. The trouble started when she started dating a guy who owns a Dodge Coronet. Now she goes to parties with him, dances, football games, etc. Do you think I should call her again, or should I forget her and break her heart?
BAD CONNECTIONS
DEAR BAD CONNECTIONS:
I think your next call should be to your Dodge Dealer. Then make a date to see the '67 Coronet, the car that's breaking hearts all over America. You'll find that its good looks are pretty hard to resist. Now, before you break your girl's heart, give her another break. Ask her to go for a ride in your new Coronet. I think she'll get the signal.
Sincerely, Reb

Here's the heartbreaker... '67 Dodge Coronet 500. A campus favorite with its great new looks, ride, and list of extras that are standard. Like bucket seats with either a companion seat in the middle or a center console. Plush carpeting. Padded instrument panel. Padded sun visors. Seat belts, front and rear. A choice of Six or V8 models. And lots more. So get with '67 Dodge Coronet and get busy.
