The Sportscope

By Bill Hass

Clemson's Tigers will be snarling and ready to go in Death Valley against the Tar Heels this Saturday. There are two specific reasons for this. First, UNC beat Clemson last year, but the Tigers were on the one foot line at the game's end. Second, Carolina roughed up the Tigers 29-0 on their last visit to Death

Frank Howard is not a man who will forget these things. He will be out to atone for that embarrassing decision two years ago. Clemson rarely loses a game that badly in its own stomping grounds.

There is a lot of joking about the Clemson quarterback, Jimmy Addison. He stands 6 feet and weighs 147. Howard says Addison could stand under a clothesline in a rain and never get wet. But "The Needle" is an excellent passer, second only to Virginia's Bob Davis. He loves to roll out and throw and he gets rid of the ball quickly.

The rest of the squad is typically rugged. The line is big, led by Wayne Mass, a fine offensive tackle. Clemson has been beaten by Georgia Tech, Alabama and Southern California, all in the top ten. In the three games they've won the Tigers have had to rally each time.

They'll be tough, but they can be had, if Carolina can scrape up 11 men to put on the field at one time. There's been a lot of criticism about this team, especially in view of the win over Michigan.

The fact is, though, that this is not quite the same team that beat Michigan. Three interior lineman, two quarterbacks, a defensive end and a linebacker have been hurt since then. When that many first-rate ballplayers are lost, it's hard for the team to adjust.

Consider the offensive line. The situation is so desperate there that four sophomores are playing in the five positions, not counting the ends. Our sophomores are big and they are good. But they are still sophomores and are inexperienced. They are bound to make mistakes, and when they are thrown against a veteran defensive line like Georgia's spearheaded by an All-America tackle, they are going to get the worst of the deal.

The team's inability to score has been giving the coaching staff nightmares. The biggest factor here is Danny Talbott's ineffectiveness. With a bad ankle, Danny can't roll out. His best weapon is gone. Tim Karrs is simply not a roll out quarterback.

Still, there must be some way of getting the ball over. When the Tar Heels do, I think they'll explode for a bushel of points. This team has been snakebitten all year. They're due to put everything togeth-

CAROLINA GRILL STEAKS

THE FAMOUS "GRILL" STEAK

plus

* 12 full oz.

* Baked Potato * Crisp Salad

* Hot Roll

ONLY

The steak is a must for the gourmet -Devine with a beer - the BEST in town for any price.

TONIGHT - In Person, the CHARADES

Combo starting at 8:30.

312 W. Franklin St.

Phone 942-2564

Pierced Ear Rings

T. L. KEMP Jewelry "Home of the Old Well Charm"

wing and John Loud, who scor-

By DRUMMOND BELL DTH Sportswriter

Carolina's soccer team plays non-conference Belmont Abbey today on Fetzer field after consecutive conference wins over N. C. State and Virginia.

Coach Allen's squad has not letdown since their loss to Maryland and is well aware that they must win the remainder of their games if they have any aspirations of a chance for a post season national championship bid.

A few changes have been made in the starting lineup and these are at the fullback and forward positions. Starting will be in charge of controlling offensively for the Tar Heels the center of the halfback conwill be Jack Writer at the left tingent.

ed twice against Virginia will be at the left inside if his left foot has recovered from an injury incurred against N.C. State two weeks ago. Otherwise, sophomore Landy Anderton will fill in at his position. The right side of the offensive line will have junior Larry Heath at right inside and either Bronsan Van Wyck or Jim Crane at right wing.

At the halfback positions will be Dan Galves on the left side and Jamie Camfield on the right. Co-captain Jim Hammer

Defensively, co-captain Bob Johnson will start in the goal after his shutout performance against the Cavaliers. His defensive support will be supplied by left fullback Terry Henry, center fullback Jim Johnston and right fullback John Gussenheven, who has gained a starting berth since Bronsan Van Wyck has moved back to his old position on the forward

This is the booters second consecutive home game and af ter Belmont Abbey they play East Carolina. Today's game starts at 3 o'clock and if you're in the mood for excitment, stop by Fetzer field and support a growing sport at Chapel the rest of the Tar Heels will take mont Abbey.

Left fullback Terry Henry and to Fetzer Field today against Bel-

DTH Photo by Jock Lauterer

Thinclads Meet Blue Devils At Duke Golf Course Today

By DRUMMOND BELL DTH Sportswriter

Carolina's enthusiastic and talented cross country team meets the Duke Blue Devils on Duke Gold course today in what should determine the

Duke Game Sellout

The 53rd football meeting between old rivals North Carolina and Duke here Nov. 19 is a complete sellout, it has been announced by Vernon Crook, UNC business manager of

"Not only is our supply at Carolina exhausted," Crook said, "but I have been informed by officials at Duke that week ago. they no longer have a single ticket for sale."

A portable grandstand will be erected in the east end zone for the game, but all tickets in that section already have been sold.

This means that a crowd of hand for the game at Kenan

Come to the

502 W. Franklin St.

Chapel Hill

CHAPEL HILL TIRE CO.

for

* 3 Full-Time Mechanics on Duty

WINTER WEATHER

PROTECTION

Umbrellas 2.99 & 3.99

Just Arrived!

One Gal. Prestone

Anti-Freeze ...

* One-Day Recapping

* Front End Alignment

* Goodyear Tires

* Brake Service

next Monday in Raleigh.

Coach Hilton's squad has son. Junior Mike Williams is everytime he steps onto a cross country course and the sophomores have been gaining confidence and speed.

team in the State championship and the conference meet. Duke has plenty of talent and outstanding individuals in the likes of Paul Rogers, Fred Stenberg, Bill Weldon and a 5-2 record losing to Mary- son and Fred McCall. land and Wake Forest, a team

Heels on a course which dif- Maryland Terrapins. fers greatly from Finley in that hills make up three quarters of the layout.

The Blue Devils will have more than 47,000 will be on their work cut out for them as Mike Williams has shown that he may be the best run-

967-7091

..... 1.77

state championship to be held ner in the ACC and sophomores Truitt Goodwin, Steve Williams, Jim Hotelling, Joe improved considerably since Lasich, Wayne Franklin and their only loss of the year to Kent Autry are living up to Maryland earlier in the sea- their early season headlines and running with the likes of running near record times co - captain Trip McPherson, Bill Bassett and Mike Williams

The Tar Heels are blessed with exceptional depth which seems to be Duke's problem. Last year the thinclads beat With Rogers and Stenberg the Duke 27-28 at Chapel Hill and Blue Devils have two runners then lost to Coach Buehler's capable of winning any race, but lack the depth to have an outstanding squad,

Hilton has extra strength in in co - captain Charlie Worley, whose running has not been up to par since his early Fred Zodda. Thus far this season ankle injury, Ed Daw, season the Blue Devils sport who ran near the top last sea-After the Duke meet Caro-which Carolina beat 17-46 a lina will prepare for the state championship in Raleigh. At However, the harriers will that time the Tar Heels hope have no easy meet even to regain the title they lost to though Duke lost to the Dea- Duke and then look to the cons. Last year was an ex- ACC championship and hopeample of an upset. The Tar fully to the dethroning of the

1. Notre Dame Michigan State

UCLA 4. Alabama

Georgia Tech Nebraska

Florida

Arkansas Southern California

10. Tennessee Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Georgia, Harvard, Houston, Miami, Florida, Mississippi, Purdue, Southern Methodist, Syracuse, Wyom-

Female Help Wanted

Univ. Library.

Ground Floor

Student wife to work as cashier. Apply at the Carolina Theater.

Soccermen Play Belmont Abbey Sandy Koufax Is Cy Young Award Winner Third Time

NEW YORK-(AP)-Sandy Koufax, the arthritic and artistic left-hander of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Tuesday was named the winner of the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in major league baseball for an unprecedented third time.

The stylish 30-year-old south paw, who posted a 27 - 9 record for the National League champions, added the 1966 award to his collection by unanimous vote of the 20-member panel of the Baseball Writers Association of America, just as he did in 1963

Koufax, apparently seeking to make the award his exclusive trophy, is the only pitcher to win it more than once since it was originated in

And he may have become the last pitcher to win the award as it is now designed, covering both major leagues. Voting is now being conducted by the baseball writers on a motion to make similar awards to the best pitchers in each league.

In the 11 years the award has been given, National League pitchers have won it seven times to four for the American League ,Koufax, with his three awards, has been the difference.

He also was the difference

during the regular season of the Dodgers, rounding into shape quickly after his dual holdout with Don Drysdale brought him a salary in the neighborhood of $130,000. He won more games than any other pitcher in the ma-

DINING

jors, completed 27 of his 41 starts, hurled five shutouts, led the majors in strikeouts with 317 and in earned run average with a 1.73 mark.

Koufax also pitched the pennant - clincher, beating Philadelphia 6 - 3 on the final day of the season. But he lost his only start in the World Series as the Baltimore Orioles swept the Dodgers in four straight games.

"The more I think about the World Series," said Koufax in a telephone interview, "the more I think the award should have been split four ways among the Baltimore

"I don't believe I pitched as well as I did last year," he said. "I don't really know why. There's nothing I can put my finger on. It just seemed that way. I gave up more walks and had less strikeouts.

"The arm still gets sore occasionally but there's no treatment I can take for it. Just rest. I'm not doing any outside work. Just playing a little golf and catching up with things that were left over from the season."

Asked what factors would determine whether he retires -there have been recurring reports-and when he will finally make up his mind, Koufax answered:

"The only factor would be my physical condition. I don't know when I'll decide." Koufax also said he had not entered into any contract dis-

ROOM

ly believed that he will be shooting for $150,000. PANCAKES

cussions yet and would not comment on what he might be asking, although it is general-

PANCAKES PANCAKES PANCAKES PANCAKES PANCAKES PANCAKES

.. all you can eat (with sausages) for just $1, or just 50c if you're a child ...

7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

November 5

University Methodist Church

Sponsored by Chapel Hill Kiwanis Club for youth and community activities

> AUNT JEMIMA PANCAKE JAMBOREE

Mon.-Fri.

Luncheon Special For Today

MEAT LOAF with Tomato Sauce

Choice Of Two Vegetables

Salad W/Dressing

Beverage - Bread & Butter

Homemade Layer Cake

HONDA FALL SALES

SPECTACULAR

BIG SAVINGS on Many, Many, Many NEW and USED BIKES

OPEN ROAD INC.

616 W. Chapel Hill St. DURHAM

HONDA

AFTER POETRY FORUM No. 5

Come in and see our contemporary poetry. We're out of Anne Sexton's Live or Die and Sylvia Plath's Ariel (How were we to guess?), but we still have John Berryman, Robert Bly, James Dickey, Robert Duncan, David Ignatow, Randall Jarrell, Robert Lowell, W. D. Snodgrass, and, as they say, a host of others.

HEAD

BOOKSHOP