Ali Akbar Khan

Hindu Musician Plays Here Wed. Evening

Ali Akbar Khan, famed North Indian musician and "master of the sarod," will be in concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Hill Hall.

The program, sponsored by Graham Memorial, is free. Ali Akbar's mastery of the delicate sarod places him in the front rank of Indian musicians.

He practiced music eighteen hours a day for fifteen years, and today is the State Musician of Jodhpur. He received the President of India's Award in 1962 for his contribution to Indian Music.

Born in Bengal in 1922, Ali Akbar was tutored from the age of five by his father, and earned the title "master musician" while in his early thirties.

UNC Students Spend Holidays At Seminar

Thirty-five UNC students heard talks on the Arab-Israeli conflict and on nuclear non-proliferation at the annual United Nations Seminar held over the Thanksgiving holidays in New York.

The trip is sponsored each year by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations under direction of the YMCA and YWCA. Group leader for the council this year was Max Jones of Asheville.

The seminar began on Friday morning with a general tour of the United Nations. The 35 delegates met with Dr. Hammad, adviser with the Permanent Mission of Jordan to the UN. Dr. Hammad discussed the Arab-Israeli conflict.

The problem was further discussed by Mr. David Ariel, Permanent Mission Consul of Israel to the UN who met with the group at 11:00 a.m.

Talks on nuclear non-proliferation were begun by Mrs. R. C. Arora, First Secretary for the Permanent Mission of India to the UN. Later Mr. Jean-Noel de Lacoste, Secretary of the French mission spoke on the subject. The last meeting of the day was held at the United States mission with Mr. William Miller, adviser to the mission. On Saturday Dr. Frank Porter Graham, former president of the university, now mediator for the UN, spoke to the group on Indonesian Independence.

After each talk there were informal discussion sessions in which the delegates posed related questions to the speakers.

Participants were chosen for the seminar on the basis of interest and former experience with the UN. A chartered bus took the group up on Wednesday. While in New York they stayed at the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel. The delegates returned to Chapel Hill Sunday night.
