

In Sunday's DTH

In America, Christmas is the season that the children love most and the mailmen love the least. Did you know that 3.5 billion Christmas cards will be mailed this year in this country? Did you have any idea that America's Christmas wrappings and ribbon for the upcoming holiday were piled up and weighed, it would come to over 400 million pounds? Do you know where you can buy a leopard skin desk blotter for $1,500 for that man in your life who has everything? These and dozens of other fascinating subjects will be explored tomorrow, when the Daily Tar Heel presents "Christmas in America."

PAPERBACKS IN REVIEW

A publisher's survey of what's new in the way of unrequired reading

We'll award the brass figlees with bronze oak-leaf palm to anybody out there who can identify the author and the novel referred to in this quotation from a review in the New York Post: "The author obviously grew up in a Chicago-shadowed Indiana mill-town and he . . . emerges with a spirited and entertaining tale of well-spent youth. All of the characters are so believable we'd like to get to know them better, and many incidents are gloriously funny."

Okay, we'll give you a hint. This author (let's call him Charlie Apperlot for the moment) has been described by the New York Times as "one of the greatest raconteurs in the history of radio." Satyr, the humor magazine of UCLA said "Apperlot is a unique phenomenon: a social critic in the mass medium."

What's that? No, it's NOT Susan Sontag, for crying out loud!

Who? Nat Hentoff? The Catcher in the WHAT? Holy Smoke! Isn't there anybody out there who listens to the radio?

Look. This guy once played the sousaphone. He won the Playboy Humor/Satire Award in 1965. (And again in 1966. Wow! Consecutive! The first time in Playboy history!) He appears every Saturday night at a place called the Village Limelight. He's been a columnist for the Village Voice and the Realist.

He's written plays, movies, compiled anthologies, and acted on the legitimate stage. He performs at colleges. Six nights a week he tells them on the Jersey Turnpike what life is all about. Now he's written a novel which gets down to the furry, evil, green-eyed reality inside all of us!

The syllables in his name are blank, blank-blank. All right, all together gang, who is it?

Who said John Updike? Look kid, why don't you go out and get yourself a job this summer. Maybe you'll learn something for a change. We have just what you need. It's called the SUMMER EMPLOYMENT GUIDE 1967 and we put it out in paperback for the National Employment Services Institute and sell it for $2.95. It has over 50,000 job possibilities in recreation, government, and business arranged geographically and by type of job. There must be something somewhere you can do.

Oh, all right. Don't cry. You really want to know about the other thing? Okay, bring it up in the control room — a little of that Reality Razzmatazz. Shepherd! Yes, as a public service, Mr. Jean Shepherd, everybody's favorite, has written a novel of reality entitled IN GOD WE TRUST, ALL OTHERS PAY CASH. It is at your college store now and it costs $4.50 and if you want one more reason to buy it Miles Smith of the good old A.P. says: "This is a genuinely funny book . . . about a 20th century Tom Sawyer . . . It isn't funny-bitter; it is funny ha-ha . . . Grab it for a real adventure into unabashed pleasure."

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT GUIDE 1967 and IN GOD WE TRUST, ALL OTHERS PAY CASH (yes, for crying out loud, we know it's not a paperback but it is unrequired) are published by Doubleday & Company, Inc., Garden City, New York, publishers also of Anchor Books and lots of other books you'll find at one of the best-equipped bookstores in the country — your own college store.

'Draft Age Should Be Made Voting Age'

Eighteen year-old vote? Hmmm . . .

By GWEN RIERSON
Special to the DTH
Should 18-year-olds be allowed to vote?
Here are some ideas from UNC students and faculty:

Mikie Wall, Whiteville, senior, journalism — "Granted there are a lot of 18-year-olds who are mature enough to make a wise decision, but the majority of them are as dumb as I was at 18. Even if they don't agree, there's a lot of difference between the years 18 and 21, and I think they should wait until they reach the age of 21 to vote."

Dave Chrisco, Downers Grove, Ill., junior, B.A. — "I'm against it. They aren't ready to make a political decision. At that age, they aren't politically aware."

Alan Thursby, Jacksonville, junior, history — "No. I think they ought to up the voting age to 25."

Mike Kelly, Carlisle, Pa., junior, Latin American studies — "I'm all in favor of it."

Susan Brewer, Winston Salem, junior, psychology — "I don't think it's a good idea because an 18-year-old is much easier to sway than a person of 21."

Jimmy Womack, Selma, senior, English — "I'm in favor of it because the 18-year-old today is mature enough to voice his opinion on a ballot."

Jene Williams, Allentown, Pa., graduate, drama — "I think it's a wonderful thing."

Janet Taxis, Winston Salem, junior, English — "An 18-year-old is too immature to vote; he is too concerned with other things to worry about politics."

Tom Rezzuto, Asheville, faculty, drama — "Yes, I think they should."

Leslie Campbell, Hamlet, senior, English — "If you're old enough to be drafted, you're old enough to vote."

Fred Lambert, Mount Airy, senior, English — "I am in favor. If you can answer for crimes, you can vote."

Brenda Dula, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., senior English — "It doesn't matter to me; I'm already 21."

Chuck Caldwell, Chamblee, Ga., junior, chemistry — "No because as a general rule they aren't educated enough. In fact, most people aren't educated enough, but that's beside the point."

Gloria Stephenson, Mount Olive, senior, psychology — "I don't think the 18-year-old is mature enough, but if they're mature enough to fight, why can't they vote? After all, how many 21-year-olds are mature enough — or even 18-year-olds?"

Gene Irons, Chapel Hill, sophomore, journalism — "When I left Kentucky, I was able to vote and be drafted. When I got to North Carolina I was able to be drafted, but not to vote."

TRAINEES WANTED

GLENN YARBROUGH "In" Songs for the "On" Crowd

From college concert to supper club performance, the magic is always the same when the artist is Glenn Yarbrough. No one delivers a song quite like Glenn, as you'll hear in his two latest albums. The songs are important, their messages are meaningful, and many of them were written by Rod McKuen — one of today's most talked-about composers. Pick these recordings up soon — they're happening now at your record store.
