

Carolina Cindermen Meet Duke Here This Afternoon

By DRUMMOND BELL
DTH Sports Writer

After an initial display of strength Carolina's track team meets the Duke Blue Devils in the Tin Can this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Carolina defeated Duke and State by the score of 64-32-29 on Saturday in their first triangular meet of the Indoor season.

After the fine performances of the sophomores in the field events, Carolina appears to have the nucleus for a strong contingent.

Soph Mike Richey and Tim Farmer finished one-two in the shotput on Saturday as Richey's 49'6 3/4" toss took the top honors. In the high jump a 6'5" effort by soph Dave Lassiter won the event as teammate Dan Lowman placed second. Duke's Brown won the pole vault Saturday with a vault of 13'6", but sophs Bob Davila and Archie Hicks were close behind and with the addition of letterman Lecter Hyder, the thinclads should be stronger.

Broad jumper Gary Iverson leaped 20' 11 1/2" in the opener, but he may be pressed by Duke's Culver, who finished second.

The hurdles are a Duke stronghold. Blue Devils Martin and Fraser took the first two places Saturday ahead of Carolina sophs Lowry and Lassiter.

Three-year letterman Jon Levin showed his conference title winning form last weekend as he won the 60 yd. dash in 6.3. Soph Dave Canady added depth to the event as he placed third. If Duke's Dunaway runs today, Levin may find the going tougher as Dunaway has beaten Levin in the longer sprints and could be a surprise.

In the distance events Carolina is the favorite to take most of the honors. Duke's Stenberg and Robers ran well Saturday, but Stenberg's 4:14 mile wasn't good enough to beat Carolina's Williams time of 4:10.

Coach Hilton may well switch his line-up in the distances and have Williams run the half, which he ran in 1:48.6 last year in the Indoor NCAA championship.

-Faculty-

Joining the psychology department as assistant professor next fall will be Dr. Paul G. Shinkman. A graduate of Harvard, he received the masters and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Michigan, where he has been a post-doctoral fellow for the past two years. He also was a research assistant, National Science Foundation Fellow and teaching fellow at Michigan.

Three of the new faculty appointments were in the Division of Health Affairs.

Beginning in May, Dr. John W. Zemp will become an assistant professor at the Center for Research in Pharmacology and Toxicology. He was educated at the College of Charleston and the Medical College of South Carolina and holds the Ph.D. degree from UNC. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he has taught at Stanford and at the U. S. Naval Hospital and has worked in flight physiology at the U. S. Naval Air Station.

Professor Meal Chits Begun

said. "The student will be at his liberty to ask his instructor to speak in Morrison to come up to his room for a beer and bull session, or anything else he wants to do. "We do feel, though," he said, "that any greater understanding between faculty and students is an objective well worth working for."

"Faculty are often far too ignorant of just what the residence hall 'facts of life' are. This meal ticket program is not an end in itself, just a means to the end of greater faculty - student co-operation and understanding on an informal level," said Hudson.

With exams coming up, Hudson can not say just what reasons will be responsible for the invitations. The sign in Morrison says at the bottom: "Invite your professors. . . A little snow never hurt anyone."

John Ellis, Governor of Morrison, says the program is "a good idea. I've heard a lot of comments of approval from the students already. They're saying, 'What do you know?'"

We've finally got a program I can use'.
