THE DAILY TAR HEEL

Saturday, December 2, 1967

No Audience

Backstage at Playmakers can be completely solitary light, standing out in stark relief cerie when there's no one around, Especially at against the dark curtains, And all is quiet. night. The ropes are all alone, illuminated by a

Card-Burning Law Support Asked

WASHINGTON (UP1)-The Justice Department Friday urged the Supreme Court to uphold a law that could send draft card-burners to jail. "Draft card. burning, however labeled, is conduct, not speech," it said. In a brief filed in the case of Massachusette the south the a Massachusetts youth, the department said that a 1965 amendment to Selective claim the act was "symbolic Service regulations that bans burning "does not inhibit any mode of expression tradi-tionally afforded protection un-der the First Amendm-tionally afforded protection un-der the Tirst Amendm-tionally afforded protection un-tionally afforded protection un-tionally afforded protection un-tionally afforded protection un-der the Tirst Amendm-tionally afforded protection un-tionally affo ent. . ."

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of

O'Brien's lawyers from the American Civil Liberties Union

The department argued that there is only a limited number

At issue is the appeal of

of activities that can be department said, "has no timetreated as speech and they are honored ritualistic conones which are "inextricably notations, Nor is it an essential tied to all expression or where means for the wide dissiminano reasonably effective tiot of a dissenting point of alternative means of com- view, since an array of efmunication is available." fective alternative modes of Draft card burning, the expression exist."

The department likened the language of the 1965 amendment against draft card burning to statutes prohibiting the destruction of public property and said the amendment suffered from no unconstitutonal vagueness.

Print Sale Nets $1,500

Wallace Called LBJ 'Tool'

The junior class-Book Exchange sponsored print sale ended Frida.y About $1,500 worth of prints were sold, of which the junior class gets apout $150. Most of the money the class made will have to be used to pay for debts incurred last year, class president Charlie Farris said.

operating on a nationwide

basis, or inciting a city to riot,

In prepared remarks Kirk

country is only one symptom

of the disease of irresponsibility that is attacking

this nation and its in-

He noted that a motorcycle

gang in Palm Beach, Fla. had recently nailed a girl to a tree

for holding out money from the

ANDREWS

DUPLICATING

SERVICE

419A W. Franklin St.

One day thesis printing

situtions."

gang.

"all is not well in body chemistry to be upset for a few yeeks, one of the nation's foremost surgeons said here in the first Luther H. Hodges Lecture on Vascular Surgery. Some patients require months for their bodies to regain their chemical balance. But a few patients stay in congestive heart failure.

Special To The Daily Tar Heel

Most patients who have ail-

"This last situation is not yet completely understood," Dr. John W. Kirklin told his audience.

"Basically, the problem is that some patients remain in heart failure even though their mechanical valvular defects have been repaired.

"Research is being carried out to determine all the various phenomena involved in this and to search for ways to prevent it in the future.' Dr. Kirklin, introduced at the lecture as "a surgeon's surgeon," is chairman of the Department of Surgery at the University of Alabama Medical College. He formerly held a similar position at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He has made major contributions to the development of open-heart surgery and heart-lung machines. His 55-minute lecture was devoted to a resume of a portion of his heart research during the last five years. The Hodges Lectureship was established by former governor Luther H. Hodges to bring outstanding authorities on vascular surgery to UNC.

Heart Failures

Page 6

Rocky: Reagan Hurting Nixon

Second and the second second

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said Friday the current front-runner for the Republican presidential nomination, Richard M. Nixon, may find much of his "locked-in" delegate support actually belongs to Gov. Ronald Reagan of Claifornia.

Rockefeller told reports that "anybody's beatbale" - including President Johnson. "Anyone who counts their chickens at this point in terms of votes is unrealistic," the GOP governor said. Once again he said he would not be a candidate under any circumstances.

Rockefeller told reporters that "anybody's beatable"-including thinks his choice for the nomination, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, can regain the position of leadership he held a few months ago.

"I think Gov, Romney is going to do surprisingly well in the primaries with a major effort," Rockefeller said.

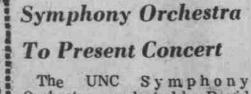

Rockefeller himself brought up Reagan as a "factor to be taken into consideration when you consider that Nixon's locked-up for parts in Eugene O'Neill's comedy "Ah, Wilderness." delegates may turn out to be Reagan delegates."

Rockefeller did not question that Nixon was the current frontrunner but said it was premature to say he would be the nominee when delegates to next August's national convention had not yet been elected.

"I'm just an observer of the scene," he said, reiterating, "I have said consistently that under no circumstances will I be a candidate."

Asked whether he would accept the nomination if it were offered him, he said: "That's a bridge I haven't crossed because I don't think it's a reality."

Orchestra, conducted by David Serrins, will present its 1967 winter concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Hill Hall.

Featured will be Mozart's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra, K. 219, a composition requiring great skill in style and balance for both orchestra and soloist.

UNC Music Professor Edgar Alden will ge the violin soloist. First violinist with the North Carolina String Quartet, Alden is well known to Research

Campus News Briefs

elected chairman of the Southeastern Division, Associationof American Geographers. He has been currently serving as secretary of the nine-state organization. Dr. Richard E. Lonsdale was elected to a four-year term as editor of The Southeastern Geographer, the Division's journal.

University of North Carolina Japanese Statistician He will speak on "Symbolism, Imagism and

To Address Meeting

A prominent Japanese statistics professor will speak before the statistics colloquium Monday, at 4:00 p.m. in room 265 Phillips Hall. Nariaki Sugiura of Hiroshima University will discuss various test criteria based on a random sample from the miltivariate normal population. Coffee and tea will be served 30 minutes gefore the talk in the physics lounge.

UNC Prof Publishes

Pound-Joyce Letters

UNC English professor Forrest Read has just edited a new edition of correspondence between Ezra Pound and James Joyce.

Psychology Colloquium

"POUND-JOYCE: The Letters of Ezra Pound to James Joyce, with Pound's Critical Essays and Articles About Joyce" is published by New Directions Publishing Corporation, New York, and contains commentary by the editor.

The book reveals one of the cnost interesting personal relationships of modern literature, the friendship of two of the Twentieth Century's greatest writers.

Cave Expert To Talk To UNC Zoologists

The world's leading authority on subterranean marine caves will speak at the UNC zoology seminar on Wednesday.

Prof. Rupert R. Riedl, from the University of Vienna, will discuss "Exploration of Marine Environments in Sea Caves." An authority on marine ecology, Prof. Riedl has explored deep caves in the Mediterranean, Adriatic, and North Atlantic, and is an expert skin diver. Coffee will be served at 4 p.m. before the seminar in room 107, Wilson Hall.

Aerospace Briefing

Team Will Be Here

One of the most respected briefing teams in the aerospace field-the Aerospace Presentations Team from the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama-will highlight the activities of the United States Space Program here Dec. 5, at AFROTC headquarters on the UNC campus. The meeting is open to the public.

To Hear Duke Prof.

Prof. Gregory A. Kimble of Duke University will give the second lecture in the UNC Psychology Colloquium Series Wednesday.

Dr. Kimble, director of Graduate Studies in Psychology at Duke, will speak about "Concepts For A Psychology of Volition." The colloquium will be held at 4 p.m. in room 112, Davie

Hall.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) -Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida Friday called potential third party Presidential candidate George Wallace an "influence peddler" and a "tool of the President."

Kirk said the Alabamian's campaign in Florida could have "the devastating effect of giving our votes to Mr. Johnson" by drawing support from whoever wins the GOP presidential nomination.

"Mr. Wallace is a five per center, an influence peddler," Kirk told an airport news conference and later a youth group. "He is a willing or unwitting tool of the President."

Kirk, here for an address to student groups and the state GOP exeuctive committee, noted that Wallace had once stood in the schoolhouse door

DO THE JOB!

Sell

Anything

in an unsuccessful bid to stop school desegregation. "Now he is standing in the or a single act of isolated door of the voting booth - he violence, the challenge is still the same." is telling people to throw ayay their vote," Kirk said. The Florida Republican governor said that for his part he would said, America in 1967-and the lawlessness that ravages our support whoever the GOP nominee happens to be. "It's un-American, telling people to throw away their vote," said Kirk.

Kirk disavowed any desire to become the GOP vice presidential nominee in 1968 and said he would refuse ths lot if it were offered to him. In his speech to the state Republican executive committee, Kirk said the great challenge of today is to defeat the threat to society brought by those who ignore the law. "Ours is a society and government of laws-and the

those laws, respecting the (Behind Leo's Rastaurant) vast majority of us live within Quick, Quality Duplicatrights of others," he said. "But today this kind of socieing Service.

ty has been challenged. . .by those who have taken it as their right to break the laws the best of us observe, whether it involves organized crime,

AND "APPLE, PEACHES PUMPKIN PIE" TECHNIQUES

and Tuesday nights at 7:30 and Tuesday afternoon at 4 in 111 Production dates for the play, directed by Joseph Talarowski, have been set for

Feb. 21-27 in Playmakers Theatre. "Ah, Wilderness!" was first produced in New York in 1933 and features a cast of nine men and six women. It is O'Neill's only comedy.

Students, faculty, townspeople and anyone within commuting distance of Chapel Hill are invited to try out. Scripts are available for reading in the Playmakers office, 307 Bynum.

DeSua To Lecture

On Modern Poetics

Dr. William J. DeSua,

associate professor of Italian and Comparative Literature, will be the featured speaker at the December meeting of the Hermeticism: In Search of a

Modern Poetics" at 8 p.m.

Wednesday in the faculty

Tryouts Scheduled

For O'Neill Comedy

Tryouts have been scheduled

They will be held Monday

Philological Club.

lounge of Dey Hall.

Murphey.

Geographers Select

Carolina Professors

Two members of the UNC geography department have been elected to top positions at a meeting of southern geographers held at Gainesville, Florida.

Dr. David G. Basile, chairman of the UNC geography department, was

TECHNICOLOR"

A delicious steak, baked potato with sour cream, garlic bread, green salad and coffee, tea, or other non-carbonated beverage all for only MONDAY-FRIDAY NIGHTS 5-7 $1.29

Line Very Line

TONITE AFTER THE GAME IN THE TIN CAN $2 AT G.M. $2.50 AT DOOR