Milton's February FROGSTRANGLER!

When the frog is being strangled, the ground hog, the Leprechauns, basketball—you name it—it all takes a back seat to this crazy wild goings-on!

It's not going to be nasty weather forever and Milton has to make room for fruhling or spring.

This is the last price reduction—the last roundup.

For $20.00 you'll find coats that were $65.00.

For a pair of twos you'll find some dac/wool sport coats that were $70.00.

For a pair of threes, look twice at wool sport coats regularly going for $70.00.

For a pair of fours, you're getting into our high cotton Scottish shetland $85.00 sport coats.

For a pair of fives, you get the living end—a great handwoven $95.00 shetland sport coat.

You can also play this two of a kind Frogstrangler with our Suits—Dac/wools cut from $95.00 to strangler of $33.00; $100.00 to $44.00; Worsteds wools from $110.00 unvested to $55.00 and vested, add a pair of ones.

Pants have to be divisible by $5.00—dacrone/cottons from $16.95 to $5.00; dacrone/wools—$25.00 to $10.00; wools from $29.95 to $15.00.

Next spring's half sleeve shirts cut from $8.50 to magic five.

Long or short sleeve shirts, regularly to $8.95 at a single three.

Long sleeve dress shirts or short sleeve sport shirts, all in fine single needle tailoring, regularly to $9.95, at single four.

Johnston & Murphy and another famous make shoe, regularly, $32.00, at Frogstrangler of $26.00.

Scarfs—solids and plaids, all from Scotland—$3.95 to $2.99; $7.95 to $5.99; $14.95 to $10.99.

Shetland gloves with leather palms, from Dumfrees, Scotland, strangler from $7.00 to $4.99.

Zip lined raincoats cut from $65.00 to low $29.99.

Lots of sweaters at a single nine that were $19.95 and at a dozen instead of terrible $25.00.

These Frogstranglers are so much fun, lots of old Cupboard patrons keep asking when this wild event takes place.

Abominable Snowman?

Chapel Hill has its own abominable snowman. Really, it was a member of a plaster-mixing crew, working on the new underground library. It seem that the plaster mix sticks almost as well as Chapel Hill's own mud and dust. At least it stuck to the "snowman" and his associates.

Peace Corps Opens Office

The Peace Corps has established a Chapel Hill office in the Wesley Foundation which will be open for the remainder of the spring semester.

In addition to counselling, the office will sponsor weekly seminars, lectures, and films as part of the Experimental College. The course will be held each Tuesday, beginning Feb. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation.

The objective of the program, according to Galen Hull, Office of Public Affairs, Southern Region, is "to acquaint applicants, and others interested in the Peace Corps, with selection, training and overseas service of the Volunteer."

Washington staff officers will be available to present an overview of Peace Corps operations and aspirations.

Thus far, sixteen students have signed up for course.

RCS History To Be Told Over WUNC

A discussion on the history and development of the residence college system will be broadcast over WUNC, channel 4, tonight following the Maryland basketball game.

Bill Darrah, Governor of James, and Jed Dietz, Vice-President of the Student Body, will trace the residence college concept as well as pointing out some of its practical applications.

The program is part of the Student Legislature State Affairs Committee's program to "let the state know what is going on at UNC," according to Ed Briston, chairman of that committee.

The show will be the first in a series of such programs which will continue throughout the spring and into next year.

Three or four more hour documentaries on life at UNC will be presented this semester.

For information, call 967-1421.

'Problems Of Faith' To Meet Monday

The Experimental College class, Problems of Faith, will meet Monday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish House Chapel of the Cross at 304 E. Franklin St.

The topic will be, "Is Man's Body the Whole Man or Merely an Envelope in Which He Lives for a Little While?"

New students are welcome.

Physics Colloquium Planned For Today

The UNC-Duke Physics colloquium will meet at 4 p.m. in 215 Phillips Hall. Dr. Werner Triftshauer, visiting professor in the UNC Physics Department will speak on Atomic Charge Dates in Cobalt Compounds by Mossbauer Experiments.

Tea and coffee will be served in 277 Phillips at 3:30 P.M.

Cameron Will Speak At Conference Today

A combined staff lecture and research conference will take place at 4:00 p.m. in the Clinic Hospital. Douglas G. Cameron, M.D. Professor and Chairman, McGill University Dept. of Medicine and the Montreal General Hospital will speak.

Dr. Cameron's topic will be "Anemia Associated with Disorders of the Small Intestine."

Zoology Seminar Meets At 4:00

A zoology seminar will be held at 4 P.M. in 107 Wilson Hall. Dr. John H. Sinclair, Carnegie Institute of Washington, Dept. of Embryology will speak.

His topic will be, "Studies on Sequence Homology of Ribosomal DNA's from Plants and Animals."

Six From UNC Awarded Grants

Six University of North Carolina students were designated Feb. 19 by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation as among the best future college teacher prospects on the continent.

Four from UNC won honorable mentions.

The UNC students named were among 1,124 college seniors at 309 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada. The winners were chosen from 11,682 nominees from the 15 regions.

UNC students and their fields were:

Frank Parker Hudson Jr. of W. Paces Ferry Rd., Atlanta, Ga., economics; Mary D. Hyde of Rt. 2, Box 574-A, Candler, -English; Michael J. Varn of 2001 E. San Juan, Phoenix, Ariz., economics; Tracy L. Mars hallberg, philosophy; Frank P. Westbrook of 209-B Branson St., Chapel Hill (formerly of 1054 Nichols Dr., Raleigh), French; and William M. Woodall III of 0-6 Colony Apts., Chapel Hill (formerly 1623 Geneva Ct., Charlotte), -

English.

UNC students awarded honorable mentions were Daniel Cox of Rt. 7, Box 100, Burlington, economics; Mrs. Margaret King of 1530 Iredell Dr., Raleigh, English; Charles Murray Jr. of Box 56 McKay St., Wagram, philosophy; and Patty Ritchie of 912 Fairmont Ave., Salisbury, sociology.

North Carolina State University at Raleigh had two designates and one honorable mention, and the University at Greensboro had four designates and three honorable mentions.

The total number of Woodrow Wilson Fellowships awarded since the program's inception in 1954 exceeds 15,000. UNC has produced 124 Fellows during this period.

In the last ten years, with funds from the Ford Foundation amounting to $52 million, the Wilson Foundation was able to make direct grants to approximately 1,000 American and Canadian students annually to support their first year of graduate study.

"Now our major role is to identify for graduate departments those students who in our view have the best potential for college teaching," Foundation President, Sir Hugh Taylor said.

The Ford Foundation provides an annual grant of $1.2 million to support the Wilson Foundation's recruiting and selection procedures. It also provides for 50 first-year graduate school fellowships for Canadians and up to 200 Woodrow Wilson Dissertation Fellowships Annually.

Out of funds from other sources, the Wilson Foundation expects to support 100 American students with direct grants as Wilson Fellows.

Prospective designates, after initial nomination by a faculty member, must submit credentials (college transcripts, recommendations, and a 1,000 word statement of their intellectual interests); have them reviewed and judged by committees; be interviewed; and go through the final selection process which is based on regional quotas.

Fellows receive one academic year of graduate education with tuition and fees paid by the Foundation and a living stipend of $2,000. Additional allowances are made for dependant children. The Woodrow Wilson program was supported during its first 13 years by the Carnegie Rockefeller Foundation.

Other North Carolina schools with winners included Appalachian State University (1), Atlantic Christian College (1), Davidson College (2), Duke University (12), and Wake Forest University (2).

Honorable mentions in other North Carolina schools included Davidson College (3), Duke University (4), Wake Forest University (1), and Winston-Salem State College (1).
