Pub Board To Meet

Volume 75, Number 115

76 Years of Editorial Freedom

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1968

Founded February 23, 1893

Heels Fall In Triple Overtime, 87-86

-DTH Staff Photo by GENE WANG

and from students not engaged in partisan activity, I have decided to enter the care for President and to seek the University Party en-

Speaking for the group sup-porting Day's candidacy, Noel Dunivant said he was "pleased

"In considering the vast about Ken's decision. . .

of tired old rhetoric.

(Continued on Page 6)

Ken Day

... To Run

By RICK GRAY

of The Daily Tar Heel Staft

The name Edgar Cacye (pronounced as Casey) would, on first glance, seem to be the name of a perfectly normal person from the Bluegrass of

But Edgar Cacye was anything bst a normal Kentuckian. He is Jeanne Dixon,

Peter Hurkes and Meher Baba

Not only did he predict the

Harry McMullan, a senior here, is trying to organize a group of people who are interested in Cacye and his McMullan ran a notice in the Campus Calendar Friday and Saturday asking that anyone who was interested in studying

Cacye's teachings contact

As of Saturday afternoon,

McMullan reported that future, but he was a physician and diagonistician and Christian teacher in addition.

Kentucky.

teachings.

him.

all rolled into one.

dorsement."

victory."

Forward Bill Bunting Passes The Ball Off To Guard Eddie Fogler ... in yesterday's heart-stopping loss to Duke

Day Says He'll Run

Wants To Revolutionize SG

By RICK GRAY of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

Promising to "revolutionize our whole concept of Student Government," Ken Day Saturday announced his candidacy for the University Party nomination for Student Body

Day's candidacy was urged by a group of persons, active in Student Government who feel that "Ken is the best man In a statement, Day said:

"Because of the tremendous support which I have received from members of both parties

World News

The Daily Tar Weel

By United Press International

UAW Threatens AFL-CIO Pullout

DETROIT - The United Auto Workers Saturday demanded a special convention of the AFL-CIO and threatened to pull out of the federation if the demand was refused. The UAW sent a letter to George Meany, president of the showdown on its proposals for revitalizing the American labor The UAW said that if a special convention is not called, it would have "no acceptable alternative but to disaffiliate from the AFL-CIO."

AFL-CIO, calling for a special convention in December for a

The action, taken after a two-day meeting of the UAW's international executive board, was the latest in the longsmoldering feud between UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Meany over the direction of the labor movement.

Senate To Try Cloture Again

WASHINGTON-Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday the Senate faces a "go for broke" vote Monday when it tries for the fourth time to cut off debate on a compromise civil rights package.

Mansfield indicated strongly that he would abandon electionyear hopes of passing a civil rights measure if the Senate again refused to invoke debate-limiting cloture and clear the way for

The compromise includes a three-stage open housing measure which would outlaw discrimination in the sale or rental of nearly 70 per cent of the nation's housing by 1970.

It also includes a measure designed to give federal protection against racial violence to Negroes and civil rights workers. The Democratic leader, noting that the Senate has never tried four times to get cloture before giving up, said "I have an idea this is the go for broke vote on cloture."

Negroes March In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn.-A predominantly Negro crowd of ebout 250 persons marched through downtown Nashville Saturday afternoon to protest "police brutality," unemployment and lack of housing.

The marchers were encouraged by black power militant Fred Brooks, who drove a car equipped with a louid speaker, which alternately carried comments from Brooks-"You black peoble are looking good today"-and rock 'n roll music.

The marchers began gathering on the campuses of Tennessee A&I and Fisk Universities about noon and arrived at the metropolitan government court house about 2 p.m.

There they heard a series of speeches and were urged to sign a peition seeking an injunction against a National guard riot control "practice run" scheduled here next weekend.

The petition called the guard training session the "rankest kind of provication for a riot,"

By LARRY KEITH of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

DURHAM-It took three overtimes to do it but the inspired Duke Blue Devils stuck an 87-86 gash into the legend of North Carolina's four corners offense at Duke Indoor Stadium here Saturday afternoon.

The last regular season game for both teams was the Tar Heels' second straight loss after 20 wins in a row and by the same 87-86 score which

Travis Opposes Traffic Plan

Student Body President Bob Travis expressed opposition Saturday to the recommendation currently before the Chancellor concerning rezoning of campus parking.

"I would obviously oppose such a move," said Travis in reference to the Traffic and Safety Advisory Committee's proposal to rezone campus lots to give more spaces to faculty and staff at the expense of the students.

Bill Jarman, only student member of the Committee said that the proposal was first discussed Feb. 20 at a Committee meeting.

It was tabled at this meeting and members were asked to bring alternatives or vote on meeting Feb. 27, according to Jarman was unable to attend this second meeting, at which the proposal was passed, due

South Carolina mustered Wednesday night.

North Carolina led by two at halftime 39-37 and were up by eight, 59-51 with 10:05 to go in the second 20 minutes.

However the Blue Devils' outstanding defense, which had allowed less than 70 points in eight of its last nine games, limited the Tar Heels to seven points the rest of the half.

UNC never trailed in the second period but it was tied 65-65 on two Fred Lind free throws with 1:06 to play in regulation.

Lind, a 6-7 junior, came into the rugged, free fouling fray only after Duke star Mike Lewis took his fifth personal with 3:54 left and Carolina ahead 64-62.

Steve Vandenberg joined Lind in the hero's role for After Lewis fouled out with 18 points, Vandenberg scored eight of his 13 points including the layup which put the game away with just seconds left in the third overtime.

The Tar Heels had never before lost a game in which they had called on the four corners attack. Now they are 22-3 and 12-2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Duke, which had to win to preserve second place in the standings, goes into the tournament 20-4 overall. It was the Blue Devils' first victory over UNC in five games.

North Carolina went into the proposal at the next four corners with 4:51 remaining in regulation and ahead 64-62.

Although the slow down didn't work it did help roll up a 72-67 first overtime lead with

300-Plus Support Bruce Strauch For SB President

By TERRY GINGRAS of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

number of leaders who have Bruce Strauch, Daily Tar ball." pledged their support to Ken, we are certain of his ultimate Heel cartoonist and dependent candidate for Student Body President has sub-Day stated his intentions for mitted a petition to have his "revolutionizing" Student name on the ballot.

Government by saying "I think All independent candidates the students of this campus deare required to submit a petimand bold, new action instead tion with 250 signatures to have their names placed on the "My goal is to take Student ballot. Strauch gave his peti-Government out of the mire of tion to Elections Board Chairman Norm Zettel Fri-According to Zettel, Strauch's petition had well over 300 signatures and was "well diversified except for

"The Pi Kappa Phi's were the only house to support him," said Zettel. Zettel said Strauch's main support came from dormitories, particularly Aycock, Manly and Mor-Zettel reported that Strauch brought the petition to him at the Kappa Sigma House and received a standing ovation. Zettel said the petition would be validated "within the next

"When I went out to get

McMullan who has read all available material on Cacye, said he is convinced of the in-

"readings." (Readings are transcripts of statements made

Cacye is best known for his diagnoses of diseases, especially over long distances.

McMullan offered two specific

One was a woman who lived in the midwest. She wrote

Cacye about pain in her leg which he diagnosed and

Not only did the cure work,

McMullan says, but Cacye was also able to describe the woman's room in detail, telling which leg the pain was in (she did not say in her letter) and where the cotton in her mat-

Another case was the one of a man traveling from Miami to prescribed a cure for.

tress was grown.

response to his notice was New York City. Having heard pected.

while in trance.)

instances.

around for a while, but the last week I really got on the

the bulk of the signatures with the help of "five or six manager and plans to spend no money campaigning.

"This is going to be a very low key campaign," said Strauch "I'm completely disorganized. I'm not a professional politician."

Strauch feels he has one definite advantage in the cam-

"I've told people what I've thought all year in my cartoons," he said. "The views of the political types are relatively unknown. They have to make a big effort to make Zettel sadi Sauch is the only independent candidate he's heard from.

"In the Fall the Independent Reform Movement said they were going to come back in the Spring, but they haven't been able to build up any momentum."

Zettel estimated an independent candidate's chances

Stauch said he had gotten

Strauch has no campaign

their views known."

them, I got them with no trou- as "lower" than those of a ble," said Strauch. "I fooled party-endorsed candidate. Cacye: Clairvoyant Kentuckian

Virginia Beach where Cacye

Cacye referred the man to an osteoath in New York

The man was delayed two and New York, but upon arriving in the City he went straight to the address Cacye had given him. The doctor was able to cure them an, but the amazing part of the reading was the fact that the osteopath had moved into the office only the day before the man ar-

The doctor had not known Cacye was not aware of his clairvoyance until he was in his early teens, according to McMullan. Cacye was studying spelling one day, but he was unable to learn the words. His father became incensed and beat Cacye twice. Still unable to learn the words, Cacye soon where he was going to move two weeks before when Cacye gave the patient the address.

had set up his headquarters.

much greater than he had ex- of Cacye's deeds, he stopped in vincibility of Cacye's whose address he gave him.

rived.

1:40 to play.

The beef of the five point margin was provided by Rusty Clark's three point play on a feed from Larry Miller.

The overtime ended at 75-75. Bill Bunting could have put the game away but he missed two free throw opportunities with 17 seconds left.

Lind's 20 footer concluded the first extra five minutes. Only four points were scored in the second overtime by each team and Vandenberg made all of them for Duke. A Bunting field goal and two free throws by Grubar provided the Tar Heels' points. North Carolina controlled the ball the final two minutes and 20 seconds of the overtime but a last effort shot by Clark was

The Tar Heels were ahead twice in the third overtime, once 80-79 on a Miller free throw, his first point since 8:23 of the second half. The other was 82-81 before a Lind hook with 1:13 to play put the Blue Devils ahead for good.

Heels with 17 points, cut the lead to 85-84 but after Lind rebounded a Miller pass intended for Clark that hit the Carolina basket, Vandenberg beat the Tar Heel press with the deciding layup.

Clark, who, like Miller had 15 points, concluded the scor-to the Gamecocks.

third with only two starters. Vandenberg and Kennedy. Of the 53 fouls called in the game, 32 of them were pinned to the Blue Devils, who lost Ron Wendelin and Dave Golden along with Lewis and reserve Tony

The Tar Heels took 69.4 per Grubar, who led the Tar cent advantage of their 49 free throw opportunities but hit only 26 of 72 field goals.

Duke, which got 16 points from Lind, 14 from Kennedy and Golden, made 34 of 77 floor and 13 each from Vandenberg shits.

Tre battle of the boards was close with the Devils holding a ing, just as he had in the loss slim 48-46 advantage behind to the Gamecocks. Lewis' 18 and Lind's nine. Duke played part of the se- Miller led UNC with 15 while cond overtime and all of the Clark had only seven.

-DTH Staff Photo by GENE WANG

Joe Brown Gets Wiped Out By Duke's Tony Barone

... fortunately a foul was called on the play

Idol, Stein Announce For WRC Chairman

By LOUISE JENNINGS of The Daily Tar Heel Staff Libby Idol and Andi Stein have announced that they will run for Chairman of the Women's Residence Council to succeed Sharon Rose.

Miss Idol is a sophomore from Charlotte, and Miss Stein fell asleep on top of his spelling him there and threatened to beat him a third time. Cacye asked for another chance, and believing that Cacye would not

The youth, however, was able to spell all of the words in the assigned chapter and could also spell correctly all other words in the book, even when given a page number and posi-Cacye and his parents were amazed by his performance, but they could not explain it until later when Cacye was hit in the head with a baseball.

Cacye became crazed and acted in a manner which was the exact opposite of his usual behavior. He then went to know the words.

tion of a word.

FATHER discovered

book.

weeks between Virginia Beach his father gave it to him is a Junior from Philadelphia. Both candidates have expressed concern with getting self-limiting closing hours for coeds, with strengthening the residence college system and with tightening the security on the women's dorm. Miss Stein said that she favored "no closing hours and the self-limiting hours for seniors with parental permission and women who are 21." She added that she hoped that WRC could work out an agreement allowing women to visit in men's dorm rooms on the weekends.

Miss Idol said, "As a coed and as a member of WRC, I am very much concerned with mission, and the YMCA. the Chancellor's decision of no closing hours, and I definitely want to pursue the matter through normal channels of communication."

She added, "WRC has made many rule changes this year with which I'm very happy, and I feel that these changes are most significant in contributing to a more positive and responsible attitude toward rules."

Miss Stein on the other hand said that she feels "WRC has become bogged down with the concept of liberalizing rules and has neglected the vast potential it has as a body for instituting new constructive mother how to prepare a programs for the welfare of politice for his head. The the women on campus."

Both of the candidates are interested in initiating new programs in WRC. Miss Idol feels that the WRC should work closer with the Orientation Commission, not only in September but also throughout the year. "Ideas and experiences that are picked up and the situa-tions in which one is involved during orientation often set the mood and contribute a great deal toward his matriculation at the university," she explained. Miss Stein encourages initiating programs in WRC which involve more of student organizations such as the Experimental College, the Student Legislature, the Residence College Com-My major philos that in the area of rule liberalization is that the WRC can no longer function effectively without the support of the entire student body."

Miss Idol indicated that she plans to watch closely the changes made in the new rule book to make sure the attitudes and goals which the they made them are carried members had in mind when they made them are carried out. She emphasized stimulating respect and responsibility in the girls and a more positive attitude toward rules. Miss Stein said that she wanted to create a coordinating body of the

(Continued on Page 6)

(Continued on Page 6)

sleep and while asleep told his