

Seminoles Whip Swimmers

By CHRIS COBBS
DTH Sports Writer

The Deep South hospitality extended the Carolina swimmers in Florida last week was of the kind that makes the place nice to visit but a poor choice as a site for permanent residence.

Particularly in the pool of one of the state's colleges.

Sunshine and blue sky and gentle breezes, all of which are duly glorious, could not compensate in full for the rudeness with which UNC was received by the acquirers of Florida and Florida State.

"We had good times," Carolina coach Pat Earey said, "but we were not as strong or as ready as our competition."

"Florida State, which beat us 70-43, got exceptional times from several freshmen, and the score belies the closeness of the meet.

"With a few breaks we could have come a lot closer point-wise."

The Tar Heel tankers took four firsts from the Seminoles. Dave Bedell captured the 200 Butterfly in 2:03.3.

The 100 went to Bruce Wigo in 49.1.

And Frank McElroy had his best effort of the year to annex the 500 Freestyle in 5:11.2.

Against little competition, the UNC relay foursome did a 3:19.7 for first place.

However, in the Gators of U. Fla., the visitors encountered a "buzzsaw" according to Earey. Florida State had been defeated the previous week at the hands, if that's the word, of the Gators only after dropping the last relay.

But Carolina could get away with no better than a 73-38 setback that Earey described as not nearly as close as the loss to FSU.

The Gators "have three or four outstanding and versatile" athletes capable of beating anyone in the country, the head Dolphin reported.

Wigo repeated his first in the 100, Fred Danneman swam the 200 Backstroke in 2:06.4, and Richard Williams tallied with 2:23.7 in the 200 Breaststroke for victories for Carolina.

Earey, not seeking necessarily to justify the pair of losing showings, commented that with each stern foe the Tar Heels take on, they gain valuable experience.

"And of course as individuals our swimmers always seek to improve and make good impressions," he said.

"We had expected Florida State would probably be a little better and we knew Florida would be stronger than our team."

His summation was as fitting as the tan he acquired.

bottom of the Western Athletic Conference. New Mexico is still a respectable 13-6, but a disastrous 0-3 in the conference. Howard is back in the lineup and was the reason New Mexico State got burned twice within a week. But the temporary loss of Howard may be irreparable.

Santa Clara with 6-9 Dennis Awtrey and the Ogden brothers, Paul and Bud, would be favorites to win the West if it weren't for Alcindor. But alas, the Broncos may go to the regionals undefeated, only to lose in the finals.

There are many teams that in a normal year could win the national championships. But this is a year when the best aren't good enough.

They all want a shot at Big Lew, just like every good fighter wanted to get in the ring with Rocky Marciano.

But when the final bell is sounded and Freedom Hall in Louisville is cleared once again, the challengers will go home with bloody noses.

June, 1969. His major areas of studies are political science and sociology.

The University has sought a new assistant director of undergraduate admissions since Dec. 6, 1968, when a committee of the faculty, headed by Law School Dean J. Dickson Phillips, recommended hiring a Negro for a post in the admissions office.

A vacancy has existed since September, 1968, when Richard Cashwell was made Acting Director of Admissions, succeeding the late Charles Bernard.

The appointment of Garriss came in reply to the demand made by the BSM which stated: "Due consideration be given a Black person in the appointment of a Black person to the office of Director of Admissions."

The Chancellor's January 14 reply was as follows: "The faculty Council in its action on December 6 recommended that the University make an effort to appoint a qualified Negro to this recommendation the Director of Admissions has initiated inquiries as to the availability of qualified Negro counselors, and it is my understanding that we will be successful in this effort."

Stevens, a native of New Haven, Conn., graduated from UNC in 1968 with an A.B. degree in English. He taught English at East Southern Pines High School this past fall.

Mounties Slaughter Wrestlers

Carolina's varsity wrestlers were slaughtered in their first home bout of the season Saturday at the hands of an "out-conditioned" West Virginia team.

The Mountaineers won eight of the nine individual contests and mounted a 28-3 win over the helpless Tar Heels.

UNC's grapplers now stand 1-3 in what was once thought to be a hopeful season. The only win was over V.M.I. Dec. 6.

"I feel just like Vic Bibas," Coach Sam Barnes noted yesterday. "I thought we were in good condition but we were out-horsed and out-conditioned in practically every bout."

The varsity crew had not wrestled since Jan. 11 but practiced on their own during exams. Barnes admitted that the team "obviously had lost conditioning and was not prepared for the match.

"We were most disappointed with our performance because we were ahead in five of the eight bouts that we lost," he said. "Even Bob Hoke, who was our only winner gased after he was ahead."

Bob Crane's absence from the lineup at the lightest weight (123) set the trend for the meet. Carolina opened with a forfeit in his position and could not recover.

The scoring: 123—Donn Lornier (WV) by forfeit; 130—Jeff Flickinger (WV) d. Tom Guthrie (UNC); 137—Bob Hoke (UNC) d. Marv Warner (WV); 145—Ken Vensel (WV) pin Keith Lyons (UNC) 7:40; 152—Dave McCandless (WV) d. Curtis Weaver (UNC); 160—Jack Cargnoni (WV) d.

David Barnes (UNC); 177—Steve Orlosky (WV) d. Bill Kelly; Heavyweight—Dave Kergaard (WV) d. Knox Tate (UNC).

The junior 137 pounder managed to hold his lead and took the only points for the Heels. He decisioned West Virginia's Marv Warner.

The only pin in the match was as by Mountaineer Ken Vensel, a 145 pounder, over UNC co-captain Keith Lyons after 7:40.
