Quiz bowl entries due by Friday

Entry forms for this year's Carolina Union Quiz Bowl are available at the Union information desk and should be completed and returned by Friday. Teams will match wits with each other beginning March 8.

Cayce is subject of Puryear talk

Dr. Herbert B. Puryear will speak on "The Significance of the Edgar Cayce Story" in Carroll Hall Feb. 24 at 3 p.m.

Cayce, America's best known seer, became known in most areas of this country following publication of selections from his psychic readings by members of the medical and scientific professions. One of the books published, "Edgar Cayce, The Sleeping Prophet," by Jess Stern, sold more than two million copies.

Puryear, currently national director of Education for the Association for Research and Enlightenment (ARE), is a UNC alumnus. He received his post-doctoral research training at the National Institute of Mental Health. He has conducted research on sleep and dreams and has had special study in the area of personality theory, psychotherapy, the psychology of religion and psychological research.

Puryear has been associated with ARE since 1951. He has lectured nationally on subjects related to the 14,000 readings.

The lecture, sponsored by the Chapel Hill Cayce study group, is open to the public. Admission is free.

Ring showing today in Union

Alpha Phi Omega (APO) service fraternity will sponsor a ring showing and sale today and Wednesday from 9 to 4 p.m. in the lobby of the Carolina Union.

Students in the classes of 1971 and 1972 and the Pharmacy class of 1973 are eligible to order the rings.

A representative of the Balfour Ring Co. will be on hand to show samples and distribute brochures.

A deposit may be made at that time or the price may be paid in full. Ring delivery will take eight to 10 weeks, according to John Mallard, APO ring sale chairman.

All profits made by APO will go to the Bernard Grail APO Scholarship Fund. The next major ring showing and sale will take place next fall.

Union sponsoring Nassau trip

The Carolina Union and Duke University Union will jointly sponsor a spring trip to Nassau March 27 through April 3.

The trip includes a round-trip charter flight from Raleigh-Durham Airport and seven nights at the Flagler Inn on Paradise Beach. The package includes airport-hotel transportation by limousine, baggage handling, room tax, both Bahamian and U.S. departure tax and a welcome cocktail party. Total price for the seven days and seven nights is $199.50.

In order for the trip to go, there must be 127 participants, with a minimum of 40 persons from both Duke and UNC. The trip is available for students, faculty and staff and their immediate families.

The price of the trip is based on triple occupancy, however, double occupancy is available at an additional charge. The Flagler also offers a modified American plan (full breakfast and buffet dinner) for $6 per person per day.

Reservations may be made with full payment in Room 201 of the Carolina Union on or before Feb. 20. Full itinerary and final trip instructions will be given by the deadline on the 20th.
