SDX sponsors journalism talks

CBS newsman Charles Kuralt, Presidential Press Secretary Ron Ziegler and N.C. Senator Sam Ervin are among several notables scheduled to speak at a two-day journalism conference beginning April 24 at the Carolina Inn.

The talks will be given at the Sigma Delta Chi Region II spring conference.

At the opening session, Kuralt of CBS News will speak about his travels for the "On the Road" television segments.

Kuralt, a Charlotte native, is a former editor of The Daily Tar Heel.

He will be introduced by Consolidated University President William C. Friday.

Two panel discussions will be held Saturday afternoon. The first, moderated by Sam Yette of Newsweek Washington Bureau, will deal with "Advocacy Journalism" and will include discussions of all types of underground newspapers. Panelists will include a black underground editor from Richmond, Va., a representative of the Underground News Service from New York, an "establishment" type journalist from Washington and Miss Shirley Bach, a UNC journalism graduate student.

Later that day there will be a panel discussion of "The Student Press in the '70's."

Panelists will include the editor of the George Washington University newspaper; professor Michael Bishop, a member of the UNC journalism school; and the editor of Argus magazine at the University of Maryland, a publication which has in the past held a national pornography contest.

Sen. Ervin will speak after dinner on Saturday. He has recently investigated Army snooping and invasion of privacy.

Ziegler, President Nixon's press secretary, will participate in a discussion of White House news coverage Sunday morning with Helen Thomas of UPI, Dan Rather of CBS News and Hugh Sidney of Time-Life.

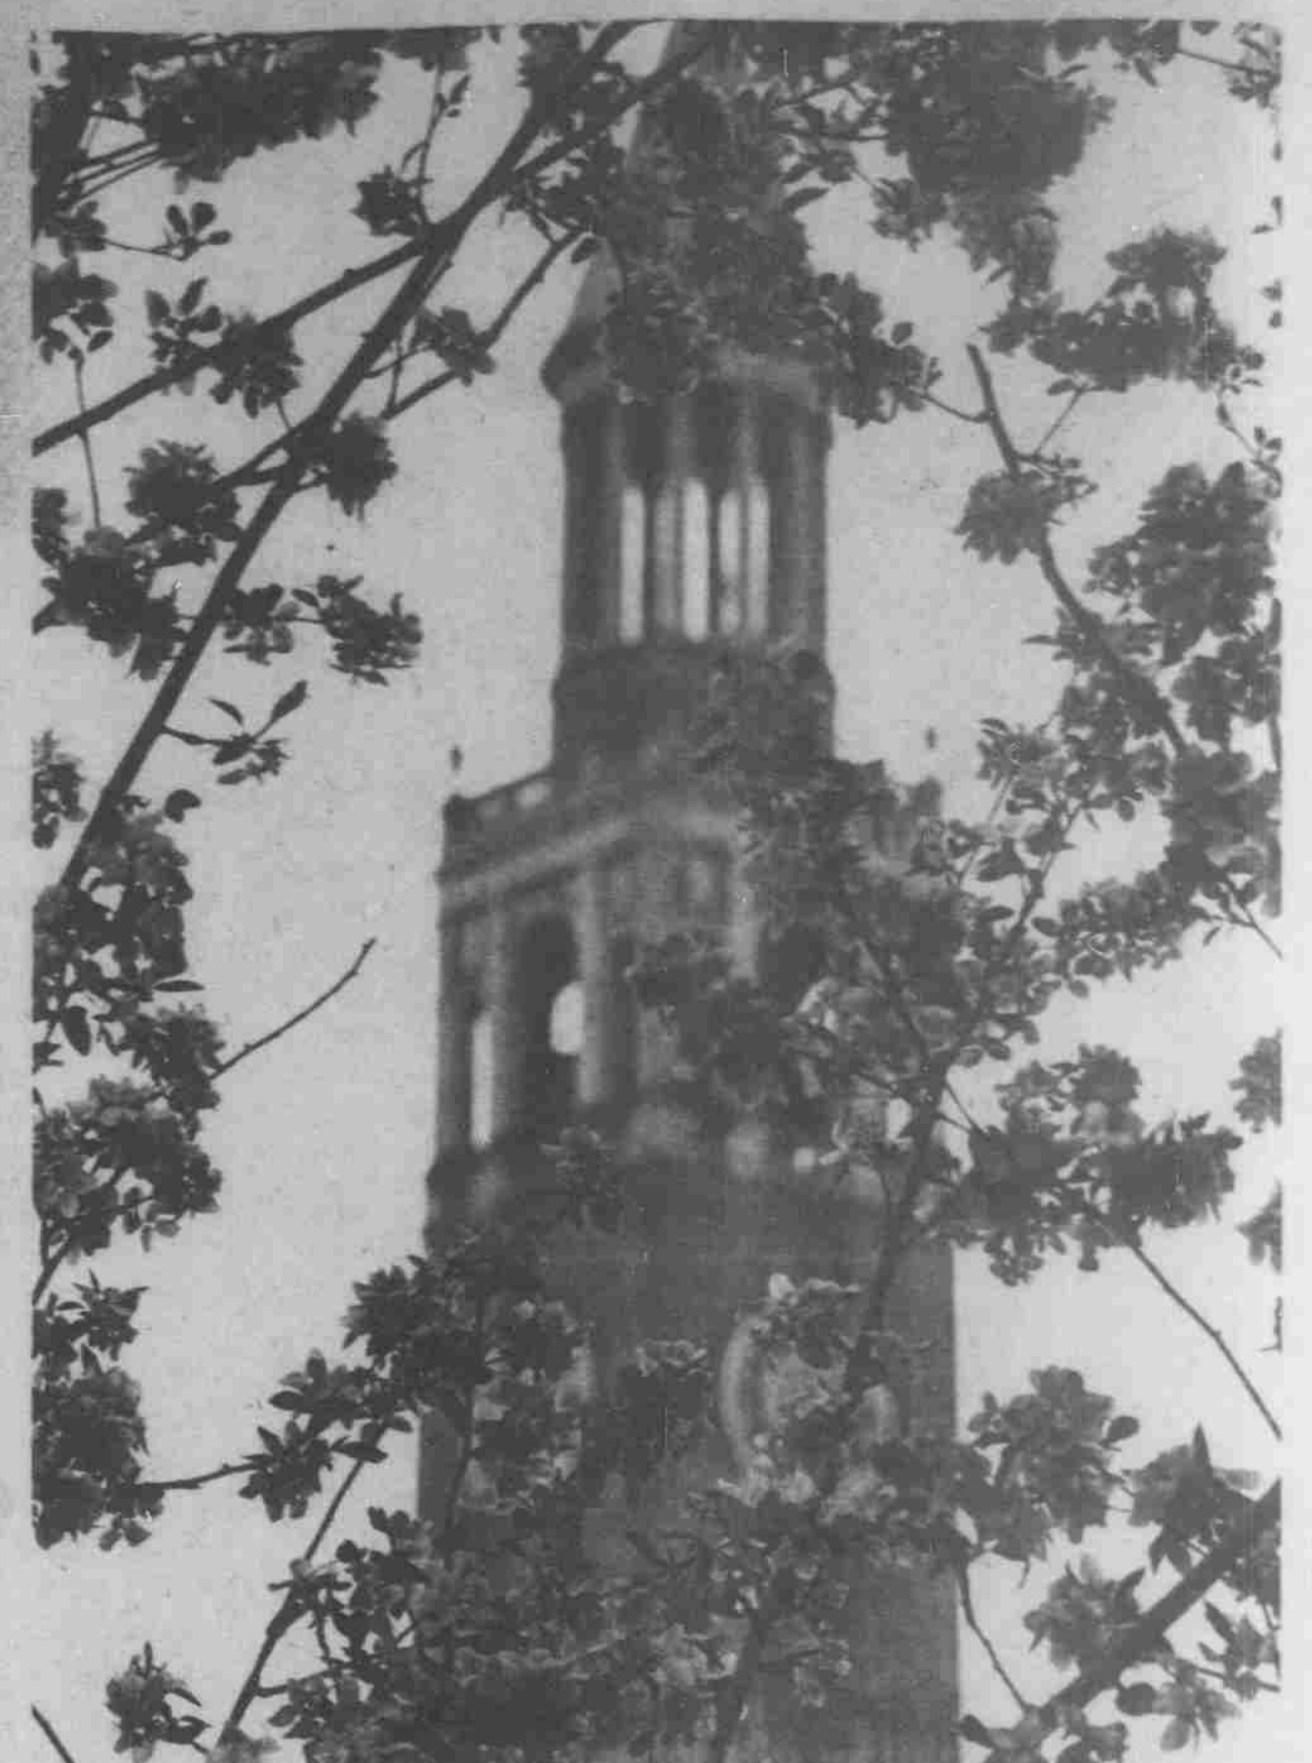

Douglas B. Cornell of the Associated Press will moderate the discussion.

Sunday lunch will be the final session of the conference. Robert Chandler, an Oregon newspaper publisher and national president of Sigma Delta Chi, will speak.

The conference is open to the public. A registration fee of $12.50 will be charged for faculty and students. This fee includes Saturday lunch and dinner and Sunday lunch.

Those attending the conference must be registered for the entire event. Formal registration will be from 11 to 12:30 on the morning of April 24, in the Carolina Inn lobby.

Those interested in attending the conference should mail checks made out to Sigma Delta Chi to Andrew Schorr, UNC Sigma Delta Chi president, H-11 Colony Apts., Chapel Hill. Checks should be mailed no later than April 17.

One sure sign of Spring in Chapel Hill is the flowering of the dogwood trees around campus. Most of the trees, like this one behind the undergraduate library which frames the Bell Tower, have blossomed to add a touch of color to the campus. (Staff photo by Leslie Todd)

ECOS, Union set bicycle rental

by Jim Minor
Staff Writer

ECOS and the Carolina Union hope the current cycling fad will continue on campus because, starting today, they are sponsoring a new bicycle rental project.

The bikes may be rented at the ECOS office, suite B at the Carolina Union, seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Rates are 50 cents an hour and $2 per day.

"We feel the market is good for bicycles," Charles Jeffries, spokesman for ECOS, said Wednesday. "It's a nice way to relax and get exercise. Warm weather makes it even more enjoyable."

"It could also lessen the congestion of cars around town," he said.

The Daily Tar Heel is published by the University of North Carolina Student Publications Board, daily except Sunday, examination periods, vacations and summer periods.

Offices are at the Student Union building, Univ. of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C. 27514. Telephone numbers: News, Sports—933-1011; Business, Circulation, Advertising—933-1163.

Subscription rates: $10.00 per year; $5.00 per semester.

The Student Legislature shall have powers to determine the Student Activities fee and to appropriate all revenue derived from the Student Activities fee (1.1.1.4 of the Student Constitution). The budgetary appropriation for the 1970-71 academic year is $23,225.00 for undergraduates and $4,647.50 for graduates as the subscription rate for the student body ($1.64 per student based on fall semester enrollment figures).

The Daily Tar Heel reserves the right to regulate the typographical tone of all advertisements and to revise or turn away copy it considers objectionable.

The Daily Tar Heel will not consider adjustments or payments for any advertisement involving major typographical errors or erroneous insertion unless notice is given to the Business Manager within (1) one day after the advertisement appears, or within one day of the receiving of tear sheets, of subscription of the paper. The Daily Tar Heel will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement scheduled to run several times. Notices for such correction must be given before the next insertion.

Jeffries predicted the rental service will be continued through the 1971 summer session of school. "We hope to continue next year, too," he said.

"Right now we have eight bikes," Jeffries said, "but any profit we make will go toward buying more."

The bicycles are new Raleigh-Dunnett three-speed English brands.

ECOS is involved with the renting and maintenance of the bicycles. The Carolina Union provides storage space.

Speakers scheduled for Easter

The Chapel of the Cross Episcopal Church, located at 304 E. Franklin St., has scheduled a variety of services for the Easter observance this weekend.

The Rev. Peter James Lee, rector of the parish, announced the traditional Good Friday service, to begin at noon, will consist of six 30-minute units, each with a different speaker.

The speaker at noon will be Rev. Henry Turlington, pastor of University Baptist Church. He will be followed at 12:30 p.m. by Rev. Hugh Stohler, assistant campus minister at UNC's Wesley Foundation.

At 1 p.m. Anne Queen, chairman of UNC's YM-YWCA will speak. Rev. Langill Watson, pastor of the University Methodist Church in Chapel Hill, will speak at the 1:30 unit of the service. He will be followed by Dr. John W. Dixon, Jr., UNC religion professor, at 2 p.m. The final speaker, scheduled for 2:30 p.m., will be the Rev. Peter James, parish rector.

An Easter Vigil, beginning at 10 p.m., will be held Saturday. This service will include scripture reading, lighting of the paschal candle, holy baptism and the Easter Eucharist, a religious ceremony.

The Rev. Lex S. Mathews, UNC Episcopal chaplain, will preach at the service and the Rev. Lee will celebrate the liturgy.

On Easter Sunday there will be three services. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. in the old chapel. Children will present Lenten offerings of flowers in the 9:30 service. At 11:15 a.m. the Festival Eucharist will be celebrated, along with special music.

Elections set Monday for Y

YW-YMCA elections will be held Monday. People interested in running for an office should pick up applications this week in 102 Y-Building. The applications must be turned in to the YM-YWCA by Friday, April 10. "Offices are open to anyone who has worked on Y activities this year," said Pat Wood, co-president.

Two presidents will be chosen along with a treasurer and secretary. After the elections for these offices, applications for three new offices will be selected through interviews. Applications can be picked up for coordinators for campus activities, community activities and national activities in 102 Y-Building.
