

Gamecocks use depth and sprinting power to beat Heel thinclads

Last year, Carolina's track and field depth was too much for South Carolina, and the Gamecocks must have learned something.

They whipped the Tar Heel cindermen 90-55 on Fetzter Field Saturday by winning eight of ten running events and placing well in field events, the secret to UNC's success last year.

Sprinter Jim Small of USC and distance runner Larry Widgeon of the Tar Heels were the meet's individual stars.

Small won the 100-year dash over Carolina's Hubert West and Hank

Snowden with a 10-second time, when triumphed in the 220 over Mike Canzonieri and Snowden in a time of 22.1.

Widgeon captured the two-mile in a time of 9:13.6 (Larry Schmelia and Jack Miller were second and third for the Cocks) then took the mile run in 4:15.7 over South Carolina's Jim Schaper and Miller.

Charlie Ball leaped 6-8 in the high jump to lead a Tar Heel sweep; Bobby Jones and John Rucker also placed.

West nosed out USC's Tyler Hellams and teammate Snowden with a 23-5/8 broad jump, and shot putter John Jessup won his event with 55-3/4 as opponents Forrest Broom and Rick Sorin were second and third.

Then Darryl Kelly took his specialty, the triple jump, in 46-6 1/2, but again two Gamecocks placed. Ron Rader and Bo Davies were second and third.

In addition to his sprinting heroics, Small ran the first legs of two winning relay teams. In the 440 relay, Small, Dick Harris, Mike Haggard and Keith Eidson won in 42 seconds.

Small, Bob Dempsey, Bob Kazcka and Harris took the mile relay in 3:20.8.

Kazcka won his 880 duel with UNC's Tony Waldrop in 1:50; Waldrop was second and the Cocks' Don Brown was third.

Harris and Dempsey were one-two in the 440 with Bill Weber grabbing third for the hosts. Harris' winning time was 48.6.

Another strong spot for the Gamecocks was in the hurdles; Billy Novo and Joe McCullouch beat Reid Hilton to the tape in the 120, Novo winning in 14.5 and McCulloch corralled first place in the intermediate hurdles in 54.4.

Novo was second and Hilton third.

Then USC put the icing on the cake with victories in the javelin and discus, two areas that Carolina Coach Joe Hilton has been trying to strengthen without notable success.

Mike Cawley won the javelin with a heave of 197-10 1/2 feet and Tom Chapman finished second ahead of Carolina's Steve Laster.

Broom picked up the discus' top prize with a throw of 152-8 feet, and Sorin was second ahead of Jessup.

Morrison E wins slugfest

In intramural softball last week, the Morrison E Yankees outscored Morrison 15-14 in a slugfest.

Stowe of Morrison E smashed a homer in the bottom of the seventh inning with two out to dash any Morrison C hopes of winning.

Morrison E collected 15 hits with four by Stowe, three by Titus, and two each by Crawford, Braswell and Bridges.

Railey, Parker and Mann all hit homers for Morrison C.

Old East ripped the Mangum Rebels 16-3 with runs in all six innings. Grubbs got three hits in five trips to pace the Old East team.

Morrison Fetzter nipped James G Screaming Lizards in a close game not decided until the final inning. Keyes led Morrison's bid with two hits in two at bats and Ibarguen had a triple to lead the Morrison victory.

In other games: Ehringhaus C Cannibals 14, Ehringhaus A Blue 7; Granville B South 15, Granville F Groans 9; Teague Dudes 12, Ruffin 2; Mangum Whats 13, Avery Blue 3; Avery Dalphy Pros 17, James B Pooh Bears 6; Granville A Bombers 18, Granville C West Grappies 7; Teagur Duts 9, Avery Blue 6.

Intramural softball, tennis and other spring sports will continue into May.

Verga leads Devils to alumni game win

For all intents and purposes, defense was a thing of the past as far as the Carolina and Duke alumni were concerned at Friday night's basketball game in the Indoor Stadium.

The Blue Devils won, 138-119, behind Bob Verga's 39 points.

Five players on each team scored in double figures and each half was almost a game unto itself.

Everyone appeared to enjoy himself, however, since the game was an exercise in nostalgia.

The Tar Heel alumni, attired in gray practice shorts and ancient game jerseys, got 32 points from tanned and muscular Larry Miller.

Guard Larry Brown, relying on two-hand set shots for a couple of field goals, produced 24 and Dale Gipple, 10 years Brown's junior, tallied 19.

Carolina managed to keep it close for 10 minutes of the second half. With Dick Grubar making several steals and pitching in 15 points despite a gimpy knee and a shock of hair he had to tie back, Tar Heel fans had an assortment of memories revived.

Husky forward Jim Hudock was the fifth Carolina man in double figures with 16.

Duke eventually drew away, thanks to a contingent of younger players, frontcourt superiority and Verga.

Brad Evans, the renegade footballer, came off the bench to back up Verga with 27, many of them on sharp assists from the Carolina Congars star.

The win was the third in the series for Duke while UNC has scored four triumphs.

The game, sponsored by Durham Academy, was played without a timeout—which may have been the most impressive thing about it and which certainly contributed to the prolific scoring on both teams.

Stickmen crush F-D

The Carolina lacrosse team broke a three-game losing streak Saturday as they whipped previously undefeated Fairleigh Dickinson, 8-3, on Navy Field Saturday afternoon.

"We needed that one bad," said Tar Heel coach Fred Mueller after the victory, which gave Carolina a 2-4-1 season mark. Fairleigh Dickinson, which had come into Chapel Hill boasting victories over RPI, Plymouth State, Washington College, and Duke, saw its record dip to 4-1.

Carolina never trailed in the game, as Tar Heel attackman Bruce Ledwith fed midfielder Glenn McKenzie for a goal that broke open a scoreless tie midway through the second period.

With only 50 seconds gone in the third period, though, the visitors from New Jersey tied the score when Dennis Dawson came from behind the Tar Heel goal to get an unassisted tally.

Later in the period after Carolina had missed a shot, a clearing Fairleigh-Dickinson pass upfield was intercepted by Tar Heel Randall Roden. Roden raced towards the nets, and before the F-D goalie could get back, he slammed the ball into the open goal to give UNC a 2-1 lead.

Fairleigh tied the game again later in the period when Bob D'Amico drilled home a long pass from Dawson. Tar Heel senior attackman Ray Seipp broke the tie and gave Carolina the lead for good with 12:26 gone in the period when he scored on an assist from Ledwith.

McKenzie's second goal of the afternoon came less than two minutes after and gave Carolina a 4-2 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Carolina struck again with 2:10 gone in the final period when Ledwith took a pass from midfielder Bob Lassiter to score on an almost perfect play.

Fairleigh's Dennis Caravella tallied at 3:40 of the final period to cut Carolina's lead to 5-3, but Phil Sasser, Ledwith and Seipp all scored goals to make the final score 8-3.

The Tar Heels' next game is in Greenville April 21 against East Carolina.

Road success

Heels rip Deacons, barely lose at VPI

by Dan Collins Sports Writer

There's an old saying in baseball that the secret of a winning team is to win at home and to break even on the road.

Carolina fulfilled the second part of the adage this weekend on their two day road trip to Blacksburg Va. via Winston-Salem. After soundly defeating conference foe Wake Forest 5-2, Coach Rabb's charges dropped a squeaker to the Gobblers of Virginia Tech, 7-6.

The outstanding relief work of lefthander Jim Chamberlain was the big story in Carolina's victory over Wake Forest.

After starter Dave Bullard pulled his arm in the fourth inning the young lefthander came on to completely stifle the Demon Deacons be striking out twelve.

For the Tar Heel ace it was an important stint in that it marked his first return to the mound since his unsuccessful start against State last Wednesday.

The big hit in the game was a 390 ft. home run by first baseman Larry Kiser. For Kiser, who is leading team in the homerun department, the clout was his fourth round-tripper of the season.

Bobby Elliot, Ron Cox, and Jack Gillis also had RBI's in the game.

The victory kept the Tar Heels very much alive in the conference race, raising their record to 4-2. For Wake Forest, the game virtually eliminated the Deacons from the race since it was its sixth conference loss of the season.

Although Tar Heel pitching held the powerful Virginia Tech squad to only three hits, it turned out that three hits were enough as Carolina dropped the non-conference match 7-6.

It looked as though Carolina had a good chance for the victory in the eighth when catcher Mike Roberts smacked a three run homer over the center field wall to give the Heels a 6-5 lead.

In the bottom of the same inning, however, the determined Tech squad scored two runs to regain the lead.

Once again the Heels proved their outstanding overall hitting. This time it was dependable second-sacker John Wilson who proved himself by knocking a double and a single in four times at bat to drive in two runs.

Coach Rabb, who is looking forward to the team's re-match against State this Wednesday, says his team is in good shape for a late season run at the title. "The team did hit the ball well on the trip," stated Rabb. "We're making steady improvement but our biggest problem is still not being able to put together the big inning."
