

Jolley, Bethea, Anderson honored

Time was on Blue side, 24-17

by Mark Whicker
Sports Editor

Just as the mythical Polynesians in TV land ask, "Who made the salad?", the members of the White team in Saturday's Blue-White spring football game asked, "Who killed the clock?"

With the score 24-17 in favor of the Blue, the Whites took over on their own 22 with two minutes remaining and started driving. The clock didn't stop between plays and first downs, however, and the score remained.

"There is a little discussion about the clock in the White dressing room," said head coach Bill Dooley, who watched the game in the press box.

"The only change we were supposed to make was that the clock wouldn't be stopped between first downs in the second half. But as it turned down, it kept running through everything."

That tactic may not work this fall if the Tar Heels find themselves in command of an eroding lead in Kenan Stadium, but Dooley has some different tricks up his sleeve to make next fall more entertaining.

For one thing, the Tar Heels are looking for more passing. Split end Earl Bethea, a redshirt sophomore, took seven passes from White quarterback John Klise for 157 yards, including a lovely 52-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Klise, despite a hard rush from Blue ends Bill Bradford and Gene Brown, completed 16 of 30 passes for 217 yards. Blue QB Nick Vidnovic started throwing more in the second half, too, and connected on 10 of 15 aerials for 144 yards—and many of the passes on both sides were on target, but dropped by receivers.

Lest anyone think that Dooley had let the running game go to Baltimore with Don McCauley, wingback Lewis Jolley powered the Blue attack with 96 yards on seven carries, including a brilliant 68 yard run in the first period with the help of downfield blocking.

Jolley got the "outstanding back" award, while Bethea was judged "outstanding lineman." Linebacker John Anderson received the Chuck Erickson trophy for outstanding hustle in spring practice.

"There were a few rough edges," Dooley opined, "But the boys really wanted to win. Our quarterbacks threw really well, and as you can see we have hard-running backs."

"As for our offensive line, we need some people there but I think we already have some winners, like tackle Jerry Sain and guard Ron Rusnak on the White today."

Blue lineman Bill Newton and Joel Bradshaw also showed their stuff in a touchdown drive in the first quarter, breaking Jolley and Sigler loose to the two-yard line. Then Vidnovic made a beautiful fake to Geoff Hamlin and took the ball over himself.

That tied the score 7-7 after Bill Chapman had tipped a Chris Lee punt into Wes Norton's hands, and Norton took the ball in from the Blue 18.

"Some of our linemen got themselves in trouble on that play before the ball was even snapped," said Dooley. "They made technical mistakes that have to be cured by constant repetition."

Ken Craven kicked a 38-yard field goal in the second quarter that gave the Whites a 10-7 lead, but the Blues went ahead to stay when Jolley scored after an interception return by defensive back Dennis Kelley.

Sigler, who rushed for 79 yards on 17 carries, set up another score with a 35-yard run over the left side. Bill Taylor kicked a 28-yard field goal moments later for a 17-10 Blue halftime lead.

The Blues wasted little time expanding that margin in the third period after Vidnovic spotted Earl Chesson wide open behind Lou Angelo. Chesson took the pass 61 yards to the White three, where Hamlin scored.

As the clock raced on, the Whites had time only for Bethea's touchdown.

Dooley is looking for help in the offensive line and the defensive backfield, but one must remember that Rusty Culbreth, Greg Ward and Richard Stilley, all defensive starters, are still recuperating.

The punting game was not consistent, with Lee and Charlie Sink averaging just under 40 yards a boot. Sink got off a 70-yarder in the fourth quarter, right after a 12-yard effort.

Anderson, Kelly, and ubiquitous linebacker Ricky Packard made interceptions, and linebacker Jim Webster played with elan for the Blues.

And there was almost another treat. After Chesson caught one pass, he almost lateraled off to a back cutting by him. Chesson apparently thought better of the fundamentalist tradition around him than he did of the "leaflicker" and went on for a nice gain, but scouts from five opponents in the press box noticed it.

Leaflickers? Long passing? Sophomores? It looks like an interesting year.

Tar Heel stickmen lose, fall from trophy race

As Muddy Waters played in the background, the Carolina lacrosse team took it on the chin Saturday afternoon from Washington & Lee, 10-3.

The Generals' 6-4 midfielder Skip Lichtfuss started things off with a goal at 13:46 of the opening period, but the hosting Tar Heels got it back less than a minute later when Ray Seipp fed attackman Bruce Ledwith for a score.

Washington & Lee scored three more times in the second quarter, but Carolina stayed close on a goal by John Dooley, and halftime the Tar Heels trailed by a slim 4-2 margin.

The second half was all Washington & Lee, though, and the Generals' 6-5 crease attackman Sam Engelhart got the first three scores of the half to put the game out of reach for Carolina.

Freshman Glenn McKenzie tallied Carolina's final goal at 5:58 of the fourth period.

The victory was Washington & Lee's eighth against one setback, while Carolina's season mark dipped to 4-5-1.

Coach Fred Mueller's stickmen have two games remaining: at home against the University of Maryland-Baltimore County May 8, and against Duke May 12 in Durham. Although both are South Atlantic conference league games, the loss Saturday just about eliminated the Tar Heels from the race for the Strobbart Trophy.
