

Duke, VPI get into act

Eight straight Tar Heel losses

by David Zucchini
Sports Writer

Any hopes Carolina may have had for a respectable baseball season went out the window this weekend as the Tar Heels dropped two more ballgames to extend their horrible two-week losing streak to eight games.

Duke punched out 12 hits and got solid bullpen help in a 7-3 Friday night conquest over the Tar Heels, while Virginia Tech blasted four Carolina pitchers for three home runs, one a grand slam, Saturday afternoon on the way to an 11-6 Gobbler victory.

In Saturday night's ballgame against Duke, the Tar Heels appeared to have things clicking well until they ran into the Devil fireman Al Schwartz, who baffled Carolina hitters in a sparkling four-inning stint.

Righthander Craig Buschman started for Duke and got credit for the win to even his record at 3-3, but Carolina nipped him for three runs on five hits over the first five innings.

Leftfielder Jack Gillis, UNC's leading hitter going into the game with a .319 average and 28 RBI's, started off the bottom of the fourth inning with a single to left and moved to second on a walk to first baseman Jack Leachman.

Both runners advanced a base by virtue of second sacker John Wilson's sacrifice, and Tar Heel centerfielder Ron Cox brought Gillis home with a fielder's choice. Leachman scored Carolina's second run of the evening moments later on an error by Duke third baseman Ralph Palaja.

Gillis, who enjoyed a 2 for 5 night, produced the Tar Heels' only other run of the night in the fifth off Buschman with a line drive double to left that drove home Bobby Elliott, who had reached base on a fielder's choice.

Schwartz arrived on the scene the very next inning with his Blue Devils clinging to a slim 4-3 lead. The right-handed bullpen ace immediately took the punch out of the UNC bats and blanked the Tar Heels on just three hits over the final four frames.

Duke won the conference battle with a four-run fourth inning uprising with ten Blue Devils going to the plate. Tar Heel starter Dave Bullard pitched hitless balls over the game's first three innings, but Duke leftfielder Doug Stowe reached him for an infield single and scored on a screeching triple to center off the bat of Dan Phelan, who matched Stowe with a 3 for 5 night.

Bullard, who was tagged with the loss and now sports a 1-2 slate, lost sight of home plate following Phelan's drive. The righthander sent Phelan home with a wild pitch and then proceeded to fill the bases with walks to the next three Blue Devils.

Duke catcher Steve Warner came through with a two-run single to right before Rusty Prindle came on to put the clamps on the Duke rally.

The Blue Devils churned out a single run in the seventh and added two more in the eighth against Prindle to give Duke its final four run spread.

The win left Duke out in the cold as far as the ACC race is concerned, as the Blue Devil conference mark is still a poor 4-8. Duke, which has failed to hit consistently all season long, stands at 13-12 over-all following Friday night's triumph.

The Tar Heel pitching staff fell victim to the gopher ball Saturday afternoon against Virginia Tech, as Gobbler shortstop Ken Weatherman smashed two homeruns and second sacker Vince Carbaugh dropped a second inning grand slam over the left field fence off Carolina starter and loser Jim Rhodes.

The Tar Heels, who are now mired in fifth place in the conference, 3½ games behind ACC leader Maryland, finish up the 1971 season this week with games Monday and Wednesday vs. East Carolina and Wake Forest. Both contest will be staged at Durham Athletic Park.

Carolina second in WTVD championships

The challenge is crystal-clear for Coach Joe Hilton and the Carolina track team after Duke's victory in the WTVD state championships; to finish second to Maryland in the ACC meet this weekend the Tar Heels will need much better performances. The Blue Devils captured the title Saturday on their home track, scoring 85 points to Carolina's 64 and winning 10 of 19 events.

Tied for third were East Carolina and fast-improving Pembroke State, with 40. State scored 31 points, Western Carolina 20, Davidson and High Point 7, Wake Forest 4, and Guilford and Appalachian 2.

Jeff Houser, ace Duke hurdler, won two events and led a relay team to another victory to capture the outstanding performer award. For the Tar Heels, their three wins came in the "old reliables." Darryl Kelly again won the triple jump with a 49-2 leap that topped Western's Jerry Gaines by a foot. It was a new meet record; Kelly's 48-10 in Friday's trial had broken the old mark already.

John Jessup romped to a shot put win, with a 55-5½ heave that bettered Duke's Willie Clayton's 49-2. Steve Kirley of Davidson, a basketball forward, was third.

The Heels were one-two in the high jump, Charlie Ball going 6-8 and Bobby Jones right behind with 6-6. Jerome White of Wake Forest and State's Henry Edwards also had 6-6, but Jones won second on fewer misses.

Houser took the 120 high hurdles in 13.7 seconds, over ECU's Ron Smith and Bill McRee, and surprised teammate Ernie Jackson in the 100 yard dash with a 9.6 time.

He pulled his 440 relay team of Jon Krassy, Paul Mazzarella and Mike Murphy to a 42.6. Carolina was third with 43.0.

Jessup and Lee McLaughlin were third and fifth in the discus as Duke's Ken Krueger won with 148-8, and Tony Waldrop was second in the half-mile to the Blue Devil star Bob Wheeler. Wheeler ran it in 1:50.8.

Larry Widgeon ran 9:26 in the 3,000-meter steeplechase for a second place behind Duke's Roger Beardmore, and placed third in the three-mile behind Duke's Mike Graves and his teammate Phil Spurling.

Hubert West's 22-11¼ broad jump was second behind Gaines, who leaped 23-11¼. West has the best broad jump in the ACC so far this spring.

Mike Canzonieri won a second place for UNC in the 220 when he ran it in 22 seconds, behind Pembroke's Dennis Graham. Pembroke also beat Carolina in the pole vault; Danny Deacon had a 14-6 leap and PSU's Bill Cranfield won it in 15 feet.

Carolina's mile relay team was runner-up to Duke, making it around the Wallace Wade Stadium track in 3:17.9, seven-tenths of a second slower than the Blue Devil tandem.

Other winners were Duke's Mike Murphy in the 440 run (48.3), Ben Bailey of WCU in the mile (4:12.3, neither Wheeler or State's Jim Wilkins entered), John Hoffman of ECU in the javelin (195-7, UNC's Steve Laster was fifth with 186-3), and State's Steve Koob in the 440 hurdles (54.0).

The ACC meet will be held at Columbia, S.C. Friday and Saturday.

South Carolina, which dealt UNC a crushing defeat in Chapel Hill earlier this spring, joins Duke, Clemson and the Tar Heels in the scramble for second place. A good showing is needed from Carolina for Carmichael Cup purposes.

The UNC swim team held its annual awards banquet Friday. The awards were presented to (l. to r.) Richard Williams, most outstanding senior; Jike Southard, tied for most outstanding swimmer; Phil McMunigal, most dedicated senior; and Jim Osborn, tied for most outstanding swimmer.

Ehringhaus wins title

Ehringhaus A won the intramural residence hall title last month with an exciting 8-7 win over the Avery Palpy Pros.

Ehringhaus A bested Teague by 11-5 to get to the final round. Teague was down by one run going into the sixth inning, but Ehringhaus exploded for five runs in that inning to insure a spot in the final round.

Avery took a relatively easy 8-3 decision over Mangum to set up their meeting with Ehringhaus A in the final round.

In the final game, Ehringhaus A took an exciting 8-7 win over Avery with two runs in the second and fifth innings, but the seventh and final inning was the one that made the whole game exciting. Avery pushed across one run in this frame to make the score 8-7 and had a man on second base with two outs, but the next batter was put out at first base to end the game.

It was extremely close in all aspects as both teams picked up 10 hits, and both scored two runs on errors and one run on walks.

Lacrosse team wins

The homesteading Carolina lacrosse team took out the frustrations of a long season on the University of Maryland-Baltimore County Saturday afternoon, pouncing the visitors 16-7 in a game played on Fetzer Field.

The Tar Heels raced to an 11-1 lead before the end of the second quarter, and then coasted the rest of the way to gain their fifth win of the season against an equal number of losses. UMBC's season mark slipped to 9-6 after the rout.

Bruce Ledwith led the Carolina attack with five goals and a pair of assists, while Phil Sasser scored four times.

The hosting Tar Heels grabbed a 4-0 lead in the first period, on goals by Ledwith, Sasser, Mike Tiernan and Bob Lassiter, but it was during the second quarter that the Carolina offense really exploded.

Sasser got the first goal of that period with 1:25 gone, on a perfect play that went from defenseman Paul Truesdell to Tiernan to Seipp to Sasser. Ledwith then scored unassisted to make the score 6-0, but UMBC's Jimmy Cross tallied on an assist from Mike Thomas, the nation's leading scorer, to cut the margin back.

Ledwith picked his third goal at 4:45 of the period, and after Tom Nash got his first goal of the season, Ledwith, a sophomore from Saddle River, N.J., scored again to run the Tar Heels' margin to 9-1.

Glenn McKenzie and Nash scored the last two UNC goals of the half, and after another UMBC score the Tar Heels claimed an 11-2 halftime lead.

UMBC scored three times in the third period, but another Ledwith goal kept the Tar Heel's lead comfortable.
