Program recalls 3 tragedies

by Bruce Mann Feature Writer

"Part of the Family," an eloquent eulogy to three young Americans who died as a result of this nation's turmoil, will be presented Wednesday, May 19 at 8:30 p.m. on UNC television, WUNC, Channel 4.

The three, who were caught in the crossfire of our country's internal and external wars, include: Carmine Macedonio, killed in Vietnam when his tank hit a mine: Phillip Gibbs, shot by a Mississippi highway patrolman while crossing the campus of Jackson State University; and Allison Krause, killed on the campus of Kent State University during protests over the U.S. invasion of Cambodia.

Their eulogies are delivered by the people who knew them most intimately-their families and friends. They range from wistful remembrances of plans for the future to bewildered wonder and honest bitterness.

The deaths of Carmine, Phillip and Allison are technically "political" deaths, but whatever these deaths are called, the fact that three young people died prematurely remains, especially with their families and friends. To the public their names will be lost in the greater significance of "Kent State," "Vietnam," "Jackson State," but the tragic reality cannot be erased. As Phillip Gibbs' sister, Mary, explains:

"They look at us now, they say, oh that's the Gibbs' family. They know but they just look at us as the Gibbs' family, not people. They look at us and say oh yeah, her brother got killed down there in Jackson State, I remember him. But they don't understand why, and they don't understand the price that was paid, and what a loss we had at that time."

Each family has its own individual

THE ROLLING STONES-"Sticky Fingers," Rolling Stones Records, COC 59100.

The Rolling Stones, who have a new record company as well as a new record, have a way of doing things which no other group can come close to matching. The big, brash, unsubtle nature of the Stones shows well on the cover of their new album "Sticky Fingers." Designed by Andy Warhol, the cover is saxaphone.

One interesting thing about the new album is Keith Richards. For the first time his presence in the group is really felt. Richards plays lead guitar and sings back-up on all but one song, and co-wrote with Jagger on every song on the album except "You Gotta Move."

As far as the songs themselves go, they are all excellent. All the songs are well recorded, even the most complicated sections. Also for the first time, Mick

THE DOORS-"L.A. Women" (Elektra, EKS-75011).

With all the mediocre albums released this year, it took The Doors to produce a really terrible album. "L.A. Women," The Doors' attempt to play blues, is the most boring, unimaginative, piece of plastic recorded in 1971. Robbie Kriger's guitar riffs rival those of the Kingsmen on "Louie Louie," and the songs are as complex as a tube of toothpaste. Jim Morrison really should have kept his hands in his pocket, instead of recording this album. Overall "L.A. Women" by The Boors is a great album to put you to sleep.

Ry Cooder, and Bob Keyes lend a very able hand on the organ, guitar and Applications are now being received for the 1971-72 ISC Ghanian Exchange. Interested applicants should pick up applications at the ISC office in Carr Building and return them by 5 p.m. Thursday. Interviews will be held at the ISC on Friday.

There are still several places open on the 1971 European Music and Art Tour, directed by Prof. Joel Carter of the UNC Music Department. It's a 37 day trip to music festivals and major art galleries of Western Europe, and it ends in time for Second Summer Session. Contact Dr. Carter immediately at 933-1041 or 942-3327.

a tacky masculinity trip for Mick Jagger and the rest of the Stones. It is accepted that Jagger is a rock sex symbol, and he knows it, yet he still tries to rub the fact in our noses every chance he gets. The Stones seem to have some perverted notion that they have to gross their fans out before people will accept their music. This couldn't be farther from the truth. If you can get past the cover, the record itself proves that the Rolling Stones are the most talented, tightest "rock and roll" band playing today. Every cut has that kicky, funky sound that only the Stones can inject into a song. Also, on many of the songs, some fine musicians, including Billy Preston, Taylor's fine rhythm guitar work can be heard over Mick Jagger's voice and Keith Richards' lead guitar. "Wild Horses" is a good song. So is "Sister Morphine" and "Brown" ... aw hell, they're all good.

6 free flicks remain

Free flicks for the final weekends of the semester include: Friday, May 14, "Anatomy of a Murder"; Saturday, May 15, "Last Summer"; Sunday, May 16, "Grand Illusion"; Friday, May 21, "The Sundowners"; Saturday, May 22, "The April Fools"; and Sunday, May 23, "Cul-de-Sac."

All flicks will be shown in the Great Hall of the Student Union. Showings are at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. with an extra showing at 11:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights.
