Dorm sign-ups continue today

Sign-ups for dormitory rooms for the spring semester will continue today for those dorms with rooms still available.

Residents of 15 campus dorms have already signed up for their rooms for the spring semester so that no rooms are available in these dorms, according to the Office of Residence Life.

In the other 13 dorms there are a limited number of spaces still available for next semester. Students interested in signing up for the spaces still available should contact the residence director of the dorm.

The dorms with spaces still unreserved and the number left are: Mangum, two; Grimes, four; Ruffin, four; Manly, two; Spencer, two; Old East, four; Old West, three; Kenan, eight; McIver, five; Whitehead, six; and James, 24 spaces for women and 47 for men.

Morrison and Ehringhaus will have several spaces available.

President relaxes, plans appearances

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. - President Nixon Sunday relaxed in the sun preparing for a busy week featuring some pure politics and a decision on additional Vietnam troop withdrawals that will surely be a factor in the 1972 presidential election.

The President will preview his re-election campaign Tuesday with appearances at two $500-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinners in New York and Chicago.

The speeches will be beamed by closed-circuit television to GOP dinners in 18 other cities.

Nixon is expected to announce his candidacy for a second term in about two months, just in time to put his name on the ballot for New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary on March 7.

White House political strategists have just about ruled out any attempt to finesse the primaries by keeping the President above the political wars until late spring.

Nixon's advisers believe that a strategy of avoiding the primaries resulted in the political demise of former President Lyndon B. Johnson. Nixon is not likely to chance a similar outcome.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird is scheduled to report to Nixon next week on his inspection trip to Vietnam. Nixon is expected to decide shortly after that meeting about the pace of future troop withdrawals.

British soldier killed by machine-gunning pair

BELFAST, Northern Ireland - Assaults in a speeding car machine-gunned a British soldier to death and wounded another Sunday as they were strolling through the town of Imrigan, 20 miles south of Belfast.

An army spokesman said the two soldiers were off duty and wearing civilian clothes when they were gunned down near the town's hospital.

The slain soldier was the 122nd person and the 35th British trooper to die in violence in Northern Ireland this year. The toll also includes 76 civilians, nine policemen and two members of the part time Ulster Defense Regiment.

In another incident in the Roman Catholic Bogside area of Londonderry, British troops shot a man who fired a short burst from a machine gun at them during a clash between stone-throwing youths and soldiers, the army said.

Troops said the gunman in Londonderry was hit in the chest and was seen to fall, but a search of the area revealed no trace of the man or any signs of blood.

Experts analyze data from Amchitka

AMCHITKA, Alaska - Atomic experts, vindicated in their predictions that no tidal waves, earthquakes or leaking radiation would result from the United States' biggest underground hydrogen bomb blast, Sunday analyzed data to see how well the Spartan ABM warhead worked.

They said preliminary readings indicated the five megaton bomb designed for the anti-ballistic missile system had functioned as predicted when it exploded Saturday a mile beneath this desolate island.

The blast caused the largest earth tremor ever produced by man, rocking the island with a heaving, buckling motion. But fears it would set off disastrous earthquakes and tidal waves proved unfounded.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said no radiation "whatsoever" escaped from the 53 inch diameter test shaft drilled more than a mile into Amchitka Island, a bleak dot in the Aleutians about 1,200 miles southwest of Anchorage.

An AEC spokesman said technicians and specialists flew back to the island Sunday to analyze data gathered from sensitive measuring devices in trailers parked 2,000 feet from ground zero.

Israeli cabinet attacks Soviet MIG23 flights

Prime Minister Golda Meir's cabinet met in Jerusalem Sunday and discussed the overflight of Israeli positions by two Soviet MIG23s. The nation's newspapers described the incident as a grave new development in the Middle East crisis.

In Amman, the newspaper "Al Ordon" Jordan said Sunday Israel has been reinforcing its positions on the Jordanian Egyptian fronts since the beginning of the month. The newspaper also said Israel had called up a "large part" of its army reserve. There was no confirmation of the report from any sources.

Egypt's foremost political commentator, Al Ahran Editor Mohammed Haseene in Neikal, said in an article Sunday in Cairo that if no positive decision were reached in the crisis by the end of the year, President Anwar Sadat would ask "the maximum sacrifice" from the Egyptian army.

Israel's Chief of Staff, Lt. Gen. Naim Bar Lev attended the weekly meeting of the cabinet, according to a communique issued after the meeting. Political sources said he briefed the ministers on the Saturday flight by the MIGs, apparently piloted by Russians, over 120 miles of Israeli occupied Sinai Peninsula.

Scorpio and Schlitz Malt Liquor. They both come on bold.

No one can resist the forceful, dynamic personality of Scorpio. No one (not even Scorpio) can resist the dynamic, good taste of Schlitz Malt Liquor, bearing the sign of Taurus the Bull.

Scorpio, you are the sexiest, most magnetic sign in the Zodiac, but you may tend to shun the world and live secretly. However, if you show any sign of welcome, people flock to your door. So call a few Pisces and Cancer friends and show them a real sign of welcome... Taurus the Bull.

Your piercing Scorpio eyes will tell you, Schlitz Malt Liquor is not to be taken lightly. It's decidedly different from beer. True, you're cagey enough to know that Taurus comes on bold. But look out, it may surprise even you.

Nobody makes malt liquor like Schlitz. Nobody.
