

Stickmen win 13-12 after five overtimes

by Bill Kay
Staff Writer

The Carolina lacrosse team captured its home finale Wednesday in fitting style as shifty freshman Paul Worstell rifled in a goal in the third sudden death overtime period to propel the Heels to a dramatic 13-12 win over 10th-ranked Washington and Lee.

Worstell's goal, his second of the game, capped a wild and rowdy matchup between two fiercely competitive teams.

All-America Bert Fett, who scored two goals within a minute to pull UNC from a 10-9 fourth period deficit into a short-lived 11-10 lead, admitted afterwards he had never seen anything much like it. "It's the most hectic game I've ever been in," he said.

Washington and Lee had the ball with 18 seconds left in regulation play with the score knotted at 11-11 but failed to penetrate an aggressive UNC defense to send the battle into overtime.

The game then went into two four-minute periods and midway through the second, Carolina was on the short end of a 12-11 score when UNC co-captain

Peter Miller found the mark at 2:37 with an assist from Paul Worstell to force the first sudden death overtime period.

With the play frantic and the action exciting, both teams failed to tally in either of the first two sudden death stanzas to set up Worstell's climactic finish.

Carolina applied constant pressure throughout the overtime. Goalie Chuck Weinstein was superb in the nets down the stretch, making vital saves to keep UNC in the game.

The Tar Heels will try to even their overall record at 7-7 Saturday, when they take on Duke in an away match in their final game of the season.

Intramural officials present annual awards

At an annual award meeting last Monday, several outstanding contributors to the UNC Intramural Sports Program were honored. Director Ron Violette, along with staff members, made the presentations in five categories.

The Order of the Grail Award is presented each year to the outstanding participant in each division. This year's winners were Mike Blinson from Teague, Murray Jones from APO and Mike Baker from the Peacocks.

The Kay E. Lewis Memorial Award represents the best job done by a manager with the personnel he has in his unit. Mike Pfister from Ruffin, Gary Dunham from Kappa Psi and Jack Simmons of X-Teague won this award.

The Walter Rabb Organizational Participation Award was presented to David Smith (Avery), Bill Brown (Beta Theta Pi), and Vernon Grizzard (Colony Woods). The Rabb award goes to the manager who has the best participation record in his division.

The fourth category was the sportsmanship awards. They were won by Alpha Phi Omega, Granville DW and the Peacocks.

The final category includes two awards, one for the manager and one for the intramural unit. This award represents the winning team and its manager based on the entire school year's point totals. This award went to Teague, managed by Allen Wilson in the Residence Hall Division. The winner in fraternities was Chi Phi, directed by Wayne Marsh, and the Graduate-Independent Award went to Mike Baker, representing the Peacocks.

Netters finish regular season against Miami

North Carolina's Tar Heels, tennis champions of the Atlantic Coast Conference for a record-equalling sixth straight year, end their regular season Friday when they battle powerful Miami of Florida at Coral Gables.

Carolina swept its sixth straight ACC title last weekend in the ACC Championships at Duke University. The Tar Heels also won six straight tennis crowns from 1958 to 1963.

This match with the Hurricanes is a make-up contest. The match had been scheduled for earlier in the year, but had to be postponed when over half the Carolina team was stricken with a virus.

Heading the Tar Heel charge against Miami will be Billy Brock, a junior from Norfolk, Va., who swept the ACC singles' title last week and then teamed with Tommy Dixon to capture the top doubles' crown.

Dixon won the flight three singles title, Joe Garcia won at two and Dave Oberstein at five. Joining them in the starting lineup will be Earl Hassler at four and either Cliff Skakle or Junie Chatman at six.

Carolina will carry a 23-1 record into this match. The only Tar Heel loss was a 5-4 early-season setback at Florida.

Baseball team plays Va. in ACC's today

Though not quite possessing the madness of an ACC basketball tournament or the leisurely pace of a football season, the ACC baseball tournament, nonetheless, begins today at three locations.

Carolina takes on Virginia in the all-important first round at 2 p.m. in Raleigh. Duke plays State here, and Maryland battles Wake Forest at Duke. The winners all advance to the double elimination second round, while the losers can pack their bags and head home — their season will be over.

The ultimate importance of a

Carolina win, other than imminent elimination in the case of a loss, is the fact a victory would bring the entire semifinal and championship games to the comfortable confines of UNC's Cary Boshamer Stadium.

Clemson appears the favorite at this time, with the Tigers having the first-round bye. State has a strong pitching staff, while Maryland has been the surprise team of the conference.

The fun begins and the beer starts to flow today, with Carolina facing a win-or-die situation against Virginia at Doak Field on the State campus.
