

Franchise to construct power lines passed by Aldermen on first reading

by Bruce Henderson
Staff Writer

A franchise for the University to construct and maintain electric power lines within the town was approved unanimously on a first reading Monday night by the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen.

The University has operated its utility without a franchise for seven years.

The resolution granting the franchise must be approved in identical form at a second reading next week. It states additionally that any agreement reached between the University and the town will also apply to Duke Power Co., which is now negotiating to purchase the electric utility.

The aldermen turned down an amendment to the utilities franchise—one of three recommended by Duke Power—that would fix charges to place power lines underground according to current Utilities Commission rate schedules.

"I don't trust the Utilities Commission," Mayor Howard N. Lee said. "I don't think it's consumer oriented." Lee, who said he was unhappy with the amendment, opposed leaving the underground placement charges at the discretion of the Utilities Commission.

Town Attorney Emery B. Denny said the rates would probably be ultimately determined by the commission. The board voted to accept the franchise resolution without the amendment, however.

In other action the board approved transferring $12,300 from the town's contingency fund for initial budgeting of the new Personnel Department. The department, the first Chapel Hill has had, was approved at last week's board meeting.

A pedestrian and bicycle path was also approved by the board, to be built along a new road project connecting Homestead Road with Estes Drive extension. The County Commissioners have already approved the bikeway.

The aldermen also okayed the following appointments to the nine-member Transportation Advisory Board: Eva Caldwell and Gail Rance for one-year terms; Lee Corum and Paul Morris for two-year terms; and Philip B. McGill, Gorman Gilbert and George T. Lathrop for three-year terms.

Alderman Shirley Marshall was appointed by Lee to serve as board liaison until the new mayor takes office. Another member, William Levine, was appointed from the Planning Board.

Portrait stolen from Di-Phi

An oil portrait of Col. Walter Leak Steele, belonging to the Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies, has been stolen from the Societies' chamber in New West Building.

A reward of $50 is being offered for information leading to the return of the portrait.

The portrait, which has no commercial value, depicts an elderly balding gentleman with long white hair and a clean-shaven face against a plain grey-green background.

Anyone having information concerning the portrait should contact George Blackburn at 967-8573.

briefs Church opposes Bush as new CIA head

From the wires of United Press International

WASHINGTON—Chairman Frank Church of the Senate intelligence committee Tuesday denounced President Ford's proposed change in the CIA leadership as an effort to hamper investigations of the spy agency. He said he would not vote for George Bush to replace William E. Colby as CIA director.

Church told a news conference his committee is near the final stages of its investigation into intelligence activities by the CIA and other U.S. agencies. "I am surprised that the President chose this moment to appoint a new director, because it can only have a disruptive effect," Church

Burns warns of N. Y. impact

WASHINGTON—Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns said Tuesday New York City's default on its debt is bound to have a negative impact on the economy but still refused to endorse pending legislation to rescue the city with multi-billion dollar federally guaranteed loans.

Meantime, that legislation appeared to suffer a setback. Senate backers said they would need another eight or 10 days to conduct an "educational process" to try to convince Democratic colleagues to support their measure.

By that time, the city could be on the verge of default. Officials have said that by mid-November they may no longer be able to pay off debts as they become due.
