

Asia study plans trip

By THOMAS JESSIMAN
Staff Writer

A Japanese bonsai garden, an exhibit of Chinese peasant art, dinner at a Chinese restaurant and a chance to see some panda bears all are part of the East Asian Cultural Tour.

A tour of several East Asian cultural attractions in Washington, D.C. has been arranged for Oct. 20 by the UNC Committee on East Asian Studies.

The tour, which is open to all interested UNC students, is being coordinated by Miles Fletcher, chairperson of the East Asian Studies Committee.

Tour participants are scheduled to arrive in Washington around noon, and the first attraction on the tour route will be the Japanese Bonsai garden at the National Arboretum. The bonsai garden was Bicentennial gift from the Japanese to the United States.

Bonsai are miniature trees, Fletcher said, many of which took hundreds of years to cultivate. The exhibit is valued at more than $4 million.

The tour then will visit the exhibition of Hu-sien Peasant art at Howard University. The group also will see a film about the Hu-sien paintings and their artists. The paintings are unique, Fletcher said, because they are so striking and yet painted by common peasants.

In the afternoon the group will visit the Washington Mall, and students will have the option of seeing a number of museums, including the Freer Gallery. The Freer Gallery is one of the major collections of Oriental art in the United States, Fletcher said.

If time allows, the tour also will visit the famous Chinese pandas at the National Zoo. Later, any of those interested may accompany the tour to a Chinese restaurant for dinner.

The cost of the bus reservation is $18 per person, not including meals. Anyone interested in joining the tour should contact Miles Fletcher today at 456 Hamilton Hall (933-5577). A chartered bus will pick up people at 6 a.m. Oct. 20 at the University and return to Chapel Hill at 1 a.m. Oct. 21.

The tour is now in its fourth year. Fletcher said the response of the students had been enthusiastic and that the tour is "a valuable supplement to classroom learning about East Asia." Fletcher emphasized that the tour is open to everyone on campus and that, "Forty people is the limit on the tour, and we've always had a full bus."

News in Brief

Carter: veto of tax-cut bill possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter said Tuesday he won't hesitate to veto a $30 billion tax cut bill being considered by the Senate, but could accept a compromise that comes closer to the $16.3 billion House version.

The president also conceded that it is unlikely that Congress will approve his proposal to create a new Department of Education before it adjourns this weekend.

And he hinted that conclusion of an Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty could depend to some extent on the speed with which the Israelis move to end their military government in the occupied West Bank, and to replace it with a proposed self-governing authority.

Warnke resigns as SALT negotiator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Warnke resigned Tuesday as the chief U.S. negotiator in strategic arms talks with the Soviet Union, clearing the way for Defense Secretary Harold Brown to take charge of administration efforts to win ratification of a new treaty.

Warnke said he is resigning for personal reasons. The White House said his departure would be effective after the upcoming round of arms treaty negotiations in Moscow on Oct. 22-23.

Rhodeisa announces integration measures

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—Rhodesia's interim government announced plans Tuesday to strike down segregation laws, clearing the way for blacks to live in white neighborhoods, attend white schools and use white hospitals—if they can afford it.

The proposed changes must still be acted upon by Parliament, and there were reports it might be called into special session.

The proposals were lauded by the biracial government as a significant breakthrough despite the fact that only the wealthiest of the nation's 6.7 million blacks will be able to afford the integration.

Tropical storm approaches Bahamas

MIAMI (AP)—The Bahamian government issued an alert for gale-force winds Tuesday as tropical storm Juliet approached the central Bahamas islands. But forecasters said the storm was relatively weak.

"Juliet is a very weak storm and its center is poorly defined," said Miles Lawrence of the National Hurricane Center. "Maximum sustained winds are 40 miles an hour. Conditions are not favorable for strengthening."

A storm must maintain winds higher than 39 mph to be classified as a tropical storm.

Chess team wins tourney

A four-member delegation of the UNC Chess Team swept first-place honors at the two-day N.C. Collegiate Chess Tournament held Oct. 7 and 8 at UNC-Greensboro.

The tournament was sponsored jointly by the UNC-G Chess Club and the N.C. Chess Association. Teams were invited on the basis of their records in previous years. Tom Galloway, UNC Chess Club president, said.

Two UNC team members, senior Chris O'Connell and freshman Chris Krener, tied for first place in the individual championship division. The tournament consists of four rounds, and O'Connell and Krener each had perfect records of three wins and no losses going into the fourth round. Tournament rules specify that team members may not compete against each other, so O'Connell and Krener were declared co-champions.

Other UNC team members were Galloway and Danny McKeithen, also freshmen.

Other teams participating in the tournament were Wake Forest, which finished second, and UNC-G, which came in third. N.C. State was invited to participate, but did not send a team.

Candidate Ingram in Pit today

Insurance Commissioner John Ingram, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, will speak at 1 p.m. today in the Pit.

A reception for Ingram is set for 1:30 p.m. in 202-204 Carolina Union, and the public is invited. The event is sponsored by the UNC Young Democrats.

Ingram is scheduled to return to Chapel Hill Saturday to address the South Orange Black Caucus.

The two appearances will mark the fourth and fifth times Ingram has campaigned in Chapel Hill in the past three weeks.
