

Sports

Carolina women getting kicks through UNC soccer club

A number of Tar Heel women are getting their kicks on the soccer field these days as the UNC women's soccer club prepares for its upcoming spring season.

Although its main season of competition does not begin until next semester, the club has been practicing throughout the fall and the group was host to the UNC-Wilmington women's soccer club in a preseason match on the AstroTurf last Saturday.

The UNC-W Seahawks were led by Cathy Collier Fieselman, formerly of Chapel Hill. The visitors were out to avenge a big loss last spring to the then Chapel Hill women's soccer club when both clubs were in their formative stages. But the UNC team wasted little time in showing who would be the queen of the soccer field last Saturday.

In the opening moments of the game, Laurie Brockington took the ball in to score a quick goal and give UNC its first tally in the 3-1 win over the Seahawks.

Kate Wellford extended UNC's lead to 2-0 when her shot on goal successfully found the opponent's net approximately 15 minutes after Brockington's score.

The Seahawks regrouped and put together a successful offensive attack midway into the second period. A fast-breaking attack by the UNC-W forwards drew the Tar Heel goalie out and Fieselman's shot from 25 yards out found the open goal to pull the score to 2-1.

But the Seahawks' hopes for a comeback were halted late in the game when Brockington scored her second goal of the day to give the

IMs & Clubs

By DAVID MCNEILL

Heels the 3-1 victory.

"The UNC women's soccer club is composed of mostly undergraduates and a few graduate students of a high-skill level who desire to compete with similar groups at other colleges and universities," said Donna Newman, a wing and fullback for the club.

"In the two previous years, due to a lack of collegiate competitors, the women's soccer club played a spring season against local high schools' girls varsity teams. This year a season of 12 games on the college level is planned."

The group became an officially recognized club on campus this fall.

Brockington, Teresa Roupp, Wellford, Newman, Suzie Sutton, Janet Whitesides and Liz Crowley are some of the club's top players. There are 27 official members in the club and around 40 other women who have been coming out to practice.

The team is coached by Michael Byers, and it meets for practice on Sundays on the Carmichael intramural fields and on Thursdays on Ehringhaus field.

More and more people are becoming interested in the game of soccer. In intramural soccer this fall, there are 84 men's soccer teams and 10 women's squads.

The women's soccer club will play another preseason match this Saturday when it travels to Warren Wilson College near Asheville.

NOTES: The second round of Grail Mural basketball will be after Thanksgiving. Dates and times of those games will be posted before Thanksgiving and all IM managers are reminded to check by the IM office for those schedules.

The Turkey Trot will be held at 4 p.m. today, with the race beginning at Carmichael Field and ending on the varsity track. Anyone interested in participating can sign up until race time.

The IM volleyball playoffs will begin on Monday, Nov. 27 and run through Dec. 4. The IM soccer playoffs also will be held after Thanksgiving.

The UNC men's bowling club beat N.C. State's club last Sunday. David Ebert led the Heels with a 994 for five games. John Smith had a 976 with an outstanding 263 game.

The IM Ski trip is Jan. 1-6 at Sugar Mountain in Banner Elk, N.C. Registration for the trip is open through Friday in the IM office to anyone interested.

Tigers, Terps lead stats

When Clemson and Maryland battle for the ACC football championship at College Park Saturday afternoon, six of the league's standout players, who hold first place in the 11 major statistical categories, will be on display.

The Tigers have the total offense leader in quarterback Steve Fuller, the top receiver in Jerry Butler, the top scorer in Lester Brown and the best punt returner in Willie Jordan. The Terps have passing leader Tim O'Hare and the league's best field goal kicker, Ed Loncar.

In addition, four Maryland players and three Clemson performers have the second-best figures in the 11 categories.

Fuller appears to be an easy victor in the league total offense race with a 40-yard per game lead over N.C. State's Ted Brown.

Carolina's Chuck Sharpe, Amos Lawrence and Matt Kupec rank eight through 10 in total offense, respectively. Kupec, who has hit 50 of 88 passes for 569 yards with five interceptions, is fourth in league in passing while Sharpe, who's hit 48 of 101 for 565 yards with five interceptions, is fifth.

Lawrence is third in rushing with 807 yards and an 89.7 per game average. Bob Loomis ranks fourth in receiving with 24 catches for 335 yards. His five touchdowns lead all ACC receivers. Carolina's Steve Streater is third in the league in punting with a 41.0 average, and Walter Sturdivant is second in kickoff returns.

Brown leads Steve Atkins of Maryland by 59 yards in the rushing race, but Atkins closes out his regular season this week while Brown has two games left.

FCA meets tonight

Carolina football players Clyde Christensen and Carey Casey will speak at the Fellowship of Christian Athletes meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in Teague Dormitory.

Drive Our Cars
ALMOST FREE
to most U.S. cities
AUTO DRIVEAWAY
919-272-2153
520 W. Friendly Ave.
Greensboro, N.C.

TOMORROW NIGHT
PABLO CRUISE
&
LIVINGSTON TAYLOR
Homecoming Concert
Friday, Nov. 17 8 p.m.
Carmichael Auditorium

carolina
union
Outspoken Atheist Advocate
MADALYN MURRAY
O'HAIR
Mon., Nov. 20 8 p.m.
Memorial Hall—Free
* Principal in U.S. Supreme Court case which removed Bible reading & prayer in public schools, 1963.

PAUL TAYLOR
DANCE CO.
Nov. 28 8 p.m.
Memorial Hall

TICKET INFO
—PABLO CRUISE &
LIVINGSTON TAYLOR
—PAUL TAYLOR
DANCE CO.
—BLACKSTONE MAGIC
SHOW (Dec. 2)
—YOUNG
FRANKENSTEIN
Tomorrow Fri., Nov. 17
7:00, 9:30 & midnight $1.00
Now on sale at UNION desk Mastercharges & VISA welcome

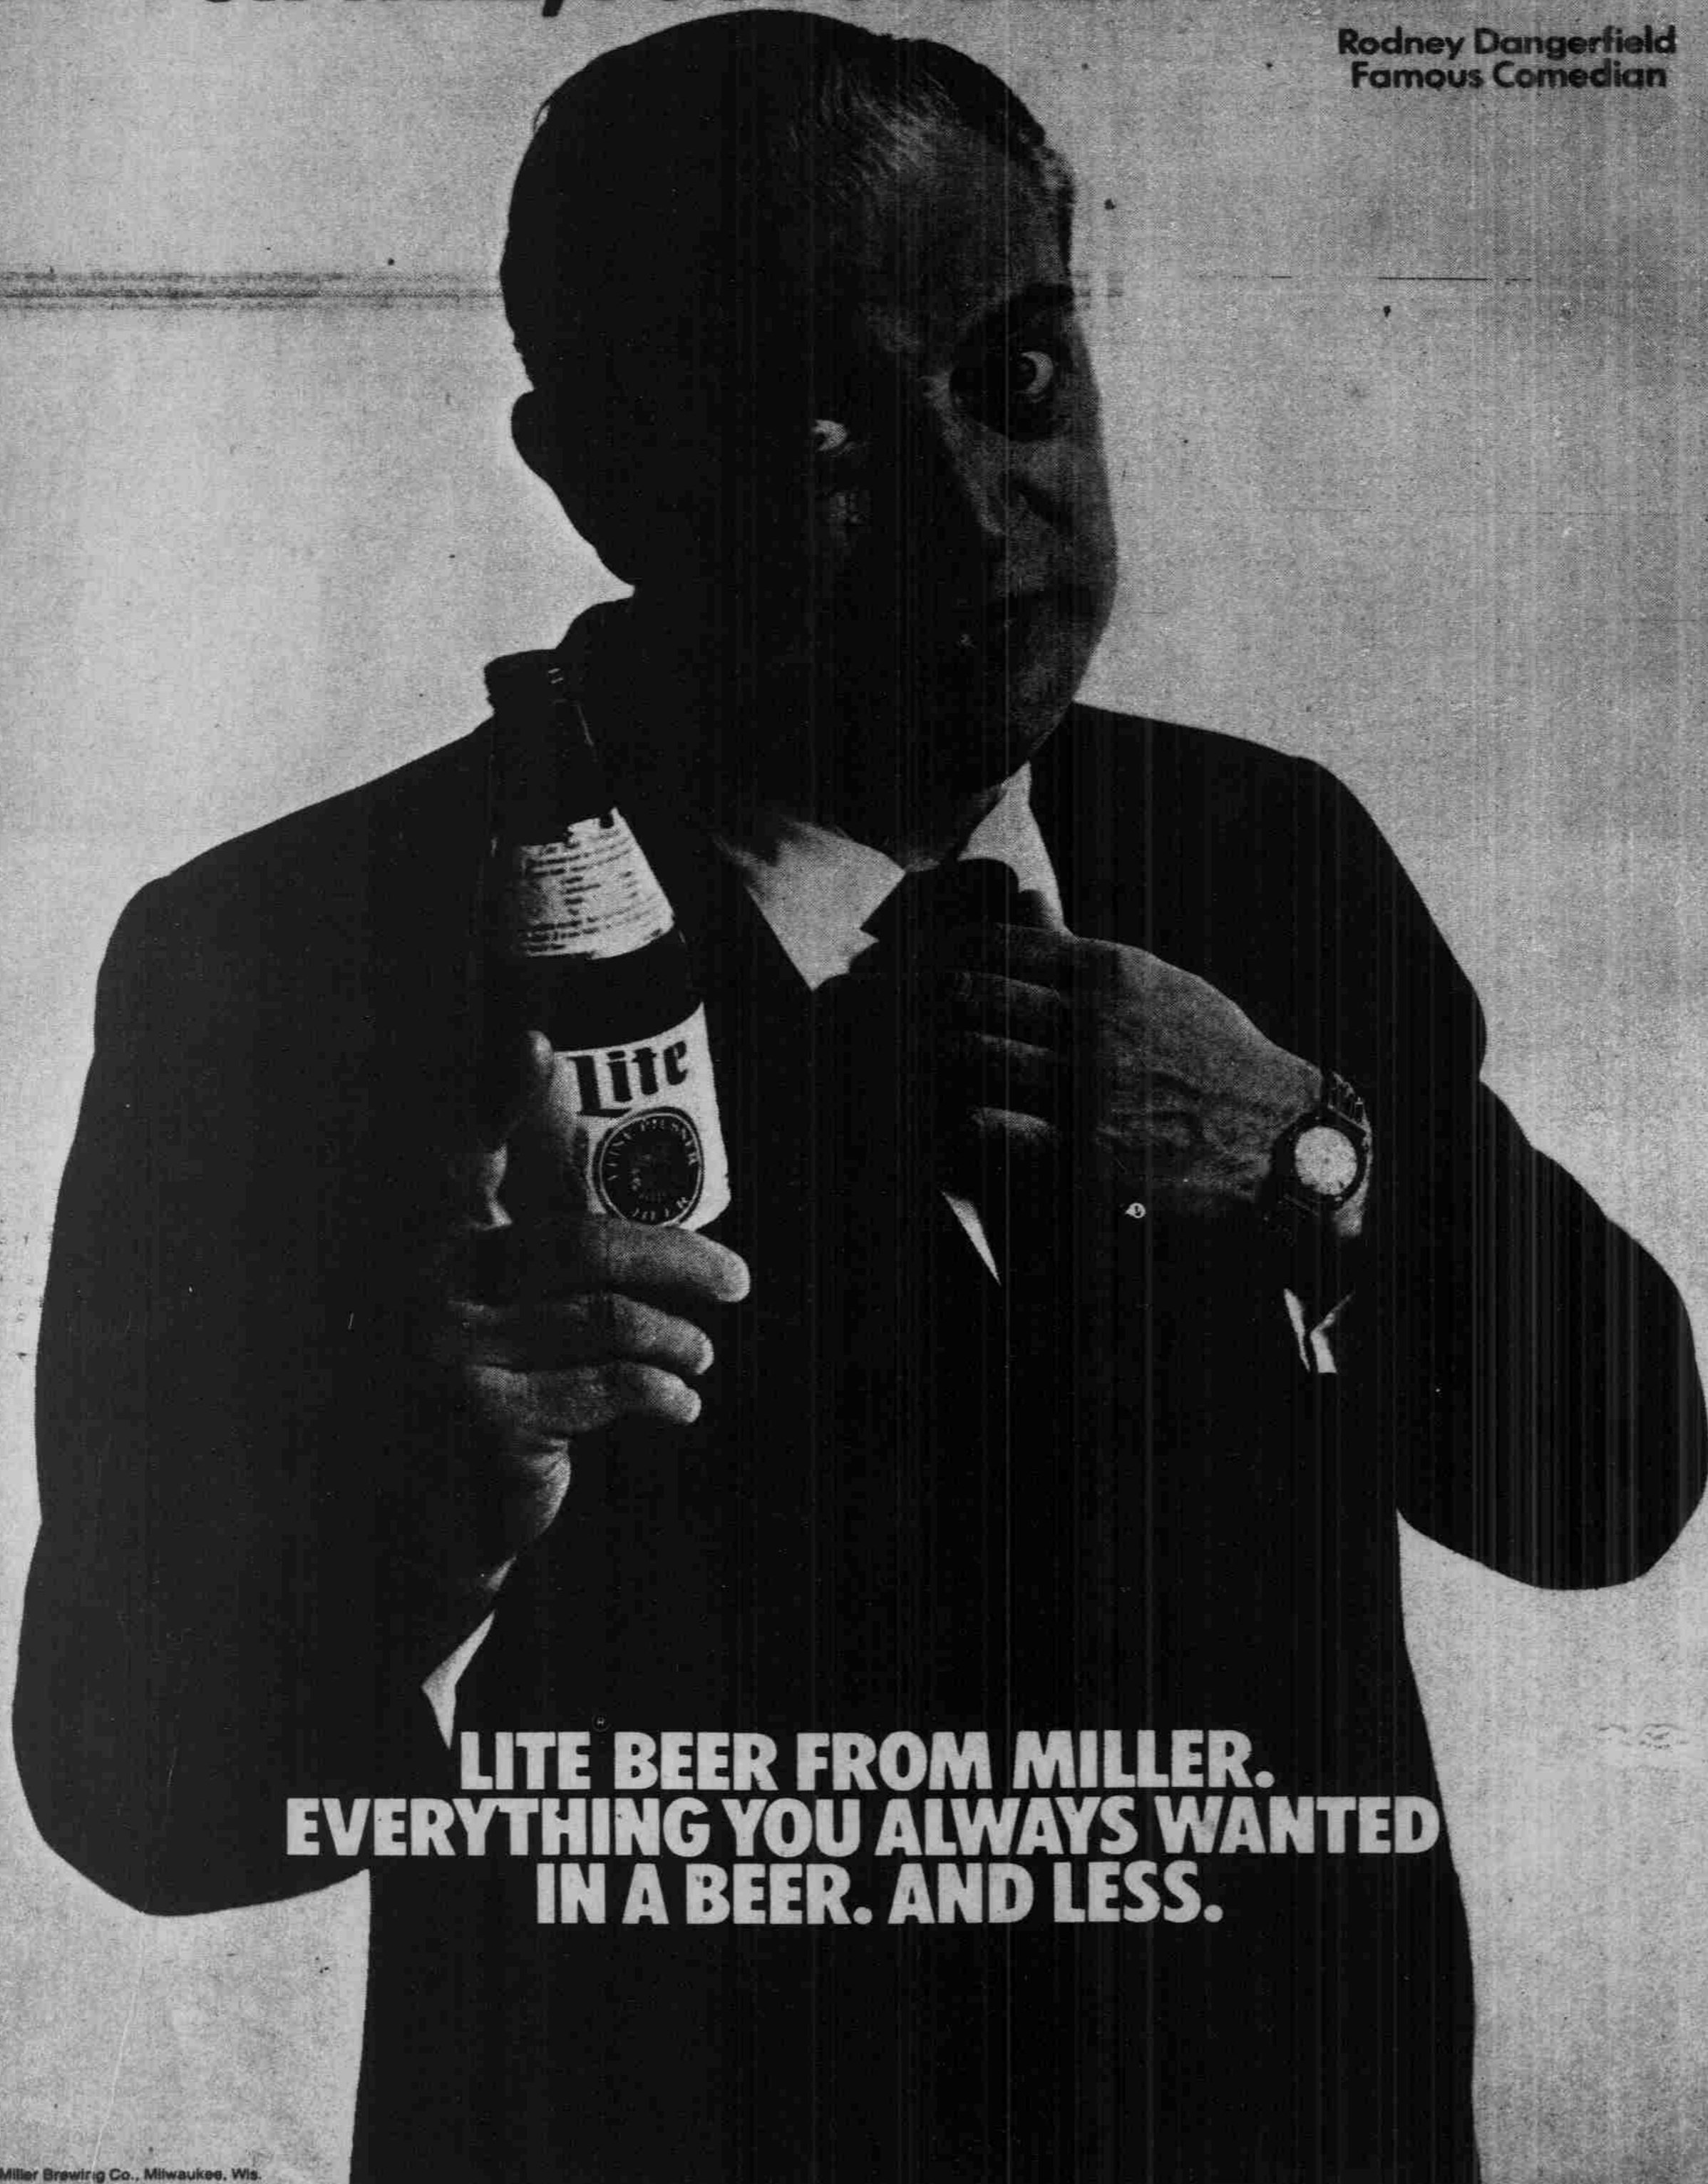

Coca-Cola
Trade-mark adds life to...
doin' what you like

Coke is available at your STUDENT STORE snack bars

Peppi's
2 for 1
SPECIAL
Buy one pizza,
get one the same size
(or less) value
Eastgate Shopping Center
(15-501 By-Pass)
929-0289
208 W. Franklin St.
942-5149

"I USED TO HAVE
VISIONS OF A LESS FILLING BEER.
I ALSO HAD VISIONS OF GETTING RESPECT.
OH WELL, 1 OUT OF 2 AIN'T BAD."

Rodney Dangerfield
Famous Comedian

LITE BEER FROM MILLER.
EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED
IN A BEER. AND LESS.