Lady netters travel to nationals looking for a little luck

By JOHN FISH

Carolina Coach Kitty Harrison says it will take a lot of luck for her women's tennis squad to fare well in next week's AIAW national championship tournament in Iowa City, Iowa.

"I'll be delighted to get in the top 10, but that's probably a dream," Harrison said. "We could surprise them though. It really depends on the luck of the draw."

The team seeds and draws for the 26-team, single-elimination tourney will not be known until Sunday though, keeping the netters in suspense about who their first round opponent will be Monday morning.

"We could be fed to the wolves the first round and then place into the consolation bracket or we could go on a couple of rounds and advance," Harrison said. "It's very much luck."

Harrison will stay with the same lineup she used throughout the spring. Freshmen Sandy Fleischman and Jennifer Balent will occupy the top two singles positions and the No. 1 doubles spot. In singles, senior Susie

Black is in the No. 3 position, with Margaret Scott in No. 4, Nancy Davis in No. 5 and Janet Shands in No. 6.

The other two doubles teams will be Scott and Davis in the No. 2 spot and Black and Lisa Dodson in No. 3.

Harrison said she expects eight teams to be seeded in the tourney, probably including University of Southern California, Stanford University, University of Florida and University of Miami. She added there is no way Carolina will be seeded. The team play will be June 4-8 followed by the individual championships June 9-13.

UNC freshman sensation Fleischman will be the squad's only participant in the individual competition. She qualified for the honor by placing in the regional tournament May 13.

Since the regionals, Fleischman has been the only Tar Heel to see tournament action. She has been playing in a California invitational tourney during the past week.

The single-elimination individual competition features 64 individual seeds and 32 doubles teams.

Sports Shorts: Track enters NAAs, doubles team loses

UNC track stars Gary Hofstetter, Wayne Miller and Lee Shuler will participate in the NCAA Track and Field Championships June 1-2 in Champaign, Illinois.

Shuler will compete in the high jump; Miller, in the 400-meter dash; and Hofstetter will run the grueling 10,000-meter run.

The three tracksters qualified for the nationals by winning ACC outdoor championships and meeting national qualifying standards.

Three Carolina football players have signed free-agent contracts with National Football League teams.

Bobby Cale, a four-year starter at defensive back for the Tar Heels, signed with the Seattle Seahawks. All-conference tight end Bob Loomis will join the San Francisco 49ers and outside linebacker T.K. McDaniels signed with the Oakland Raiders.

Three other UNC players had previously been drafted by NFL teams. They are guard Mike Salzano and tackle Bob Hukill by the Dallas Cowboys and nose guard Dave Simmons by the Green Bay Packers.

The UNC doubles team of Gary Taxman and Dek Potts were defeated in the first round of play in the NCAA tennis championships in Athens, Georgia.

The duo faced top-ranked Fritz Buehning and Blaine Willenborg of UCLA and lost in two straight sets.

Taxman and Potts sported a 18-1 regular season record and both will return next season for the netters.

UNC football recruit Kevin Bryant captured two events and placed third in another, leading Tarboro to a successful defense of its state high school track championship last Friday night.

Bryant won the 220-yard dash with a time of 21.6 seconds and jumped 24 feet 3/4 inches to win the long jump. Bryant placed third in the 100-yard dash.

The heavily recruited Bryant was all-conference in football, basketball and track. He is expected to play at running back next fall for the Tar Heels.
