

Crawford's 30 tops Carolina win

By MARJO RANKIN
Staff Writer

Freshman Kathy Crawford scored a record 30 points and guards April Shaffer and Joni Berry combined for 38 points to lead the UNC women's basketball team to an 85-71 revenge victory over East Carolina Tuesday in Carmichael Auditorium.

The 5-foot-11 Crawford crept up on one of senior Bernie McGlade's 12 records and now holds the single game scoring record. McGlade's 29 points was the previous high for UNC women.

The win broke the tie between UNC and ECU for second place in N.C. AIAW Division I, giving Carolina a 2-1 divisional record, 16-9 overall, and dropping the Pirates to 1-2. UNC has one divisional game remaining before the state tournament Feb. 21-23.

Crawford broke the nip-and-tuck game open in the second half, scoring 10 straight points in one stretch and totaling 24 for the half. The Youngville forward also led all rebounders, pulling down 11.

"I feel good about it," Crawford said of the record, "but ... individual records don't really matter to me as long as we win as a team."

Crawford added that avenging UNC's 71-68 loss on Jan. 16 motivated her performance.

"They beat us by three over there and I just wanted to get them back," she said. "We didn't play too well the first half but we came back in the second half and got it together." After a sporadic first half, which ended with the Pirates leading 30-29, UNC came out firing in the second half as the 5-5 Shaffer stripped the nets from 16 feet, just eight seconds into the half.

Crawford started her efforts a couple of ECU baskets later, but she was aided by the outside shooting of Shaffer and Berry. Fifteen of Shaffer's season-high 18 points came in the second half, while Berry had 12 in the first and eight in the second half.

Crawford hit a 17-footer at the 16:08 mark to put the Heels up 39-34. The next eight Carolina points came on a variety of Crawford layups and turn-around jumpers.

The Tar Heels led by 15 several times in the second half and stretched it to 16, at 6:37, on a follow shot by Crawford with 8:01 left.

"I figured it would be a battle down to the wire," UNC coach Jennifer Alley said. "The good shooting streak by Kathy Crawford really helped." She said UNC was working the ball to Crawford on purpose.

"We were getting the ball to her," Alley said. "Rosie (Thompson) had three fouls and was having to play a little conservatively. Kathy was turning around and putting up her shots."

The 5-9 Thompson, who leads the state in scoring, did nothing to harm her own average. She scored 25 points for ECU and collected 10 rebounds.

Alley said the difference in the first and second halves was intensity.

Tar Heel gymnasts meet ECU in last home match

Tia Walker and Mary Beth Elrod make final home appearances tonight as North Carolina gymnasts take on East Carolina at 7 in Carmichael Auditorium.

Walker will compete in the all-around competition and Elrod will compete on the uneven bars, which is probably the Tar Heels' strongest event.

Even with UNC's win over previously unbeaten Duke Friday, coach Ken Orurso still said he doesn't believe his team has reached its potential.

"We haven't peaked yet," Orurso said. But Orurso does believe his squad is on schedule for the state meet March 1. The coach said Duke and North Carolina will meet again in that meet and in the regionals at the end of March.

Carolina scored 130 points for the first time this year in its 131-127.45 win over the Blue Devils. "I have been waiting for it (130 points) for a while. It wasn't surprising," Orurso said.

"Against Duke we could easily have scored 135 points," he said. That is what Orurso expects the team to be scoring consistently by regional time.

UNC handed East Carolina easily in the first meet of the year but they should be improved. "They have a lot of young gymnasts that have had more time to get better."

Carolina's Elise Slobodin, Diana Cates and Jennifer Britt will join Walker in the all-around competition. During intra-squad competition Slobodin beat out Tiffany Terranova, who replaced Slobodin last week.

Terranova will compete in vaulting, balance beam and floor exercise. She recently out for two weeks with an inner-core problem and Orurso said she is still a little weak.

After tonight, UNC has a three-week break. "It will be helpful," Orurso said. "The girls and myself need to rest our bodies and minds."

Men, women sweep dual meet

Tar Heel tankers dunk Pirates

By LINDA ROBERTSON
Staff Writer

The men's and women's swimming teams traveled to Greenville Monday night and both teams came away with wins over East Carolina in dual-meet action.

The men beat the Pirates, 69-44, and the women romped, 89-51.

Bob Omainsky was a double winner for the Tar Heels with victories in the 1,000 and 500 freestyle distance races.

Roger Vredevel and Jose DeJesus placed one-two in the 200 individual medley. Ken Ireland won the 200 back just ahead of Vredevel.

In the diving competition, Barry Thomas placed first in the three meter event, with teammate Dave Ciocca second. Ciocca captured the one meter diving, while Thomas was second in the required dives.

Fritz Homas, Dave Hansen, Todd Deckman and Tim Sutton won the 400 free relay with a time of 3:07.57.

The women had no problem defeating the Lady Pirates. Bonny Brown, Mary Ann Dempster, Karen Hoff and Nancy Hudock teamed to win the first event, the 200 medley relay. Lez Mesmer, Cynthia Chilcott, Hughes and Cindy Shirey took the 200 free relay.

Mary Ann Dempster, out most of the early season due to an operation, won two individual events. The Tennessee native placed first in the 100 and 200 I.M.

Other double winners were Cindy Shirey (50 and 100 breast) and Cynthia Chilcott (50 and 100 back).

Freshman Liz Mesmer won the 500 free, Karen Hoff won the 100 fly, Nancy Hudock won the 200 free and Karen Gess won the three meter diving event.

The women face their stiffest test of the dual meet season Thursday at 7:30 p.m. when arch rival N.C. State comes to Bowman Gray Pool.

The Wolfpack women are ranked seventh in the nation and were Atlantic Coast Conference champions last year. While State has beaten UNC in dual-meet competition the past two years, Carolina's women placed fifth, ahead of NCSU at the AIAW national meet.

"They will be swimming all out to beat us, and we're prepared to do our best against them," UNC swimming coach Frank Comfort said.

"We're more prepared than we were last year," sophomore Nance Thompson said. "We're ready for them. Our girls are confident—but not overconfident."

Entries sought for faculty golf

Any member of the UNC faculty interested in participating in the first Big Four Faculty Golf Tournament, March 1 on Pinehurst's No. 6 Course, should send his or her name, certified handicap and phone number to Richard Coop, 109 Peabody Hall, UNC

Campus. Each school will enter a 25-member team in the tournament, and handicaps will be used. There will be no charge. Pinehurst is absorbing all greens fees and cart rentals.

SAVE YOUR CAR. SAVE YOUR MONEY. TAKE THE BUS.

The bus saves you money. The latest figures say it costs 38¢ every mile you drive your car. Meanwhile, the bus fare is just 30¢ a ride, no matter how far you go. A bus pass can cut that cost below 20¢ a ride. That difference can amount to a heap of money, without making a heap of your car. Or yourself. Just imagine ... you can take your eyes off the road. Read the paper. Study. Or serenely contemplate the four-wheel world below. Add it up. The bus is safe, comfortable, convenient and cheap. That's more than a good ride. That's a good deal. So be a miser. Let the bus wrap a tight fist around your transportation dollar.
