Stickmen get NCAA berth

The UNC lacrosse team has made the NCAA Tournament for the third time in five years but its first trip under second-year coach Willie Scroggs.

The 7-3 Tar Heels accepted a fifth-seed bid Sunday morning, to face fourth-seed Navy.

"We're awfully, awfully pleased that we have been selected," Scroggs said. "It's a reflection on the kid's work."

In 1976 Carolina went to the NCAA championships for the first time and followed suit the next year under former coach Paul Doty.

In first-round action No. 1 seeded Virginia plays No. 8 Cornell; No. 2 Johns Hopkins plays No. 7 Harvard; and No. 3 Syracuse plays No. 6 Washington & Lee.

Maryland failed to receive a bid for the first time in the history of the tournament even though the Terps beat the Tar Heels. N.C. State, which also beat Carolina, did not make the eight-team field.

Carolina's other loss came at the hands of this year's Division II champion, Maryland-Baltimore County.

"We've had a few losses, but we've had a few good wins," Scroggs said.

The Tar Heels began the season with a victory over No. 1 ranked Virginia and ended the season with an upset win over then-No. 3 ranked Washington & Lee.

Balent

Balent lone chance for AIAW title

The Carolina women's tennis team lost out in their bid to repeat to national competition but sophomore Jennifer Balent qualified for the AIAW Nationals which begin June 11 in Baton Rouge, La.

Two weeks ago the Tar Heels were knocked out of the AIAW Southern Region II at Johnson City, Tenn. by South Carolina 5-4.

Carolina lost to the Gamecocks by the same score back in March to account for one of the team's three losses.

Sixteen wins and a N.C. AIAW championship led the way for the berth into the regional.

Last season the women finished second in the regional and ended 15th in the nation in the AIAW Nationals.

Balent is the only hope left for national recognition. The Fort Lauderdale, Fla. native moved from No. 6 to No. 3 by the end of the year and capped the season by surprising a few No. 1 players including teammate Margie Brown in the state tournament during individual play.

Balent's play there sent her into the regional with confidence. Now after qualifying at the regional she goes into the nationals with confidence.

"I'd like to play well there," Balent said. "I'm hoping to have some more good wins. I had one of my best wins in the nationals last year."
