'Yack' distribution late

Because of the late return of the '79 Yackey Yack and the delay in the financing for the '80 Yack, the '80 Yack will not be distributed until the first week of classes in the spring semester, Associate Editor Elise Wards said Wednesday.

Although the book might possibly return from Hunter Publishing Company as soon as the first week of finals, Ward said it would not be distributed, primarily because of pressures the staff felt would be caused by exams.

"We have to have seven people to work during each shift in which the book is given out, plus the editor and myself have to be there during the total time the book is distributed," Ward said. "So the problem is largely due to the staff and the students' need to study for their exams." Although a time schedule for the books to be distributed has not been made definite, Ward said the times would be mainly in the afternoons and on the weekends, when students were out of class. Specific times for distribution of the Yack will be announced in the spring semester.

December graduates who want their books can send $2 postage to the Yack office by Jan. 1. They will be notified by mail of the delivery, Yack Editor Mary Beth Searle said.

If graduates do not want to send postage for the book, they can leave their student ID or some type of written authorization from them with a friend, Searle said. This is the only way anyone can pick up a book in another person's name.

Campus Calendar

Public service announcements must be turned in at the box outside the DTH offices in the Carolina Union by 1 p.m. if they are to run the next day. Each item will be run at least twice.
